53rd Pennington County Fair to Open Monday

Elner Eliason of Star Twp. Is Victim of Fire

Loses Life Early Monday When Car Tips over in Ditch and Catches Fire

Tragedy struck in eastern Pennington county early Monday morning when Elner O. Eliason, 44, of Star township met a fiery death after the car in which he was driving alone to his home rolled over on its side in the ditch along a country road and caught fire.

The body of Eliason was burned beyond recognition, and it was only by process of elimination that Sheriff Arthur Rambeck, who investigated the circumstances, was able to establish the death victim's identity.

The fatal accident occurred in Reiner township 25 miles east of Thief River Falls on Highway 1 and one-quarter mile north. It was learned that Eliason had been in Goodridge Sunday evening with his brother Edward and a sister and brother-in-law from Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Omlid. They had returned later in the evening to the home of his brother and mother, Mrs. Carrie Eliason.

Elner left his mother's place shortly before 1 a. m. to return to his home, altho when the car ran into the ditch, it was not on the direct route to his home. The road alongside which the car caught fire is not heavily traveled, and it was not until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon that the charred body was discovered by Harry Sigerud of that vicinity.

Sheriff Rambeck surmised that gasoline leaking from the car's tank, instead of sinking into the ground, had remained on the surface of water in the ditch, and hence had burned for a considerable period when it ignited. The interior of the car was completely destroyed.

Funeral rites for Elner Eliason will be conducted Friday, July 9, at 2 p. m. from the Highlanding Lutheran church, with Rev. Raymond Brandt officiating. Interment will be in the Highlanding cemetery.

Eliason was born in Pennington county May 12, 1910, and was married to Miss Tillie Kotrba in Thief River Falls September 20, 1933. They lived on a farm near Highlanding for seven years and near Erie the past 12 years. Surviving his death are his wife, three daughters, Arlene, Shirley and Sharon; and three sons, Richard, Carrol and Harvey.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Carrie Eliason, two brothers, Edward of Goodridge and Clary of Minneapolis; and eight sisters: Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. Eddie Hyland, Mrs. Clara Johnson, Mrs. Lester Laurent and Mrs. Ted Omlid, all of Minneapolis; Mrs. Casper Jones, Mrs. Ole Omlid and Mrs. Oliver Omlid, all of Goodridge community.

Preceding him in death were his father and two brothers.

Jorgen Austad Files for Sheriff

Up-to-date Farming Practices Shown on Farm Tour Last Week

In spite of unfavorable weather, 16 farmers and businessmen participated last Wednesday morning in the annual inspection tour of recent farm developments, conducted under the leadership of Don Lawrence, farm planner with the soil conservation service, and County Agent Wm. Penning, in cooperation with the Civic and Commerce association.

First stop was made at the George K. Larson farm east of this city, where the group inspected a modern poultry-raising project, including a new house that accomodates 300 hens. The layout includes many labor-saving devices, such as overhead feed bins, water system and community nests. During the past year, Larson said, egg production has averaged about 70 per cent.

At the Mayard Mehrkens farm, the group saw an excellent dairy herd and some up-to-date crop management practices, including a hay field of mixed grass and legumes on which the forage can be harvested as dry hay or grass silage, or can be used for pasture.

Don Lawrence pointed out a field of oats, of which one-half had a much heavier growth than the other due to the fact that a green manure crop of alfalfa and grass had been plowed under. Other fields showed the benefits resulting from heavy application of manure. The group also inspected the barn, where a Grade A milk room and equipment is being installed.

At the next stop four miles west of St. Hilaire, Lawrence showed how the SCS tests soils samples for alkali in the field, and told of some of the measures that can be taken to correct the alkali problem.

The party next stopped at the Wilbur Hallstrom farm, where Hallstrom showed a fine flock of sheep, which he said had yielded

Farmers Mutual Telephone Co. Goes Underground

Two miles of telephone cable to replace the overhead lines south of the city on the airport road were plowed underground in six hours of actual operating time last Wednesday. This operation, costing approximately $7,000, was the undertaking of the Farmers Mutual Telephone Co, a cooperative organization serving a large area extending over five townships south of the city.

This cable will be connected at the city limits to an overhead cable already installed by the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company and will be in service by July 15. It contains 52 wires and will meet the requirements of dial service when that becomes available. The installation was made at this time because of a road improvement that would have necessitated the moving of the regular lines.

The business of putting this cable underground was quite a cooperative effort in itself. In the picture above is a plow built by the Thief River Welding Co. of this city especially to plow in the light cables at the airport. The cable trailer attached to the plow was used through the courtesy of the Garden Valley Telephone Company, and this outfit was pulled by a tractor owned by Paul Engelstad. This combination moved right along, burying the cable from 24 to 30 inches deep without any great disturbance to the top soil.

In the lower picture are the three officers of the company Fred Koop, president, Willie Randorf, vice president, and Mons Engelstad, secretary. The company has 142 member stockholders who agreed several years ago to an annual assessment that would make possible a switch-over to dial service as soon as it is available. In three more years the company will be fifty years old, it having been organized in 1907.

Fire Insurance Rate Classification for City to Be Improved

City officials were notified late last week by the Fire Underwriters Inspection Bureau in Minneapolis that a recent survey of municipal water supply and fire fighting facilities had shown such improvement since the last survey in 1946 that the classification of Thief River Falls will shortly be advanced from Class 8 to Class 7.

The letter of notification, sent by W. J. Mooers of the Bureau, stated that it is not yet known just how soon the inspection department will commence the re-rating work, and added that local insurance agents will be notified later as to when the Class 7 fire insurance rates will become effective.

Fire Chief Roy Langevin said it is his understanding that insurance rates on residence properties will not be affected, but that commercial and industrial properties should benefit substantially from the new classification.

Commenting on the results of the survey, Mr. Mooers wrote, "Your city and its officials are to be commended for the accomplishments in the waterworks system, the fire department and fire alarm facilities. The actual grading revealed a good margin within the Class 7 classification, and with continued progress such as has already been made, there is every likelihood Class 6 can be obtained in the near future."

The letter goes on to outline the improvements, some of them involving a considerable outlay of money, that would be necessary to qualify for a Class 6 rating.

24 Young Men from This Area Work for Canning Company

Local Youths Reported Doing Well on Green Giant Co. Pea-packing Project

The Thief River Falls office of the state employment service announced today that 24 high school and college youths from this city and surrounding communities are currently employed by the Green Giant Canning company in "Operation Pea-pack" in southern Minnesota. Sixteen boys are employed as a unit in the operation of a viner station near Mongomery, Minnesota. The other eight have been worked into neighboring crews.

This is the first year that workers for the yearly pea-pack have been recruited this far north. In other years, the various canning companies operating throughout southern Minnesota have hired as many local workers as possible and then filled in with foreign labor. This year the Green Giant company, in an attempt to eliminate the need for foreign workers, decided to extend recruitment of workers into northern Minnesota.

Mr. Dickie, division personnel supervisor with the Green Giant company, has informed the local employment office that the boys have been working out exceptionally well and have earned incentive pay of as high as 31% above standard production pay. When the pea-pack is completed, approximately July 28, the boys will be given a short vacation and will then return for full-time employment in the corn-pack until school starts in September.

If the Green Giant company and the boys concerned are satisfied in all respects, it is very possible that more extensive recruitment will be planned for the pea and corn packs next year.

113 Calls Answered by Police in June

Chief Cummings Reports Issuance of 226 Tickets

In his report on activities of the police department in June, Chief Elton C. Cummings states that the police answered 113 calls during the month. Six traffic accidents with under $100 damage were checked, while three others involved more than $100.

Eighteen arrests for drunkenness were made last month, with a total of 15 days served in jail, and one man was arrested for driving while under the influence.

A total of 226 tickets was issued for various traffic and parking offenses, of which 167 cases were disposed of in municipal court, and 59 are pending.

Chief Cummings expressed appreciation of the cooperation given by local citizens during the 50th anniversary celebration June 18 to 20, when, in spite of the huge crowds assembled in the city, no accidents of any consequence were recorded.

Eldevik Reports Employment Is up Slightly in City

Employment in Thief River in June totaled 2,637, a net gain of 24 over the figure for March 15, E. S. Eldevik, manager of the local employment service office, reported late last week.

He stated that the number of construction workers had increased from 128 in March to 255 in June, but that had been largely offset by the ending of teaching jobs in the schools early in June.

Eldevik said that plant shutdowns in other areas had forced a sizeable number of workers to return to their homes here.

Pioneer of Plummer Community Recalls Events 50 Years Ago

(By Mrs. Leonard Brekke)

The village of Plummer is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the coming of the Soo Line this week and these recollections of the early years in the community may be of interest to others. My parents, the Andrew Pedersons, were one of the first families to settle in the village.

They came from Crookston originally. When we moved here, we traveled by train to St. Hilaire. A party met us and we traveled to Plummer by horse and lumber wagon. The slough holes "were terrible." My mother held up the baby and the rest of us slushed in the water which was running over in the wagon box. So, the anticipations of Plummer were not bright coming from the city.

When the Soo Line was built, my parents were the first to live in the section house and Dad was the first section foreman. This was in the year of 1904.

The first depot agent was Percy Taggert.

The school was moved from the north side of Lilly Halvorson's and centralized to where the Presbyterian church is now.

Whenever a pastor was available (regardless of deonmination) the school was supplemented for a church and we sat in the little school desks for worship. Rev. Stensgard and Rev. Flicky were two pastors of the early era I recall.

Uncle Sam was here too! The post office was located where the Schoemackers have their residence. Charles Latta was the postal employee and also the printer for the "Plummer Pioneer" paper.

Lanager's Hardware was in the same location as it is now and the Hotel Scotland was on the north side of Wilfred Morrissette's.

We had to eat in those days too and the first trading post, Finrow's Store, was located by the Plummer Dam. Later the store was moved to where DuChamps are now located.

We would sell brush rabbits in the winter to Finrow's in barter for coffee, (Arbuckle coffee then 15c a lb.), syrup or whatever necessities needed.

Syrup came in bulk and we would get it in 5 gallon jugs; 5 lbs. of loaf sugar, 10c; 7 or 8 cents worth of peanuts was a load to carry home.

Mother would salt down a 20 gallon crock of rabbits for summer's use and that would be either fried or roasted each day.

Incidentally, there were no creameries. We churned our butter. In winter when the butter was colorless we'd grate carrots, let stand in water and squeeze through a fine cloth. With this we got our vegetable coloring.

A large pail of wild strawberries could be picked within two hours.

There weren't any beauty experts to assist us in those days. Nor were there any davidow dresses in three lengths. But a gorgeous dress of calico could be purchased at Finrow's for 14 cents.

Aren't you happy to be living in 1954?

WATER SAFETY
a thoughtless moment can cost a life
THINK
Take no chances. Don't stand up in boat. Don't over load or over power your boat.
Hang on to the boat if it should capsize until aid arrives. Don't try to swim to shore.
If you aren't an expert swimmer, take along your life belt.
Never swim alone. The best of swimmers can get cramps.
Keep a constant eye on children when they are near the water.
MINNESOTA 10,000 LAKES ASSOCIATION, 1730 Hennepin Ave., Minneapolis

The 10,000 Lakes Association believes that constant reminders of a few simple rules of water safety will help to materially reduce the number of deaths by drowning in Minnesota. An extensive sticker campaign is underway to have these five rules prominently displayed on boats and swimming facilities throughout the state.

"Last year there were nearly one-fourth as many deaths due to water accidents as there were on our highways," says Luke Crawford, President, "and it is imperative that we do everything possible to cut down this unnecessary loss of life on our beautiful lakes and streams."

New Pasture Methods

Ever hear of "zero pasture" or "daily rotational grazing?" These are terms for two new systems of pasture management now being tried by Minnesota farmers. Both systems give good promise for better pasture feeding.

Rodney A. Briggs, the University of Minnesota's extension agronomist, defines "zero pasture" as a system that uses a central feeding lot. In one version of the system, green feed is made available to the stock each day—the pasture is brought to the cow.

In the second, preserved feed—silage or hay—is fed in the feed lot all year round. Those who've tried "zero pasture" say it wouldn't be possible of course, without modern automatic unloaders and self-feeders. Its advantages no loss from trampling and manure contamination, plus no need for fencing.

By harvesting at exactly the right time, the farmer gains top feed value from every acre of grassland, Briggs points out.

The "daily rotational grazing" pasture system has proved successful on many Minnesota farms. It involves using electric fences so that animals have a fresh section of pasture each day. Fields are laid out in 5 or 6 rectangular rotation pastures.

The farmer strings electric fence lengthwise across one of the pastures and lets in the animals. Next day, the fence is moved enough to allow for another day.

Some farmers have found this system increases yields and animal intake and more than pays for the time and trouble of moving the fence each day.

Although both systems are quite new, they reflect some of the advantages Grandpa had in his day — that is, bringing in green material each day or staking a cow out on a new section each day.

Briggs tip to farmers thinking of revamping their pasture setup: "Weigh all the practical considerations — labor, machinery, and expense — before going "whole hog" on any new systems."

Aphids Causing Damage

Cool rainy weather this spring has provided ideal growth conditions for plant lice — gardeners will be seeing a lot of this pest this summer.

Aphids or plant lice can do severe damage to vegetable plants including cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower and melons, ornamental plants, shrubbery, lawn grass, trees and field crops.

The small, green aphids often found on spirea and delphiniums frequently go unnoticed. The black, red and white aphids are more likely to attract attention.

The curling of leaves is evidence that aphids are at work, according to A. A. Granovsky, professor of entomology at the University of Minnesota.

The fact that aphids are often attended by ants, especially on plum trees, leads people to believe that ants are doing the damage. Actually, Dr. Granovsky says, the ants are innocent. They are simply attracted by the sweet excretion, called honey dew, of plant lice. Some plant lice excrete so much honey dew they make leaves glisten and may spatter cars below the trees with sticky material. Following the path of the ants will often lead you to aphids, according to the University entomologist.

Most effective control of aphids is a 50 per cent emulsion of malathion, using from 1 to 2 teaspoons to a gallon. The lower side of leaves should be sprayed thoroughly, because aphids usually feed on the lower side. If the leaves are curled, the spray treatment should be repeated once every 10 days for two or three times or as long as insects may persist. Sometimes one treatment is effective if it is thorough enough.

If it is not possible to obtain malathion, a spray may be used of 1 teaspoon of nicotine sulfate and 1 ounce of soapflakes per gallon of warm water. Dissolve the soapflakes before adding the nicotine sulfate. Use only when fresh.

It's strawberry season again, and time to serve luscious, sun-ripened berries to the family as well as to freeze some for next winter. Its' very simple to preserve some of their good flavor for next winter by freezing strawberries. Tests at the University of Minnesota frozen foods laboratory show that frozen strawberries have a better flavor if they are sliced, then mixed carefully with sugar in a bowl so the sugar is practically dissolved before packing the berries in freezer containers. Use 1 pound of sugar to 4 or 5 pounds of fruit, or 1 cup of sugar to 8 or 9 cups of berries.

* * *

We have several bulletins in the office, dealing with canning and preserving, that you will want to have, since canning season is right around the corner. The two publications on freezing are very popular — Bulletin No. 244 "Freezing Foods for Home Use" and Folder 156 "Freezing Fruits and Vegetables." There are three publications on canning — Folder 100 "Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables" is prepared by the University of Minnesota. U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletins on this topic are "Home Canning of Meat" and Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables." If you plan to make jams and pickles, two U.S.D.A. bulletins are just what you will need — "Home-made Jellies, Jams and Preserves" and "Pickles and Relish Recipes."

Come down to the office or call in, and we will be glad to give you copies of the bulletin you will need.

I hope that many of you will plan to attend the 4-H Dress Revue this Friday evening. It will be a real pleasure for you to see the garments that the 4-H club girls have made during the past year. Summer Care of Gladiolus

The gladiolus is one of our most popular cut flowers because it lends itself so well to arrangements of all types. Occasionally it is used for landscape effect.

* * *

Pick off all flowers when they are through blooming, to give the garden a more attractive appearance and to make bigger corms (bulbs) which will mean better blooms next year.

* * *

Good soil and plenty of moisture are needed to grow gladiolus successfully. The gladiolus does not require soils rich in nitrogen. If the soil lacks fertility, an application of a 5-10-10 fertilizer at the rate of 1 pound per 100 feet of row will give better blooms and increase the size of the corms. Apply it when the flower stalks show color in the lower florets.

* * *

A spray and disease control program is another requirement for successful growing of gladiolus. The thrip, the most common insect pest, can be controlled by using DDT either as a dust or spray. Thrips feed on the leaves, causing a rusty brown injury. Dried areas on the flower petals are also indication of Thrip injury. Florets which have been injured frequently do not open properly. Spraying should be done at 10 day intervals.

* * *

When plants show early yellowing and browning of the foliage, with distorted blooms, they should be pulled and destroyed. This is generally an indication of diseased corms.

* * *

Gladiolus should be cut when the first two florets have opened. Make a slanted cut and plunge the stems into water several hours before arranging them. Be sure to leave at least four or five large leaves per plant to assure good corm production.

It was Abraham Lincoln who said that America is "our to preserve and our to transmit to the generations which follow us."

American Legion Jr. Club Wins 5 in a Row

Coach Ralph Skjod's American Legion junior baseball had an action-filled week, playing, and winning, five games. The local juniors will continue to be busy this week, playing four games. Following last evening's game against Stephen here, the juniors are slated to play a return game, at the Fair Grounds diamond here on Wednesday evening, against the Warroad juniors.

On Thursday, July 8th, the Warren juniors will play the locals at the Fair Grounds diamond; and on Friday night, at 8:00 p. m. the juniors will meet the Red Lake Falls juniors at Red Lake Falls' Riverside Park. On Tuesday, July 13th, the locals will travel to Alvarado for an important conference game.

The games here on Wednesday, against Warroad, and Thursday, against Warren, will get under way at 6:00 p. m.

The highlight of the week's play, perhaps, was the 6 to 2 win that the locals scored over Warroad in a game played at Warroad last Wednesday night. Righthander Jack Poole, on the mound for coach Skjod's club, collected fourteen strikeouts during the seven-inning tilt.

The week's most evenly-contested game was the extra-inning contest at Oslo last Tuesday afternoon, which was won on Red Collins' tally in the 8th frame. Bob Hallamack held the Oslo club to four hits.

In a double-header played here on Thursday afternoon and evening, against Johnny Noah's Crookston junior's, the locals, behind the righthanded pitching of Larry Jorgenson and Harold Hjelle, defeated the Pirates, 7 to 4 and 9 to 1.

Last Boat Built by Capt. Eberhardt Retires in Canada

The sternwheeler "David N. Eberhardt built the boat for The Pas Lumber Co., and it has since been used for hauling freight and log rafts. Eberhardt's son Emil is now living near Thorhult.

This evening, Wednesday, July 7th, the "world's series" will be played, with Lloyd Bennes' Lincoln Life team meeting Don Olson's KTRF squad for the city championship. The rest of the teams in the two leagues will be in action, too, being paired off in opposition according to their standings in their respective leagues.

Argyle at Alvarado
Red Lake Falls at Crookston

After a week's recess, the league having had an open date on July 4th, the teams in the Red River Valley baseball loop will return to their schedule on Sunday, July 11th. The most important of Sunday's games, perhaps, will be the contest slated for Alvarado between league-leading Argyle team and the Alvarado Farmers. A win for Alvarado would move the Farmers into a first place tie.

Other games on Sunday's bill will find the Thieves playing at Viking; and the Red Lake Falls Lakers playing at Crookston.

The Thief River Falls Thieves will engage in a pair of interesting exhibition games this week. On Wednesday night, at 8:00 p. m. the locals will play Red Lake Falls at Red Lake Falls; and on Thursday night July 8th, the Thieves will meet the Warroad Lakers at Warroad, with game-time at 8:00 p. m.

Numerous Drivers Penalized in Court

Three Are Fined $100 on Drunken Driving Charges

Three local motorists were penalized in municipal court during the week on charges of driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and a half-dozen others were fined for less serious offenses.

Fined $100 on the drunk driving charge were Oliver Omlid, city, and Earl Bugge, rural Thief River Falls, who were brought in by the highway patrol, and Henry Jarshaw, city, arrested by police. Omlid was still in jail yesterday, not having paid his fine. He also was fined $10 and $4 costs on a charge of driving after his drivers license and privileges had been revoked.

Robert C. Carlson, 19, of 60 State av. N. pleaded guilty Monday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, and was fined $25. A hit-run car had run into the parked car of J. E. Burley of Homer, Illinois, on LaBree av. near Fifth st. July 3, and the driver of the car was later identified as Carlson.

Others appearing in court were Donald Berg, city, careless driving, fined $10; Clarence Walker, Minneapolis, driving without a drivers license, $10; Clayton Bakke, Warren, careless driving, $10 and $4 costs; Clifford A. Lofgren, fined $10 and $4 costs; and Donald Cameron, Red Lake Falls, no valid drivers license, fined $10 and $4 costs.

Educators Deny Need of Trimming State Operations

There is no need to cut back state government services in Minnesota, a state in which industry is expanding and prosperity is growing, the Minnesota Co-ordinating Committee for Education asserted.

The committee, which represents seven educational organizations, charged a "gloomy group of campaigners" is trying to convince the state its economic future is dismal.

"Some organizations seek to persuade us that industry is speeding away from the state, that population is declining, income is dropping and the picture will grow darker unless taxes on business are cut," the committee said in a statement.

It quoted figures supplied by the state department of business development to support its argument that "this is simply not the picture of a dwindling economy." Among the increases were these:

Population up and still growing, per capita income up 80 per cent since 1945, employment increases every year but one since World War II, growth of the state's manufacturing industries and higher retail sales, bank debits and power production.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Golf's World's Series

This evening the Lincoln Life and the KTRF teams will be teeing off in a match that will decide the city golf championship. The Lincoln Life squad—Lloyd Bennes, Wes Johnson, Bob Tarnowski, and Hank Langard—won the city National league title; and the KTRF team—Wally DuChamp, Don Olson, Milt Reierson, and Arnold Trost—was the winner in the American league.

This evening's match should be quite a tussle, and we have an idea that the outcome will hinge on the number three and four players of the respective teams.

Lloyd Bennes, playing at number one for the Lincoln Life, has a five handicap while Wally DuChamp, the KTRF's number one has a seven handicap. If Wally will use his wood clubs off the tee, the odds will shift in favor of the Lincoln Life for then Lloyd should pick up a couple of points. The number two match, between Wes Johnson of Lincoln and Don Olson of the KTRF (and Don is beginning to sound like Casey Stengel, saying that the boys want to "break up" the KTRF team now that his team has won its second successive league championship), with Wes have a ten handicap and Don carrying a nine handicap.

But the two matches that will be vital will be the Bob Tarnowski vs. Milt Reierson, and the Hank Langard vs. Arnold Trost duels.

Just as a guess, we'll pick the Lincolns by about four points.

Not Half Over Yet

We had the Thief River Trap Shoot league ending their season with the matches that are to be held on July 15; but the fact that those matches will only end the first half of the schedule. The league will continue on into September, with, according to our computation, the wind-up being slated for Sept. 16th or the 23rd.

It appears that the interest in the league race is increasing with each shoot, and as a result of last week's matches, which found the Times team outpointing the Pharmacy squad, 123 to 111, the team standings are pretty even. The Pharmacy continue to hold the league lead, but their margin over the runner-up Johnson Bros., Baumann-Oen, Times and Wilson Bros., is only two points.

Last week's shoot was featured by the 25 scored by the Pharmacy's Rudy Sagmoen. Rudy's 25 was the first "perfect" score that has been registered in league competition, and it means that he will be losing some "birds" from his handicap. It's unfortunate that Rudy's fine score was a "wasted" effort, for in spite of that 25 the Pharmacy were able to total but 111 points, and dropped their match to the Times. After last week's shooting, Tony Dorn will be holding some strategy meetings, endeavoring to keep the Pharmacy in first place.

They're Reported to Be Good

Ward Nichols tells us that the Rocky Marciano vs. Ezzard Charles world's heavyweight championship fight pictures will be at the Avalon theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Advance reports are that the pictures are very good, and that they reveal that Marciano had to fight to retain his championship.

Baseball

Erv Warner's Halstad Pirates, the league leaders in the Norman-Polk circuit, won the baseball tournament played at Warroad on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, defeating the Warroad Lakers, 8 to 4, in the tourney finals on Monday night.

Incidentally, the Halstad club has agreed to play here when the Thieves dedicate their new lighting system at the Fair Grounds. That should be a ball game.

Harold Johnson announced that a pair of exhibition games have been arranged for the Thieves this week. On Wednesday night, July 7th, the locals will play the Lakers at Red Lake Falls, playing under the lights at the Riverside Park. And on Thursday night, July 8th, the Thieves will meet the Warroad Lakers at Warroad in a night game.

Valley Holstein Breeders to Meet at Muzzy Farm

Members of the Red River Valley Holstein-Freisian association will hold their annual summer meeting on the Muzzy farm seven miles north of Thief River Falls Sunday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Following the program a free lunch will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Terrebonne Flour Mill Destroyed by Fire Early Sunday

Property Was Owned by Carl O. Kankel and Jos. and Reaume St. Marie

Fire discovered about 2 a. m. Sunday completely destroyed the plant of the Terrebonne Milling Company at Terrebonne, about 11 miles south east of Red Lakes Falls on Highway No. 92.

Origin of the blaze is unknown, but it apparently started in the elevator section of the mill where it was first noticed by two boys returning from a dance, but by the time they turned in an alarm an explosion appeared to have spread the flames to all sections.

The supposition is that it may have been the result of heated grain as the roof of the plant was badly damaged by the wind storm of about three weeks ago and had allowed some grain to become dampened. The roof was under repair at the time of the fire.

The Red Lake Falls Fire Department immediately responded to the alarm but the structure was a mass of flames by the time they reached the scene and the mill and contents were totally destroyed.

The first mill was constructed at the Terrebonne site in 1884 and operated by Hannibal H. Ames. That mill burned in 1887 and before the new mill could be completed it was purchased by Henry Hennemuth and Richard Ohm. Hennemuth sold his interest to the late Charles O. Kankel and C. F. Kankel and Ohm later sold his interest to John Ziegler. The latter sold his interest in 1908 to Christ Juhl. Kankel purchased Juhl's interest in 1912.

In 1915 the mill was again destroyed by fire and that same year Mr. Kankel rebuilt and sold an interest to Jos. W. St. Marie and they operated the mill until 1943 when Kankel retired because of ill health and his son, Carl A. Kankel has since been associated in the operation of the plant. Jos. W. St. Marie is president of the corporation; Carl A. Kankel is vice president and Reaume St. Marie, secretary.

The owners have not placed an estimate on the loss which is partially covered by insurance, and will not be able to do so until insurance adjusters arrive to place their estimates.

Nearby buildings were damaged only by intense heat.

Swimming Warnings Issued by Doctors

This is the season of water accidents and the Minnesota State Medical association today issued a bulletin on swimming as one of a series designed to promote summertime safety in Minnesota. Previous bulletins in the series dealt with safety in boats and with vacation-time supervision of small children at home.

Today the doctors point out that the largest number of swimming deaths occur annually among boys from the ages 15 to 19. The reason is not chiefly because more teen age boys go swimming than other age groups. To a large extent the trouble lies in the fact that youngsters at these ages are likely to take more chances than other people.

Without adequate safety education they are likely to violate every rule for safe swimming on a casual dare, the bulletin says, and their skill and strength do not counter-balance the hazards of reckless behavior in the water.

Following are some basic rules for swimming safety as as provided in the bulletin and they apply to everybody, including the teenagers, the doctors insist.

1. Learn to swim, preferably under guidance of the American Red Cross or the scout organizations, the YMCA or YWCA or other recognized youth organizations. The age to start, if possible, is six or seven.

2. Emphasize the pointlessness and downright danger of taking dares around water. Here the parents can help the doctors believe.

3. Never dive anywhere without knowing the depth of water and condition of the beach. Shallow water, hidden rocks or piles can be and often are, fatal.

4. Never swim any distance alone, no matter how strong a swimmer you are.

5. Never swim after you are chilled or exhausted.

6. Never allow young children even to wade without close watching and always pick supervised swimming areas, if possible.

Seek to Introduce New Type of Fish

Canada Grayling Eggs Planted in State Lake

Minnesota anglers may some day have an entirely new species of sport fish on the business end of the rod, if an experiment now underway by the bureau of fisheries, Minnesota division of game and fish, proves successful.

The newcomer is the Montana grayling. Among America's rarer sport fishes, the grayling is related to the trout. The bureau has received 204,000 grayling eggs from the province of Saskatchewan, for introduction into Minnesota waters.

The eggs are now in the process of being hatched out at the Grand Rapids fisheries headquarters, according to Frank D. Blair, director, division of game and fish. Within a few weeks, they will be free swimming fry and will be stocked into a small isolated lake in St. Louis county.

Gabrielson Lake, near Orr, is a deep, cold water lake of about 15 acres. In anticipation of the project, the fisheries men under the lake rehabilitation program, poisoned out the entire fish population of Gabrielson, consisting of mostly panfish, for the purpose of creating an ideal condition for the survival of grayling.

"We should know by fall," Blair said, "whether or not the experiment will prove a success. If it does, further introductions could be made into many small, isolated, cold water lakes in the north and northeastern parts of the state."

Masonic Lodges to Hold Picnic at Walhalla, N. D.

A special feature of the afternoon program will be vocal music by the Kem Temple Chanters from the Grand Forks Shrine temple, directed by Prof. John E. Howard. Gordon L. Paxman of Hamilton, grand marshall, will preside for the program.

The service will be followed by the family picnics in Riverside park, with members of the Walhalla lodge handling local arrangements and preparing coffee for the picnickers.

State Tightens Net on Motorists Causing Mishaps

"Negligent" Drivers to Lose Licenses for 90 Days to a Year, Says Larimer

A third "crackdown" step against motorists whose defiance of or disregard for traffic regulations causes accidents was announced today by Earl M. Larimer, Minnesota's new state director of highway safety.

Any motorist whose driving negligence becomes a contributing factor in a serious traffic accident will face suspension of his driver's license for a period ranging from 90 days to a year.

In announcing the highway department's decision to strictly invoke the "negligence" suspension-authority provided by law, Larimer invited the cooperation of all local law enforcement officers and the courts "to make this another truly effective weapon in Minnesota's war on the causes of traffic deaths and injuries."

The new highway safety director, who for a decade previously had served as highway patrol chief, started off his new accident prevention job last week with the double-barreled warning that the patrol was immediately stepping up its traffic law enforcement coverage by (1) putting on 40 additional patrol cars to be manned by splitting two-man patrol teams up into one-man units, and (2) placing a substantial number of patrolmen on the highways, day and night, in unmarked cars for the specific purpose of apprehending those motorists who "watch for the cop" and willfully violate traffic laws when they think no enforcement officer is in sight.

The newest and latest step to further tighten the net of apprehension around accident causing violators, Mr. Larimer announced, will operate under the legal provision which authorizes the commissioner of highways to suspend, without preliminary hearing, the license of any driver who, accident records or court actions show, "has been involved as a negligent driver in any accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another, or serious property damage."

THE FIRST YEAR'S RECORD

The first fiscal year under the control of the Eisenhower administration ended June 30 and the first year's record is being carefully scrutinized for its accomplishments and its shortcomings. In the record of that first fiscal year there is both success and failure.

The administration has kept its promise to reduce spending. It has failed to keep its promise to balance the budget.

Commendable progress has been made in cutting government costs. In January, with half the year gone, it was estimated that expenditures for the year still would total 70.9 billion dollars. The actual totals were estimated on June 30 as being 2.4 billions less than the January estimates. The cuts have been made without upsetting the economy of the nation and apparently without impairing the national security.

But while spending has been curtailed, tax receipts have also dropped. They will be nearly three billions less than was estimated six months ago and the deficit for the year probably will be slightly in excess of three billions.

Commenting on the governments present financial condition, Senator Byrd, Virginia democrat, states that it will not be necessary at this time to increase the debt limit. It is his opinion that, barring unforeseen developments, we can get along within the present limit. That is encouraging. If we are almost holding our own we actually are making some progress.

GOODBYE CALIFORNIA

Senator William Knowland of California has proclaimed that if the present Red government of China is admitted to membership in the United Nations he will resign as leader of the majority group in the senate. He then will demand that our country withdraw from membership in that organization.

The people of other free nations will of course resent such an ultimatum, as we would if they told us what we had to do or else. It smacks of the very kind of dictatorship we are objecting to.

Knowland's statement puts us in a position where we hardly known which way to go. We are opposed to Red China or any other satellite of Red Russia being admitted to the United Nations. On the other hand if this would lead to the resignation of Mr. Knowland as leader of the senate Republicans we might be inclined to yield on the Chinese question. Under his leadership the senate has sunk to a low level.

With all its shortcomings the United Nations still offers the only real hope for the survival of the free nations of the world. It is a democratic organization and nothing would be more pleasing to the Reds than to see it destroyed.

To join with other free nations in vigorous opposition to those who would create a world dictatorship is one thing. For us to say, however, that all of the other free nations of the world must do as we tell them to do, is quite another thing. If we were to proceed in this way we would offer the world little more than they would get from the Reds.

In the management of the affairs of the United Nations we are one of the directors. We are not the only director, and only as we offer sound leadership in support of reasonable policies will we command respect.

Now that Senator Knowland has let it be known that the United Nations must do his bidding or we will go our own way, we presume that if congress does not go along with him in his demands his next step will be to have California secede from the Union.

EUROPE UNITED—OR WEAK

Chancellor Adenauer, head of the West German government, used a radio address to his own people last week as an appeal for French ratification of the European Defense Community treaty. He commented sympathetically on the French people's fears of the new German army but he pointed out the urgency of the need for defense action. Further delay would increase the dangers and the countries that had already agreed on a united program could wait no longer.

It was a friendly appeal for the approval of a plan that was proposed originally by the French themselves. He went as far as he could in giving his neighbors assurance of his own good faith in this joint effort.

It is to be hoped that the French will now respond with prompt action. With or without their approval, the plan will be adopted. Without their support however it will lack the unity that is essential if it is to make an impression behind the iron curtain. A really united Europe would be a powerful influence for world peace.

Selection of a Duluth man to head the government's St. Lawrence Seaway Corporation gives assurance that this project will be in friendly hands. Cities located on the Great Lakes are starting to recover from the surprise of finding the project they have been dreaming about for a half a century suddenly become a reality. They already are starting to feel the benefits as long range planning for both public and private development progresses.

The Pennington County fair has long been handicapped by inadequate grandstand facilities. That fact will make less difficult the additional handicap of this year's still more limited seating space. Maybe it was a good wind that destroyed the old stand. All will agree, we are sure, that it had served long enough and deserves its retirement. Now we will be forced to do what we probably should have done some years ago—build a new stand. Fortunately it is not now necessary to rebuild in haste. A new grand stand is only one of several vexing problems with which the fair management is confronted. Now is a good time to give consideration to all of them.

Minnesota's double-holiday traffic toll was low and it is fair to assume that Earl Larimer's program of stricter enforcement had something to do with it. The new state director of highway safety announced there would be forty additional patrol cars checking on traffic and some of them of the "plainclothes" variety that could not be distinguished as police cars. Reports indicate that this announcement had a salutary effect and that traffic slowed down to a 60-mile crawl.

New Hope For Peat

Interest in development of Minnesota's vast resources seems to be growing. Many attempts have been made down through the years to make profitable use of peat. Most of these efforts have centered in the admittedly difficult task of reducing the heavy water content of peat so that it can be utilized for fuel. Not a few investigations have failed to find a commercially feasible way to do this.

Now scientists are seeking another course in the effort to utilize peat. In the recovery of chemicals from peat deposits, rather than in the processing of peat for fuel, lies the chief hope for profitable commercial use of Minnesota's peat resources, many of the experts now say.

Through New Methods

Plans have been announced for a new peat research project which offers considerable promise. Iron range Resources Commissioner Edward Bayuk reported recently that arrangements have been made for a $300,000 study of Minnesota peat, financed through private funds, by a corporation comprised of Iron Range and Duluth residents and New Jersey and New York interests. The company is leasing for its test the state's Floodwood Experimental Peat Plant, which has been idle since 1949.

Bayuk says the corporation plans a new approach in its research and for this purpose has engaged a German scientist to direct the activity. The new research will be aimed primarily at converting peat into cellulose and a variety of other products and determining whether it would be economically sound to produce them for commercial use. The work is expected to begin soon after the arrival of machinery from Germany, possibly in July.

Chief purpose of the new project is intensive research for utilization of the chemical compounds found in peat deposits and improvement in methods of extraction and isolation of cellulose and chemicals.

Peat deposits in Minnesota are said to be rich in cellulose, a basic material in rayon, paper, film and celluloid, explosives and plastics and many other products. Possible by-products include humic acid, resins, phenols and pharmaceuticals.

Older Workers Asset

Jarle Leirfallom, our state commissioner of public welfare, called a conference of state and county welfare officials the other day to consider the growing problem of caring for our aged persons. The number of aged persons in Minnesota, as in other states, has become a matter of real concern. One of the interesting comments came from David J. Winton, President of the Winton Lumber Company, who, contrary to many business men, looks upon the older worker as an asset. A lumberman, widely known both here and in Canada, Winton said:

"We have learned in Canada in our experience with older persons that there is a big reserve of efficient, effective work in some men beyond 65. We feel retirement should be a matter of physical and mental age, not age in years, and we think idleness is a large part of the troubles of the aged."

Winton said that his companies in Canada had allowed older workers to continue their employment as long as they could do their work effectively. He said that the older employee often can carry his part effectively and economically to a greater age in years than industry ordinarily thinks of as wise and suggested that industry may be depriving itself of a real asset by retiring men at a certain age regardless of a man's age in body and mind.

Facing the prospect that its supply of timber soon would run out, the Winton Company in Canada began setting up a retirement plan in 1946 to help meet the expected decline in employment. It established a pension plan for older workers, later put in a severance plan to aid men with long service and now is setting up a charitable and educational program to meet special needs.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-213 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q: My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently. Would I be eligible for VA death pension if my yearly income falls below the $2,700 limit? I have a young child.

A: You would be eligible only if your husband had a service connected disability at the time of his death. His disability, however, need not have been the cause of his death.

Q: I am a disabled Korean veteran, and I'm planning to take on-the-job training under Public Law 16. Will VA furnish me with supplies I need to pursue my training?

A: Yes, within limits. The kind, quality and amount of supplies will be limited to those commonly required to be owned personally by non-veterans taking the same training. If your disability warrants it, you may be issued special equipment to help you do your job.

Q: I am a Korean veteran who was totally disabled in service. I intend to apply for the special GI permanent plan insurance available to disabled Korean veterans. Would it be possible to have my premiums waived because of my total disability?

A: Yes. You should apply for a waiver of premiums at the same time you apply for your insurance. But be sure to pay the required premium with your application, and be sure to continue to pay premiums until VA tells you your waiver has been granted. If it is granted, you will get a refund of premiums paid under waiver.

Q: If I get a GI business loan, will I have to operate the business myself? Or could I turn it over to someone else to run?

A: You will be required to devote your personal labor or supervision to the business, either on a full-time or part-time basis.

Patch, patch, patch is no way to keep a snug roof on the home. When THIS protection gives way the entire home is in serious danger. Not only do I lay some stress on the quality of asphalt shingles but the price is rock bottom. You couple low price and good quality with a low-interest monthly payment program (which will include both material and labor) and you have our sincere attempt to really serve. Color samples of both roofing and shingles are here for inspection and I'll hustle out and measure the job for a rock bottom estimate. A telephone call will do it. Obligations? None!

Whether basement, attic or remodeled den there are several low-cost but mighty attractive ways to resurface a wall. One is insulation planking. This heavy fibre product exhibits color selection, ease of application. If cedar or pine is selected your width pattern may vary to please your taste. And while planking would be an improvement some one shouldn't overlook the beautiful plywood patterns for room resurfacing. There has never been a time when I could offer so many really beautiful room finishes at costs that will invite comparison. I have booklets and folders that show all of these treatments in color. Just give me a hint of interest and I'll [illegible] all the way.

Watch your cattle eat round-baled hay, packaged exclusively by ROTO-BALER. You can tell immediately how well they like the better quality, cured in round bales.

Examine one closely and see why. The hay is fluffier with more nutrition-packed leaves rolled inside. Livestock eat it readily right from the bale, saving labor.

And it costs less to bale, too. It's wrapped with inexpensive binder twine — field travel is reduced by picking up big double windrows. Get ready now. Hay time will soon be here.

Our Land

Sawdust Valuable

Most wood and sawdusts, of course—are slightly acid. These acids disappear when wood and sawdust rots. You can thus add needed acid to your soil by adding sawdust, says Marvin E. Smith, extension forester at the University of Minnesota. If used on land planted to crops sensitive to acid conditions, it may be advisable to use lime along with sawdust—particularly if the soil is slightly acid already. Your county agent can help find a good farm use for sawdust.

28,000 Baby Trees

You've heard of the Sand Dunes State Forest—17 square miles of slightly grassed sand dunes north of Elk River. Well E. E. Bjuge, Sherburne county agent, Mrs. Ella Kringlund, 4-H club agent, and about 600 area 4-H'ers and school children had their annual tree-planting field day last month. They'd planned to hand-plant about 15,000 young trees, but they went over the top with 28,000. Luckily, state forest officials had large stocks of tiny young trees on hand for the eager youngsters. Visit this area sometime. It's a striking example of what man can do with trees, patience and non-agricultural land.

Grass—Most Wonderful Feed

A prominent Nebraska rancher, Bruce Snyder, gives a poetic picture of the merits of grass. Snyder recently said grass is nature's most wonderful feed—"It's vitaminized, proteinized, laborized and best of all, it saves my poor old back." He explained this last statement by pointing out that preparing dry hay involves four operations—cutting, stacking, hauling and feeding.

Feed Your Soil-Builders

Clovers are soil builders and give high quality, low-cost feed only when they are "fed" properly. Hunger signs are similar for red, Ladino and alsike clover, says Paul M. Burson, University of Minnesota soils authority. If you can tell these signs on one, you usually can spot them on the others. Among symptoms are neat white dots or streaks, yellowish and reddish leaves and ragged leaf edges.

They went through the famous Stanley Park at Vancouver and the State Park of Washington at Seattle. Many beautiful new bridges are being erected both in Seattle and in Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Farstad say it would be very hard to decide which is the best of them all. On their way back from Canada Mr. and Mrs. Farstad stopped again for a couple days at the Burton Anderson home in Seattle. They report a fine, trouble free trip all the way, taking No. 2 all the way, and say roads were bad west by Minot and Rugby.

Saturday morning callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindbeck were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben strand, Junior Wally and David Larson of St. Paul. Saturday evening visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Strand, Junior Larson, and Mr. and Mrs. Irv Haugen.

Week end vistors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irv Haugen were Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Etelnne and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Strand and Mrs. Fred Larson and children all of St. Paul. On Sunday, they and Mr. and Mrs. Haugen and family were vistors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sourdif. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lien, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Lien, and Mrs. Fred Peterson of Argyle and vicinity and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sourdif of Thief River Falls.

HAMRE . . .

(Crowded out last week)

Mr. and Mrs. Handle Wells and family from Moline, Illinois arrived here on Tuesday morning at the Charlie Wells home for a visit. It is also reported that they might again settle in our community to live in the house on Minneapolis Island.

Young Man Has Accident

On Wednesday evening about 5:30 p. m. Marland Johnson suffered a painful accident, when his 22 caliber pistol accidently discharged in the holster fastened to his belt. The long rifle bullet entered his right hip following through the hip flesh in a 12-inch distance and lodged just above the right knee cap. Marland was immediately rushed to Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls where surgery was performed by Dr. Greene and the bullet was removed. Dr. Greene reported he was a lucky man the bullet had stopped before it hit the knee cap. Xrays were also taken but the bullet had not struck the hip bone either. Marland was released from the hospital that night and returned home with his father Frank Johnson and Handle Wells who took him down. He is getting around on crutches and improving from stiffness in the bruised hip muscles every day.

Albert Wells helped with chores at the Frank Johnson farm Wednesday evening.

Birthdays Celebrated

Joint birthdays were celebrated at a joint birthday party held at the Harry Johaneson home on June 8. David Magneson was one year old on June 7, and Mickel Johaneson was 8 years old on June 8th. The following were present to help the boys celebrate: Mrs. Manley Anderson and children; Mrs. Julia Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Magneson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johaneson and family. A delicious lunch was served at the close of the afternoon by the boys' mothers. The boys received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Englund and son Robert of Twin Valley, visited with Mrs. Julia Anderson and other relatives on Sunday.

Milton and Donald Knutson of Milwaukee, Wis. arrived here at the Frank Johnson home Monday via motorcycle, and visited thre until Tuesday afternoon. The boys had been visiting since they arrived on Saturday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Woods in Thief River Falls. Milton came all the way up on his motorcycle and left on Wednesday back to his factory job. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Flomm and son Victor, Donald and Lois Knutson came by car and will spend a couple weeks visit here with their relatives.

Viola and Marland Johnson took Milton and Donald Knutson back to Thief River Falls Tuesday. They also visited with Mrs. Harvey Woods and Mrs. Earl Woods at Northwestern Hospital. Both the ladies are improving. Mrs. Woods was released now on Wednesday and is at her farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wells and family and Jack Wells all from Moline, Ill. arrived here Saturday night at the Charlie Wells home to spend a visit with relatives here.

Freedom's Holy Light

The Fourth of July is a great day in the United States of America. On this date in 1776 the Thirteen Original Colonies declared their independence from the British government in which they had lost confidence. They assumed their right, as they themselves expressed it in their Declaration of Independence, to live under "the laws of nature and of nature's God."

This little freedom has carried down to this very day. And that is why happy little faces, such as those in this picture, can look hopefully out from the shadow of the Stars and Stripes to safety, and justice, and law and order in government and society.

Government by the people can endure only when it is in the hands of godly men and women, of good citizens, of officers and officials who respect the Christian principles upon which all good and sound [illegible]

The Church and the State are true partners in democratic living. Over them both Freedom's Holy Light is a welcome and necessary beacon. A representative government in the hands of good officials protects the inalienable right of freedom of worship. And the Church furnishes the moral tone, the spiritual stamina, which make them worthy of being entrusted with a free government of free people.

Strip-Crop All at Once?

A question often asked on rolling southeastern Minnesota farms is "should I strip-crop all this hilly stuff at once or do it over a period of years?" One farmer, Emery Loqua of Goodhue County says, "If I were starting my layout over again, I'd arrange my cropping program so that strips could be put on the entire farm at one time. It's far easier that way than doing it in chunks." He started to lay contour strips on his 160-acre farm three years ago. Because of a hay storage, he has been laying out about 25 acres each year for strips. This year he plans to complete the job.

Pigeon Grass Spray

Pre-emergence spraying of corn doesn't kill pigeon grass in Minnesota, reports R. S. Dunham, University of Minnesota agronomist who specializes in weed control. What's the answer? Harrowing with a spike-tooth harrow after corn is well-rooted is effective, Dunham says. After the corn is laid by, spray with five pounds TCA per acre, using drop nozzles to wet no more than the lower six inches of stalk. If you're troubled with broad-leaved weeds that can be checked by spraying, mix four ounces of 2,4-D with each five pounds of TCA. If the weeds aren't up, use a pound and a half of 2,4-D with five pounds TCA per acre

How to Use Wood Waste

How and where can you profitably use wood waste? Well, wood in the form of sawdust is an excellent source of much-needed humus. You can use sawdust as a mulch, livestock bedding, in compost, or put it directly in the ground. Sawdust and chips, plain or in manures, are good mulch for hay and pasture land. They quickly sift down to ground surfaces and don't interfere with haying as do strawy manures. These tips come from Marvin E. Smith, extension forester at the University of Minnesota.

A Timely Tip

"The land is ours only in trust. We must try to pass it on to our children and grandchildren in better condition than when it was passed on to us."

Over the past two years, oil operators have laid more than 9,330 miles of crude oil and products pipe lines. Pipe lines cost roughly $30,000 a mile to lay—one indication why the oil industry needs large sums of money to operate and expand.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The excitement of political campaigning often tends to overshadow and obscure public attention on efforts to adopt amendments to our state constitution.

It may be wise, therefore, while the election season is still in its early stage, to note the content of the four amendments which will be on the November ballot. Adoption requires that 60 per cent of persons voting in the November election vote in favor of the particular amendment.

This means that if one fails to vote on the amendments, and customarily many thousands of voters do fail to do so, he has in effect voted for the defeat of the measure. This makes the amending process extremely difficult, and not infrequently amendments widely supported by those informed about the issue are defeated because of lack of information among the larger body of voters.

Probate Court Proposal

Under existing constitutional provisions (Article 6), each county elects a probate judge for a term of four years. His jurisdiction is limited to "estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship," and he is not required to have any special training or qualifications for the position, nor can the legislature prescribe such qualifications.

Amendment No. 1 on this year's general election ballot provides two major changes in the probate court system. First, it enables the legislature to prescribe qualifications, which would mean, in effect, that judges of probate would, in the future, have to be lawyers who had been admitted to the bar. Second, it would enable the legislature to extend the jurisdiction of the probate judge, thus making much fuller use of this position and bringing some relief to the overburdened state judiciary.

This amendment is widely supported by the judiciary and by the bar generally, although it is opposed by probate judges who would not qualify for the positions they now hold if qualifications were established by the legislature.

Ending Double Liability

Article 10 of the state constitution provides that stockholders in state banks are liable "in an amount equal to the amount of stock owned by him for all debts" of the bank. This provision, in the view of bankers and other sponsors of the amendment fastens a double liability on stockholders and seriously complicates banking procedures in the state.

Amendment No. 2 is designed to correct this situation by deleting the provision quoted above, although the legislature will continue to have the power to determine and regulate the liability of stockholders.

A statewide committee, under the chairmanship of K. O. Sattre, president of the Blue Earth State Bank, who is a former state banking commissioner, is planning a campaign in support of this amendment.

Adopting New Constitution

The proposal likely to receive most public attention is Amendment No. 3 which is aimed at facilitating the calling of a constitutional convention for the adoption of a new state constitution.

The present constitution (Article 14) makes no provisions for the ratification by the voters of a new constitution adopted by a constitutional convention. To clear up any confusion on this point the amendment requires such ratification by a three fifths vote.

The amendment also provides that members of the state legislature may serve as members of the constitutional convention. Under existing provisions they are prevented from doing so.

The Minnesota League of Women Voters is spearheading the drive in support of this amendment. At its recent conference in Bemidji the organization placed this drive high on its current agenda.

Eliminating "Short Term"

When vacancies occur in statewide offices or in the United States Senatorial office the Governor is empowered to appoint a successor. But, under the present constitutional provisions, the successor serves only "until the next annual election, and until their successors are chosen and qualified." (Article 5)

This means, in effect, that whenever a vacancy is filled by appointment there must be two elections, one to serve the regular term, beginning on the first Monday of January following the election, and the other to serve a "short term" from election day until the first Monday of January.

Amendment No. 4 permits the person appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy until the first Monday in January.

Getting Majority Difficult

Constitutional amendments are often virtually non-controversial, such as Amendment No. 4, and yet even those of this type frequently fail to get the required 60 per cent of all those voting at the election. Thus, to succeed an amendment needs an extraordinary drive behind it, which means, in turn, extensive statewide education among the voters.

Until 25 years ago, few oil wells exceeded 3,000 feet in depth. Today, many wells exceed 10,000 feet. The deepest completed well to date is 20,521 feet—and that was abandoned as a dry hole.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD
Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Safety Education Starts Early

A leading cause of death in young children is accidents. While it is true that all children have accidents, and parents must learn to take the possibility in their stride, this is an area deserving of some thought. An attitude of "Well, he's going to have to learn to take care of himself, and the only way he can do it is through experience" does not solve the problem. The other extreme is equally undesirable—the parent who is overly solicitous that she never permits the child to engage in any activity and thereby inhibits the normal development of the child. What is a reasonable and useful viewpoint?

First, think in terms of the child's information and knowledge. Often a youngster does not have the foresight to recognize a dangerous situation, and here is an opportunity for parents to provide some awareness which might have to be gained through painful experience.

A child decides, for example, to stand up in a wagon. To be sure, the wagon is not in motion at the moment—but potentially it affords risk. Here is a chance for a parent to pull the wagon gently to show the child how it might be in motion, and how he might then fall. Or perhaps a youngster wants to reach for something on a high shelf, and his rocking horse is the nearest thing he finds to climb on. Or perhaps he wants to get a better view of something outside, and he climbs up on the window sill. These are times for the parents to turn potential accident into learning about safety measures.

Second, keep in mind that helping the child learn about safety need not mean instilling fears in him. Too often, a parent may feel that a warning builds fear, without realizing the possibilities of making the experience educational in more total sense. If the parent's attitude is one of pointing out the relationship between cause and result, rather than stressing danger and hurt, the child acquires some vicarious experience which helps to provide his own safeguards, and prevent accidents.

_When Governor Eberhart Visited the Pennington County Fair in 1912

A large crowd was assembled at the Pennington County Fair when this picture was taken in 1912. It was governor's day, according to this post card view that was loaned to us by Palmer Hanson, and the governor at that time was Adolph O. Eberhart. Addressing an outdoor crowd of this size without the aid of a sound system required a lot of lung power. This probably was the first visit to Pennington county by any governor of the state, the county being less than two years old at that time.

Marshall Fair Opens at Warren July 15th

Plans are now complete for the 48th annual Marshall county fair which will take place at the fairgrounds at Warren on July 15, 16, 17 and 18.

A record number of exhibits is expected at this year's fair. More than $2,000 in cash premiums will be paid out in awards to exhibitors.

Matinee grandstand program will open the fair Thursday afternoon when the first of two performances of the Grand Ole Opry show featuring the Duke of Paducah, Kitty Wells, Johnny & Jack, the Tennessee Mountain Boys and other starts of stage, screen and radio will be given. This show will be repeated in the evening on Thursday only.

The night show Friday, Saturday and Sunday will be Varieties of 1954 with a program of 10 major circus and vaudeville acts with music, comedy and acrobatics taking the forefront.

Friday is scheduled as County Day at the fair when many business places in the county will be closed in order to attend the first afternoon of horse racing at which electric starting gates will be used. Six big races from ½ mile to 1 mile in length will be run off during the afternoon.

The second afternoon of horse racing will take place on Saturday with five big races scheduled including the Race Fans Derby for one mile with a purse of $200 plus added money.

Sunday afternoon will be turned over to the speed demons when the Fargo Moorhead Motorcycle club will present more than 50 laps racing, including novice and expert riders, in a two hour program. Riders from Winnipeg as well as from numerous American cities will compete in the race program.

The fairgrounds will be sprayed just before the Fair opens to rid the area of mosquitoes.

Ask Bids on Road Jobs in District

State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann today announced a call for bids on five county-federal aid secondary road projects, to cost an estimated $185,000, and which will result in improvements to 11 miles of roads and construction of a bridge.

The projects include in this area:

Kittson county: S. A. R. 7—Grading and gravel surfacing of 4.9 miles northerly from Jct. T. H. 11 at Robbin. Bids to be received at Hallock July 20 by County Auditor A. P. Lofgren.

Red Lake county: S. A. R. 6—Grading, gravel base and road-mixed bituminous surfacing of 4.4 miles between Oklee and Jct. S. A. R. 1, requiring 84,690 cu. yds. of excavation, 12,174 tons of crush, screen and load gravel and 102,058 gals. of bituminous material. Bids at Red Lake Falls July 21 by County Auditor Arthur Prenevost.

Slight Gains Seen Despite 41 Deaths from June Traffic

Although 41 lives were lost in Minnesota traffic accidents during the month of June, three small rays of hope pierce the otherwise tragic picture, according to the Minnesota Safety Council. They are:

1. The month's toll represents a saving of nine lives, as compared with the 50 fatalities charged against motorists in June of 1953.

2. With only three pedestrians killed during the entire month, the state equalled an all-time low for any one month for this type of accident.

3. This was the first month of 1954 in which traffic deaths fell below those of the corresponding month of last year.

Despite these very welcome trends, however, the year's toll at the half-way mark stands at 284, as compared with 246 for the first six months of 1953 — an increase of 38.

"Because of the terrific slaughter on our streets and highways last year during the months of July, August and September when 238 were killed," A. V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council stated, "we stand a good chance of closing the gap and again putting our state back among the leaders of the nation in the field of traffic safety."

A review of last month's road fatalities reveals that more than one-half of the deaths — 22 resulted from collisions between motor vehicles. And of these accidents, there were six in which multiple deaths resulted, with 16 fatalities reported in these mishaps.

Ice Cream Stars on July Listing of Plentiful Foods

Young Chickens Also In Good Supply, Says U. M. Marketing Specialist

Picnic fare—from fried chicken to ice cream and from hamburgers to watermelon—will be abundant on markets not only for the Fourth but for the whole month of July.

Starting on the list of plentiful foods are ice cream and young chickens, according to Mrs. Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota.

July is one of the peak months for both production and consumption of ice cream and other frozen dairy desserts. This year supplies should be ample for the traditional ice cream festivals the country over. Some markets are offering bargain buys in these products.

Tender young chickens for broiling or frying will continue plentiful at reasonable prices. More are expected on markets than a year ago. Mrs. Loomis suggests chicken as a good buy for outdoor barbecues or for fried chicken for picnic tables.

New-crop turkeys will also be coming to market this month. Midsummer Turkey Time is scheduled by the industry for July 28 to August 8, but new-crop small turkeys are expected to be plentiful all during the month.

Beef will continue in good supply, especially higher - grade meat from grain-fed cattle. In addition, grass-fed cattle will be marketed in seasonably larger numbers to provide more of the less expensive grades of beef.

Other July plentifuls include locally grown vegetbales, fresh fish, watermelon and cantaloupe, milk and other dairy products, peanuts and peanut butter, vegetable fats and oils for salads, table use and cooking.

Aquatennial to Offer Big Parade Saturday, July 17

35 Floats and More Than 100 Marching Units Share in Minneapolis Event

"In the cool, cool, cool of the morning" the 7,000 participants of the Minneapolis Aquatennial Parade will don their regalia and step smartly into line on July 17th at 9:30 a. m. as the 1954 Aquatennial gets under way.

Approximately 35 floats and over 100 bands and marching units from every corner of the nation will wind their way down Nicollet Avenue. The procession will pass thousands of spectators in the reviewing stands and then fade into the festive throngs that celebrate Aquatennial throughout the city.

Traditionally an afternoon event, the time has been changed this year, because it was felt the weather would be more agreeable. The new starting time is also expected to accommodate mothers whose children will not miss afternoon naps.

The northwest's loviest girls will decorate the multi-colored floats; as reigning queen of the realm of 10,000 lakes Betty Trones, presides over the occasion.

Estimated attendance at the two and one half hour spectacle is 300,000.

The evening parade on July 21st will begin at 8:30 p. m. and is anticipated to be the most lavish illuminated production in the 15 year history of the Aquatennial, Minnesota's challenge to festivals around the nation.

Annual Knights of Columbus Field Mass Set July 11

Bishop Corbett Council, Knights of Columbus, with headquarters at Argyle, will sponsor a field mass at the fair grounds in Warren, Sunday, July 11th at 3 p. m.

The ceremony is a pontifical high mass and Most Reverend Bishop Francis J. Schenk of the Crookston diocese will be the celebrant, assisted by members of the clergy from the surrounding area.

The field mass is a colorful affair and fourth-degree Knights in full-dress uniform add to the effect. Music will be supplied by the choir of St. Peter and Paul Church, Warren.

The Field Mass is open to the general public and all persons are welcome to attend.

An estimated 700,000 Americans will be under treatment for cancer during 1954, according to the American Cancer Society.

Winds Cause Heavy Damage to Trees in Northern Area

Loss Is Estimated to Aggregate $100,000 in Seven Northern Counties

Plans for the cleanup and salvage of the $100,000 storm damaged timber on state and private lands in seven northern counties have been made and work started in some areas by the division of forestry and division of state parks, the directors reported today.

The wind storm covered an area from Hubbard and Clearwater counties north to the Canadian border, and east to St. Louis county. An air survey revealed heavy damage in the Beltrami Island state forest, Pine Island state forest in sections of Koochiching county, in Itasca state park, and the Chippewa national forest.

First estimates indicated that more than 1,000,000 bd. feet of large timber saw logs and 35,000 cords of pulpwood were blown down. Most of this was on public lands, but the amount of damage to private land timber is not known. Some of the state land timber has been sold to loggers and sales of all down timber which can be salvaged will be made as rapidly as possible.

Crews of state park employees are already at work clearing away the tangle of downed trees along the roads and trails in Itasca park. The main roads have been cleared and the work will be carried out at least three hundred feet on each side. Several large Norway pine in the Douglas Lodge and Preacher Grove areas were down and others so twisted that it is necessary to remove them for safety of people and property.

Private industry, tremendously strengthened by the post-war building boom, says it is prepared to build an average of 1,400,000 housing units per year for the next 10 years.

An average of more than 485 families per week, suffering injuries or losses through disaster, were given Red Cross emergency and rehabilitation aid in the last fiscal year.

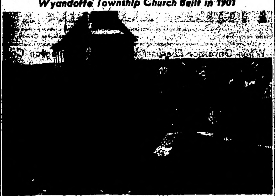
Wyandotte Township Church Built in 1901



This interesting picture shows the Clearwater Evangelical Lutheran Church in Wyandotte township, 5 miles north of Plummer on 59, as it appeared on the Sunday in 1901 when the first services were held there. Construction was not yet completed.

The group of ladies at the right are members of the St. Hilaire Lutheran Church choir who were present for the opening exercises. Rev. I. T. Aastad was the pastor of the congregation according to Mrs. Oscar Wilson of Wyandotte township, who loaned the picture and supplied the information to the Times.

The Clearwater congregation was organized in 1896, Mrs. Wilson reports. Members of the first board of trustees were Gunder T. Hundland, Torger Olson and Nils Halvorson, whose son Theodore is still living in Wyandotte. Theodore Olson, son of Torger Olson, lives at Evansville. Gunder Hundland was an uncle of Mrs. Wilson's.

Until 1901 when the church was built, church services and parochial school classes were conducted in the school houses of the community and sunday school was generally held in the homes of the members.

When Babe the Blue Ox Came to Town for Shoes

This picture was taken back in the good old days when an ox was an ox and here is one that for size might well be Babe of Paul Bunyan fame. The scene is at the entrance to Gulrud's Blacksmith Shop which was located on a part of what is now the C. Gustafson & Son location. The only person identified in the picture is Christ Gulrud himself, standing at the left of the ox second from the right. Another picture of the shoeing operation was too faint for reproduction. These pictures were loaned to the Times by Mrs. Gulrud, still a resident of the city.

Prune Evergreens Now, Is Advice of 'U' M Specialist

Proper pruning now will help keep the evergreens in home plantings in better condition, Richard Stadtherr, extension horticulturist at the University of Minnesota, said today.

If pruning is done this month or before the second week in July, the new growth that follows will mature. However, if pruning is delayed beyond that time, the new growth may not mature and so may be killed back next winter.

Too often no attention is given evergreens, once they are put into the foundation planting or elsewhere in the home yard. Unless they are pruned or sheared, Stadherr points out, they grow rapidly and become open and straggly, often covering windows and walks.

Here are the University horticulturist's suggestions for pruning conifers, including pine, spruce, balsam and fir, to make them more dense and compact:

Cut off about one-half to two-thirds of the new "candles" at the tip of each branch, that is, the new growth made this year. Use pruning shears, a sharp sickle or heavy pruning knife wielded like a sickle. Hedge shears create an unnatural form, destroying the beauty of the plants.

Aborvitae, junipers and yews should be pruned this month also, or early in July. Remove only the ends of the branches that extend beyond the normal form of the tree or shrub.

Drive carefully — don't try to save a minute and end up by losing a life!

50 YEARS AGO

Having briefly outlined the history of the founding of the city, we proceed to give an equally brief account of some of the early settlers who contributed to its growth and some of the public enterprises with which they were identified.

In 1880 M. C. Burns filed on land adjoining section 33 which was subsequently sold, the proceeds being invested in city property from which he now derives a competency. With one exception namely, Jesse LaBree, Mr. Burns enjoys the distinction of living longer in the city than any one else. Of Mr. Burns early days, of his marriage to Miss Nellie Powers, and of the excellent family resulting from the union, a mention must suffice. Of his sterling character as a citizen we need not speak, being too well known to require extended notice. Jesse LaBree came here as a boy, grew to man's estate and achieved an enviable record as a business man.

C. H. Porter, in many respects an ideal pioneer, arrived in 1883. He should have been named "Andy Handy" as the following record will show. He became in turn laborer, drayman, express messenger, mail carrier, house mover, and butcher with farming as a side issue. Strange to say he made money. His character is well established.

Col. C. A. Robbecke was born in Germany, emigrated to this country, became a soldier in the regular army where he served for five years, opened the first restaurant in Crookston, in which town he married Miss Louisa Meyer, removed to St. Hilaire and there built a hotel after which he entered a homestead adjoining section 33 and removed his hotel from St. Hilaire to Thief River Falls. In the latter town he has lived, acquiring fame as a landlord and a thrifty citizen, and raising a large and respected family.

A different type of a man, but equally well known is A. W. Dobson, a civil war veteran who, on account of weakness brought on by wounds and exposure has been unable to do more than earn an honest living. His reputation as a brave soldier and a true patriot is secure.

Other soldiers of the civil war who have aided in building up the community are S. T. Johnson, and Frank Tilton. The former opened the first barber ship in the city while he dispensed justice as Justice of the Peace. He is now county commissioner. The latter has been custodian of the cemetery ever since that institution became a necessity.

As merchant, postmaster and member of the school board, Hans Nelson has been well and favorably known since his arrival here in 1888.

J. W. Walker who successively held the offices of village and city treasurer until 1907, dates his residence in the community back to 1883, but a year ago, on account of failing health, was compelled to remove to the pine woods.

The record would be incomplete without mention of John N. Whitman, soldier, hotel keeper, citizen whose character was above reproach and whose reminiscences of the civil war were realistic and interesting. He is gone and his place shall know him no more.

A familiar figure upon our streets is Peter Newman who still, after the lapse of forty years, retains his soldierly bearing.

Two highly esteemed settlers of the early days who tarried for awhile and then departed are Henry Williams and Frank Richter. Two mill-wrights, Messrs. Jacklin and Wendt came in the early days, Jacklin however left in 1893, while Wendt died of pneumonia in 1897, leaving a wife and large family.

Herbert Holzknecht enjoys the distinction of being the first white man married in Thief River Falls, Miss Nellie Johnson being the happy bride. The wedding was "pulled off" with becoming eclat befitting so auspicious an event.

The first wheat grown on the town site was shocked by Gilbert Haavi. The first Fourth of July celebration was observed in 1882. The first white children born in Thief River Falls were Jonas La Bree and Frank H. Kratka. The first school was taught by Miss Box in 1882, according to rumor, but the first school of which there is authentic record was in 1883, taught by Miss Ella Wallin. Other early teachers were Misses Bird, Page, Whaley, Ralph, Hancock, Link and Howes, and Messrs. Vance, and Morgan. But the one who left her impress upon the hundreds of pupils who received their first lesson at her hands was Miss Wallin, who, after a brief absence resumed the work of teaching, until compelled, by defective hearing to resign.

The year 1884 was marked by the erection of the first school building, an unpretentious one-roomed affair, but equipped with factory furniture. The year was marked by the arrival of Frank H. Kratka and by the erection of a most imposing three-story building which, after some unusual vicissitudes of fortune, and much patient waiting became, in 1892, The Great Northern Hotel. The first host was R. E. Pratt, but to Frank H. Kratka belongs the honor of its erection.

Mr. Kratka has always been one of the most ardent and earnest workers in the interests of Thief River Falls, never letting an opportunity pass to say or do a good thing for this city. He has held the office of president of the village and mayor of the city a number of times, has represented the city in many ways on important matters, and no doubt has worked as hard, if not harder, than any other man in the state for the opening of the reservation. He is now postmaster of the city.

Two flouring mills came with the year 1888, and among the large number who came as settlers in that year an honored place must be given to Mr. Phillip Zeh and wife who enjoy the distinction of erecting the first brick building in the town. The year 1888 was further memorable by the building of the dam across the Red Lake River, an undertaking that redouds to the credit of the late Carl Kretzschmar, and contributed in no small degree, to the prosperity of the town. A flour mill and a saw mill were the natural result of the erection of the dam. A flouring mill run by steam was erected by J. W. Howes. A steam boat built and owned by J. W. Howes and Christ Linde and named "The Moniter" soon began to plow the waters of the Red Lake and Thief Rivers.

1904 saw the removal of the Indians to their diminished reservation, and their departure was deeply regretted by the white population, as the intercourse between the two races had been peaceful and pleasant.

In 1890 section 33 was included in the organization of the village and the first council meeting was held in May of that year. Carl Kretzschmar being elected president and Wm. G. Porter secretary.

Before Thief River Falls was incorporated as a city the following men acted as village presidents: Carl Kretzschmar, 1890; F. H. Kratka, 1891; J. H. Sanders, 1892; F. H. Kratka, 1893; Jim Meehan, Jr., 1894; Carl Kretzschmar, 1895; Jim Meehan, Jr., 1896.

A saw mill was begun by Patrick and James Meehan in 1891 which was in full operation in the following year. Nor was this all, for 1892 saw the river spanned by a noble steel bridge, the opening of the G. N. Hotel, the arrival of the first railroad train, the opening of the first steamboat line between Thief River Falls and the agency, and last but not least, the building of the first church, the Methodist Episcopal. Freight rates prior to the opening of the railroad were $1.50 per hundred from St. Hilaire, a distance of only eighty miles. Falk and Langseth had the largest general merchandise store. Evenson Bros. and Rasmus Oen dealt in hardware. These were suplemented in 1892 by O. P. Johnson general merchandise, and P. O. Berg household furniture. The trade individualism of the day resulted in a war of contending interests in 1894, to remedy which the Business Men's Union was organized. A more serious controversy however arose about the same time over the proposition of Ray W. Jones to build a saw mill. The enterprise was at length abandoned after engendering widespread bitterness. The Meehan brothers continued business until 1900, when their property was sold to D. C. Winton and others, which firm, under the name of "The Thief River Falls Lumber Co." still runs the mill and contributes to the prosperity of the city.

The space allowed for this article will not permit a biographical account of all the early settlers, but enough has been mentioned to refresh the memories of those living and afford valuable reference.

The directory of first business men is here given and is as follows:

Postmaster, T. Thibeault; Merchant, Joe Gerdeau; Printers, E. C. Knappen & A. E. White, established "Thief River Falls Press" 1889; Druggist, John Hockoltz 1884; Saloon keeper, T. Thibeault, 1883; Hardwareman, Henry Cook, 1883; Blacksmith, John Forsberg, 1888; Liveryman, Chas. Meyer; Harnessmaker, W. W. Gibb; Preacher, Rev. Thomas, Methodist; Doctor, Henry Grundy, 1892; Lawyer, Ira C. Richardson, 1892; Bank, First State, 1892, Lewis P. Johnson, cashier.

Warren Company Sells Elevator

A major real estate transaction was consummated in Warren last week with Pioneer Land and Loan company, Inc., selling its 40,000-bushel capacity elevator and seed house to Lloyd Hill and associates. Purchase price was not disclosed.

Mr. Hill was born in Alvarado and lived there most of his life with the exception of the last four years. From 1942 to 1950 he managed the Alvarado Farmers Cooperative elevator and from 1950 to the present he has been managing the Farmers Cooperative Marketing association elevator in East Grand Forks with a volume of over 1,200,000 bushels.

Alvin Dahlstrom Pleads Guilty to Setting Fire; to Be Sentenced Friday

Confronted Saturday morning by Sheriff Arthur Rambeck and Deputy State Fire Marshal Clarence Cherry of Detroit Lakes with evidence strongly indicating his guilt, Alvin Dahlstrom, for the past five years proprietor of the Dahlstrom Piano Co., signed a confession admitting that he was responsible for a fire Friday morning at 2:30 that destroyed the greater part of his combined residence and warehouse at 715 Atlantic av.

Waiving a preliminary hearing in municipal court Monday morning, Dahlstrom was brought the same day before Judge Paul A. Lundgren in district court, where he pleaded guilty to a charge of third degree arson. He was released under $3,000 bonds, and will be sentenced Friday morning following the [illegible] investigation.

In the account he gave local authorities, Dahlstrom admitted being in financial difficulties, and that during the week preceding the fire he had increased his insurance coverage on the premises from its former figure of $20,000 to a total of $40,000.

He said that he had taken his wife and children to Maple Lake late Thursday afternoon, where they occupied a rented cottage that night. Later that night he had returned alone to Thief River Falls and set fire to the building after dousing the interior with gasoline, returning then to Maple Lake.

He left the lake Friday morning with his family and went to Two Harbors, Minn., where he also operated a store. Sheriff Rambeck and Cherry, after investigating the blaze here in company with Fire Chief Roy Langevin and local police, went to Two Harbors to question Dahlstrom, and following their return to this city secured his written confession.

Residents in the vicinity of the Dahlstrom place on Atlantic av. were aroused at 2:30 a. m. Friday by a terrific blast, and on looking outside they saw the building completely enveloped in flames that shot out of the doors and windows 15 to 20 feet into the air.

Testifying to the force of the blast, all windows were blown out and glass strewn for a distance of 200 feet, in addition to which the front door and its frame were blown out, the chimney knocked down, and the north and south walls bulged six inches.

Members of the fire department, who brought two pumpers to the scene, quickly decided that this was no ordinary fire due to the intense heat generated, and after bringing the blaze under control they conducted an investigation which yielded evidence of a suspicious nature. Chief Roy Langevin thereupon called on Sheriff Rambeck and Fire Marshal Cherry to continue the investigation.

Dahlstrom, 49, who is the father of four children, has been in business the past five years, and previously farmed in Sanders township.

Students Now Being Recruited for Nurse School in T. R. Falls

The school of practical nursing, operated in conjunction with the area vocational-technical school of this city for the past five years, is again accepting applications for practical nurse training for the new term which will open on Tuesday, September 7, 1954, C. W. Pope, director, stated today.

The course consists of a fifty week training program in which students receive their related instruction on the school campus and their practical experience in Northwestern Hospital and Oakland Park Sanatorium.

Young women 18 through 39 years of age are accepted for training if otherwise qualified by health, personality traits, education, and other standards of acceptance. While high school graduation is highly desirable as a pre-requisite for entrance into practical nurse training, those with less education may apply.

Through the cooperative arrangement made with Northwestern Hospital and Oakland Park Sanatorium, certain valuable aids in training are furnished by these modern affiliates to the young women who are accepted so that cost to the student is kept at a minimum.

Since dental, physical, and other tests and procedures are required for entrance, Pope urged that young women of Northwestern Minnesota who have a real interest in nursing call soon or write the school for further information, bulletin, and application forms.

Inquiries may be addressed to C. W. Pope, director, area vocational-technical school, Thief River Falls, or telephone 1033.

Welfare Board Approves Budget, About Same as '54

Merle Lindberg Renamed Chairman of Board at Reorganization Session

At the annual reorganization meeting of the Pennington county welfare board held Thursday, July 8th, Merle Lindberg was re-elected chairman for the coming year. Other officers elected include Mrs. Otis Wold, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, secretary.

The board approved a budget for 1955 in the amount of $369,215. This is approximately the same as the 1954 budget and will require a local tax levy for the county's share in the amount of $82,680.05. No change will be necessary in the mill levy for 1955.

The main change in the 1955 budget is the amount budgeted for institutional care. It is estimated that the board saved $10,000 in county funds in 1954 due to the fact that the mentally ill law was declared unconstitutional.

Old-age assistance will as usual require the bulk of the money in the amount of $245,708.75. Aid to dependent children is next, requiring $62,400.00. The poor fund, including care of dependent neglected, and delinquent children; University Hospital; institutional care; and payments to townships for direct relief will cost $22,475.00. The share for administration is $32,635.00, and aid to the disabled will require $5,956.00.

It is expected the board will pay out $3,000 from its social welfare fund, and checks mailed directly from St. Paul on the recommendation of the board will amount to $18,000 for aid to the blind and $3,000 for war veterans relief.

County Board Votes Slight Change in Levy

Budget of $282,859 for 1954 Is Virtually Same as Total a Year Ago

While making changes in the levies for several funds, the Pennington county board at its semi-annual meeting Monday approved a budget calling for a tax levy for 1954 virtually the same as the levy made a year ago.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr reported that the 1954 budget calls for estimated total expenditures of $282,859, compared to $282,234 in 1953. This year's budget calls for a tax levy of 58.42 mills, while a year ago it was 58.28 mills.

To be added to the levy in school districts maintaining ungraded schools is a levy of 38.5 mills as a county school tuition tax, the amount being the same as a year ago.

The changes in the various funds are indicated in the following tabulation:

	1953	1954
Revenue	$80,000	$80,000
Road and Bridge	72,646	72,621
Welfare	82,377	82,384
Sanatorium	-----	15,000
Court House Skg. Fund	16,100	25,000

Co. School Transp.	4,827	4,842
County Fair	2,421	2,421
	282,234	$282,859

The board also conducted a preliminary hearing on the proposed improvement of County Ditch No. 45 in Kratka township, following which the project was referred back to the engineer for revision. The hearing was adjourned to Tuesday, August 3, at 1:30 p. m.

The annual meeting of the county board of equalization, scheduled for July 19, was postponed to Friday, July 30, at 9:30 a. m. in the VFW club rooms.

County Fair Now in Full Swing; Ends with Revue Thursday Night

Livestock Parade at 2; Grandstand Revue Wins Much Praise for Quality

Today and Thursday mark the last two days of the 1954 Pennington county fair, which got off to a successful start Monday and Tuesday, with ideal weather prevailing.

Early patrons agreed that the exhibits at this year's event, especially in the livestock department, are fully up to standard. The woman's building, with its enlarged second floor, also offers a wide variety of displays of plain and fancy needlework, culinary, flowers, art and products of the city and rural schools.

Numerous exhibits of commercial items, including a big array of farm machinery, also are being shown.

An added feature for Thursday will be the Future Farmers of America, District No. 1, display of dairy and beef cattle and breeding and market hogs and sheep, as well as field crops. A dozen FFA chapters from as many towns in ten Northwest counties are expected to participate. Stan Nelson is supervising the show.

A special event Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock will be the parade in front of the grandstand of livestock entered by 4-H and FFA exhibitors.

The grandstand show, "Fair Vogues of 1954", given this evening for the third time, proved itself to be a sparkling revue built around the dancing of the K-Donettes, a group of 16 pretty and attractively costumed girls. The production numbers include Hawaiian and Indian settings and a novel fluorescent number.

The circus and vaudeville acts presented in connection with the revue were equal or superior in calibre to anything shown here in recent years.

Included are Stan Valveta, who risks death by standing on his head on top of a high swaying pole; Betty & Dell in a graceful flying ballet; Ray Berwick, who performs the novel stunt of playing a marimba with his feet; the Three D's, accomplished gymnasts; and Eris, who, in his hand-balancing act, accomplishes the feat of supporting his entire body on his index finger.

Studies in Progress on Merging Oakland San with Crookston

Following the recent recommendation of the tuberculosis facilities committee of the state legislature that Oakland Park sanatorium be closed and its steadily declining number of patients be cared for at Sunnyrest sanatorium in Crookston, members of the boards of the two institutions met at Crookston last Wednesday evening for the first of a series of meetings to discuss the possibility of merging the two institutions.

Representing the local board at Wednesday's meeting were Otis L. Wold, chairman, and Carsten Moed, Red Lake Falls, and Dr. Baldwin Borreson. The two groups will hold a second session in Thief River Falls at an early date.

The Crookston Times reports on the meeting in that city as follows:

Council Lets Sewer, Water Main Projects

Big Delegation Present to Oppose Beer License at 717 Atlantic av. N.

The city council at an adjourned session last Thursday evening, awarded the contract for several sewer and water main projects, voted to proceed with four bituminous surfacing jobs, and heard protests by a large delegation to the recent issuance of an on-sale 3.2 beer license at a location at 717 Atlantic av. N.

The Lyons Construction Co. of Grand Rapids, on its bid of $23,318.30, lowest of five submitted, was awarded the sewer and water main jobs. Other bids ranged as high as $35,182, while City Engineer Douglas Stewart had estimated the cost at $30,408.

The work, which is scheduled to get under way by July 21, includes sewer and water mains on Maple av. from Gulf to Hughes st.; an eight-inch water main on Davis av. from Third st. to Eighth st.; replacement of a defective water main on Merriam av., south of Taft st.; water and sewer mains on Emil st. to serve the new armory; and a half-block of water main on First st. near LaBree av.

Following a hearing, at which no objectors appeared, the council ordered the street department to proceed with bituminous treatment of streets as follows: three-inch mat on Crocker av. from Taft st. to the bath house, and on Merriam av. from Third st. to Taft st.; and four-inch mats on Maple av. from Third st. to Taft st. and on Tindolph av S. from First st. to Annie st.

Present to protest the council's action in granting an on-sale beer license to Isabella Lofgren at 717 Atlantic av., was a delegation of 50 or more persons, including residents of the area and members of the WCTU and the Pennington county Social Action group.

Melvin Thomsen, 711 Atlantic, had presented a petition objecting to the licensing of the place, which he said was signed by more than 70 per cent of the residents. He said that while the street is zoned as commercial, there are residences on three sides. Among others who spoke against the council's action were Rev. Eva Peet and Mrs. R. B. Westacott, district head of the WCTU.

Council President Carl Gjernes informed the group that the council had voted unanimously in favor of granting the license, and said that if the place is not run properly steps will be taken by the council to halt its operation.

No. Central Reverses Stand on Airline Here

North Central Airlines Monday applied to the civil aeronautics board (CAB) for renewal of its permit to fly to Grand Forks, N. D.

The service to Grand Forks would include stops at Brainerd, Bemidji and Thief River Falls in Minnesota.

The airlines said its application is based on several conditions, including:

That the CAB suspend Northwest Airlines service at Grand Forks.

That Brainerd be included only on a seasonal basis.

The airlines did not apply for renewal of the permit to fly to Fargo, N. D., via St. Cloud, Alexandria and Fergus Falls in Minnesota.

The North Central move came as a surprise after the airline originally asked to abandon both services.

A CAB hearing in April was held and Joseph Fitzmaurice, CAB examiner, also recommended that the service be suspended.

Mercury Hits 91 Here Last Sunday

Genuine summer weather prevailed locally during the past week, the mercury hitting high marks of 86 Saturday, 91 Sunday, 82 Monday and 85 Tuesday. The Tindolph park swimming pool has been a gathering place for people from a wide area, and parking space has been at a premium in the vicinity of the park. Crops have continued to make progress, altho showers would be welcome in many localities.

Second County Fair, August 5, 6 and 7, 1903, Was Well Attended

The second annual Pennington County Fair — it was the Red Lake County Fair then — was well attended and the above picture, loaned to the Times by Martin Bothun, is proof of that fact. Mr. Bothun says that one of the snappy driving teams in this picture, he doesn't know which one, was owned and operated by young Halvor Fodstad. Mr. Bothun is somewhere in the picture too, selling lemonade. There was no water on the fair grounds, located at that time near his home west of the radio station, and lemonade was in heavy demand. He was so busy, he said, that he didn't have time to add fresh lemons and sugar all day, and it was an exceedingly profitable venture. The drink he sold was cold and wet and customers were satisfied.

Discuss Merger of Oakland Park, Crookston Sans

proximately 140. The basic cost necessary to the operation of each institution is so high that it has become impractical to continue separate operations.

This situation is true throughout the state and an interim committee known as the tuberculosis facilities committee was appointed by the last session of the state legislature. The recommendation of this committee has led to the closing of several smaller sanatoriums in the state.

Dr. A. J. Chesley, director of the department of health at the University of Minnesota, Dr. Mario Fisher, health officer for St. Louis county and the city of Duluth, and Louis Hill, were present at the meeting, representing the tuberculosis facilities committee, and gave much help and advice to the members of the two commissions in formulating the plans for the merger.

A subcommittee from the Sunnyrest board was appointed by the chairman, C. O. Gunhus, Fosston, to work with the members from the Oakland Park board to formulate a plan for the merger.

Members of the Sunnyrest board appointed to the subcommittee were Ed Maxsee, East Grand Forks; Ray Betcher, Ada; Philip Hamre, Crookston and Dr. L. H. Flancher, Crookston.

The sanatorium commissions have no power of merger, but can only submit plans to their respective county commissioners for action or refusal.

If the merger takes place, Oakland Park at Thief River Falls will be closed as a sanatorium but might continue operations as a chronic disease hospital.

Otis Wold, chairman of the board of Oakland Park, is the son of the late J. L. Wold who served on the first board of commissioners of Sunnyrest and with the late Dr. Halvor Holte, Crookston, were the men given most credit for the organization and building of the institution.

Swimmers Finish 1st Week of Life Saving Lessons

Groups of Students Strive at Tindolph Pool for Junior and Senior Badges

Swimmers have completed their first week of instruction in the Red Cross senior and junior life saving program at the Tindolph park pool.

Senior life saving candidates who are working for their first badge, or renewing one from a previous year, are Beverly Wegge, Pat Clinton, Yvonne LaPorte, Tucky Litstrom, Marilyn Waale, Barbara Wangenstein, Janis Aase, and Susanne Humes.

Working in the junior division are Mary Jo Froehle, Diane Storhaug, Sharon Klein, Elizabeth Hanson, Charles Rambeck, Kern Olson Jr., Darrel Nelson, and Roger Amundson.

Phil Beadle instructs the juniors, while Miss Andea Olson works with the senior division of life savers.

Instruction during the week has been centered around the development of swimming skills essential to life saving approaches and carries. Beaching a swamped boat and pulling off wet clothes in the water were also included in the instruction.

Next week will find the swimmers breaking head holds, carrying "victims" across the pool, and coping with struggling partners.

Secret of High Quality Hay

The secret of making high-quality hay is getting as many leaves to the barn as you can. But that takes "some doing," as all farmers know.

Much research has gone into finding ways of insuring high leaf content in hay and the farmer can help with his own program of careful hay-making.

Rodney A. Briggs, the University's extension agronomist, points out that in the first cutting, rain is the major problem. It leaches much feed value and causes high losses in leaf shattering.

They say that during the first cutting, it's a good idea to plan on making part of the cut into grass silage to keep most of the grass' feed value.

For second cutting, farmers can profitably check over the advantages of a now-curing system. Shattering leaves is always a big "loser" in field cured hay.

Briggs says a recently-developed machine helps speed drying time and promotes leaf-holding by the plants. It's known as a "hay crusher," "cracker" or "conditioner" and it cracks the stems, exposing more surface and allowing the stems to dry as rapidly as the leaves.

When stems are cracked, the drying period is shorter and there's a better chance of getting more leaves in the hay.

This hay conditioner has made it possible for some farmers to cut in the morning and bale that evening. It works best in almost ideal haying weather, Briggs says.

Farm Safety

Farm Safety Week, coming up July 25-31, can be a valuable period for adopting new safety measures and making rural America a safer and happier place to live.

Glenn Prickett, extension farm safety specialist at the University of Minn., suggests that during the week, farm families make special efforts to weed out farm and home hazards and plan a safer future. The week's theme is "Farm to live — live to farm." It is sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, cooperating with rural organizations.

I would like to point out the important fact that fewer or no accidents means far greater productivity and economy. "Not many of us stop to realize that manpower is our most important natural resource," says Prickett.

The terrible fact is that the chances of a farm worker being killed on the job are three times greater than for a factory worker. In 1953 over 3,800 farm workers lost their lives in farm work accidents — that's 59 out of every 100,000.

But factory workers were much "safer." They had 2,400 accidental deaths—only 14 out of every 100,000 employed. Only two other industries had higher per 100,000 death rate from accidents. They are construction and mining, quarrying, and oil and gas well drilling.

But in Minnesota, Prickett says, we can list agriculture as our number one "danger industry." It kills nearly three times as many people as the construction game.

How much do accidents cost? In money alone, our families lost about a million dollars in personal property and equipment from accident. "And dollar signs don't fit well on personal grief, pain, worry and time lost," says Prickett.

Here are some of the tragic statistics: Over 700 of the 3,800 fatal farm accidents were with tractors. One-third of the fatal tractor accidents involved persons under 20 and one out of every ten was of a child under five.

Minnesotas "share" of the farm and farm home accident death toll was 140—63 in actual farm operation. Leading the list are 44 deaths with tractors and farm machinery, 10 tractor accidents deaths on the highway, 22 falls, 14 deaths from fire and explosion and 14 from guns.

CHATTING with your HOME AGENT

Consider the finish as well as the fabric before trying to remove spots and stains from your summer cottons.

Many of the new cotton fabrics this year are finished with resin, either to give them resistance to wrinkles and soil or for such decorative effects as a glazed sheen or raised design that give an embossed or sculptured appearance. The resin finish thus may add to the attractiveness of the material and also make cleaning and pressing much less frequently.

However, a chlorine bleach should not be used on resin-finished cottons and linens. Extension clothing specialists at the University of Minnesota, as well as bleach manufacturers, advise a perborate rather than a chlorine bleach for white resin-finished cottons, if a bleach is necessary at all. The resin absorbs chlorine with the result that the fabric is discolored and weakened. Perborate bleaches are the powdered kind, that may be used on fabrics such as wool and nylon, as well as cotton. The label on the box of bleach will usually give information. The label on the garment or the goods should give this information especially if the fabric is white.

Grease spots on finished cottons also may need special attention. The specialists suggest sponging such spots with cleaning fluid before laundering to make sure of removing all the grease.

When finished cottons are purchased as yard goods, the homemaker can try laundering a sample to learn how to treat the fabric to keep its appearance. Information labels on both ready-made and yard goods are especially helpful. Not all finishes on cottons include resin. Many cottons that look like silk are mercerized—a permanent finish that calls for no special care. Most special finishes except mercerizing gradually deteriate through wear or through laundering. Some may lose their finish in the first laundering while others may last at least for a season.

Fergus Falls Firm Is Awarded Job on Clearwater River

Army Engineers Report Low Bid of $9,925 for Project Near Plummer

John Dieseth company, Fergus Falls, was the apparent low bidder at $9,925 for channel clearing and snagging on the Clearwater River, when nine bids were opened recently in the office of the St. Paul district, Corps of Engineers.

The site of the proposed work is within the 10-mile reach of the Clearwater River extending upstream from the village of Plummer. The job calls for removal and disposal of standing and fallen trees, loose and standing stumps, brush, driftwood and debris in the channel and along the channel banks.

The flow of the river has been restricted in this vicinity because of the trees, snags and debris, and after the clearing job is completed, flooding in the area will be greatly reduced according to Colonel A. H. Bagnulo, St. Paul District Engineer.

Thieves Score 5 in Ninth to Take Viking

The Thieves had to score five runs in the 9th inning in order to pull away from the Viking Oilers and win a 12 to 6 decision in a hot, sweaty, and rambunctious ball game played at Viking on Sunday afternoon. By their win over the scrappy Oilers, the Thieves moved into second place in the league standings, being one game behind the league-leading Argyle team.

Next Sunday's league schedule will find Sun Hols bringing his Crookston Pirates here for a game against the Thieves on the Fair Grounds diamond. According to the local club's officials, Sunday's game against the Pirates will be an afternoon affair, with game-time slated for 2:30 p. m. The light standards were erected at the diamond on Monday, but with the Fair in progress this week it is doubtful if the lights would be in operation for Sunday's tilt.

Sunday's tussle at Viking was in doubt until the top half of the 9th inning when the Thieves holding a shaking 7 to 6 lead, erupted for five runs to "insure" the game.

The locals moved into a 2 to 0 lead in the 2nd inning when Gene Leslie, Swede Lund, and Shorty Perkins tagged Erling Huglin's right-handed slants for singles, with Perkins' blow scoring Leslie and Lund.

Viking's Vernon Wahlstrom pared that lead to one run when he belted a long home run over the left field fence in the 4th inning. The Thieves bounced Huglin off the mound in the top of the 5th inning, with Joey Poole and Lund pounding out singles, and with Perkins crashing out a double to score two runs and bringing right-hander George Erickson in from left field to take over the Viking pitching duties. Jack Hoppe and Ralph Skjod punched out hits to tally Perkins, giving the Thieves a 5 to 1 lead.

An error, a walk to Jerry Potucek, singles by George Erickson and Wahlstrom, a hit batsman, and a walk to Paul Erickson, plated three Viking runs in the 5th inning, and the Oilers were back in the game.

The two teams exchanged run for run until the 9th inning when, with the score standing 7 to 6 for the Thieves, Lund opened with a single into right field. Perkins sacrificed Lund to second base; Hoppe punched a single into righ field, and on a high throw to third base, Lund scampered in with a run, with Hoppe moving on to second base. Skjod singled into left field, Hoppe stopping at third. Dick Edlund poked a bunt to the sight of the pitcher's mound and all hands were safe when first base was left uncovered, and Hoppe scored easily on the play. A wild pitch advanced Skjod to third base and Edlund to second, and on Darrell Wegner's single to left, Skjod scored the third run of the inning. On an attempted "squeeze play," Edlund scored when the Viking catcher made a low throw to third base. Wegner stole second, advanced to third on a wild throw by the pitcher, and scored on a wild pitch. Sid Vraa was called out on strikes, and Poole grounded out, short to first.

The never-give-up Oilers made a threat in their half of the 9th inning when, after Paul Erickson had been Leslie's 12th strikeout victim, Gene Hanson was safe when Vraa bobbled a ground ball; Neil Knutson sent a ground single into right field, and the Oilers had men on first and second. Potucek was out on a fly ball to centerfield, with Hoppe making a fine running catch. Peters ended the game by send a high pop foul which was gathered in by third baseman Skjod for the game-ending out.

Tourneys Open for Legion Jr. Teams

First in Series Opens Saturday at Alvarado

Coach Ralph Skjod's junior Legion baseball club will join seven other teams on Saturday and Sunday at Alvarado in competition in the sub-sub-district baseball tournament being played there. The two semi-finalists in the Alvarado tournament will gain berths in the sub-district tourney that is scheduled for Argyle on July 24th and 25th.

Coach Skjod's team will conclude their pre-tournament schedule on Thursday, when they meet the East Grand Forks Juniors on the Viking diamond.

According to the latest information on the pairings for the tournament at Alvarado on Saturday and Sunday, the locals will meet Warren in a first round game on Saturday.

Last week's busy schedule found the locals absorbing their first defeats of the year, losing a 4 to 1 decision to Stephen here last Tuesday evening, and dropping a 2 to 1 game to Red Lake Falls at Red Lake Falls on Friday night. On the win side, coach Skjod's club bested Warroad, 14 to 0, here Wednesday evening, and trounced Warren, 23 to 10, at Warren on Thursday evening.

In what proved to be on of the best junior baseball games played this year, the Red Lake Falls juniors edged out the locals, 2 to 1, at Red Lake Falls on Friday night. The game, which was a duel between a pair of curve-balling right-handers, Jack Poole for the locals and Wayne Page for Red Lake Falls, was featured by the errorless defensive play of both teams. The game's scoring was limited for the 1st inning, with the locals getting a run to open the scoring, and Red Lake Falls marking up their two runs in the bottom half of the 1st inning.

At Long Last

Sharing interest with the County Fair on Monday afternoon was the erecting of the light standards at the Fair Grounds diamond. It's difficult to realize, but it's a fact that we will have lighted baseball here within a week or ten days.

The contractors began the erection of the steel towers at about noon on Monday and by supper-time the eighth and final standard was in place.

It's true that we have a very short baseball season up here, from June through August, with about twelve or thirteen Sunday playing dates; but with lights available, and with playing dates for week-day games, the season has been extended by more than double.

And not only will the lights be a big benefit to the Thieves in arranging their schedule, and with night games being more enjoyable for the Thieves' fans to be in attendance, but the junior Legion and midget teams will be benefited. As of now the city's junior Legion, and they are a smooth-playing outfit, have been forced to play their games at twi-light, with starting time at 6:00 p. m.

We're sure that there are many junior baseball fans, and just plain baseball fans, who would enjoy these games if they were scheduled at a more convenient time. With the lighted field at the Fair Grounds available, there's no reason why the junior Legion couldn't arrange a night-game schedule. In season, too, coach Ralph Skjod's high school team could play their games under lights.

We don't know what restrictions and regulations the city council's baseball park committee will make with regard to the Fair Grounds diamond, but we know that they would create considerable good will if, whenever the date doesn't conflict with local teams' plans, they would make the park available to such teams as Viking, St. Hilaire, Plummer, Grygla, and other teams in this vicinity.

The lighted field here is an accomplishment that is the result of much effort by many people and numerous organizations, and it's a proof that cooperation is a valuable asset for a city to have.

Move Over, Sam, Bob, and Phil

Dr. Myron G. Johnson made a contribution to the local golf club's history on Wednesday evening when he made an eagle ace on the 4th hole. Dr. Johnson, playing as the number one man for the First Federal team, was engaged in a match against Rudy Mehlhoff of the Lieberman's in the "World Series" last Wednesday when he made his hole-in-one. Incidentally, the First Federal edged out the Lieberman's, 19 to 17, in their team match.

Doc joins such illustrious local golfers as Stan Larson, Bob Harmon, and Phil LeGault, all of whom have scored aces in recent years.

Couldn't Have Been Closer

The city's golf leagues, the American and National, played their "world's series" last Wednesday, and the American league, by a one-point margin, 108½ to 107½, was declared the winner. In the individual team matches the results were as follows, with the American League team named first: KTRF, 18, vs. Lincoln Life, 18; S. & L. 18½, vs. the Larson Company, 17½; Union State Bank, 16½, vs. Bridgeman's, 19; First Federal, 19, vs. Lieberman's, 17; Hardware Mutual, 19, vs. Tunberg Motor, 17; Poppler's Furniture, 17½, vs. Ace Hardware, 18½.

We picked the Lincoln Life to win the city championship by scoring a win over the KTRF squad. Lloyd Bennes and Wes Johnson made us look good by winning their matches from Wally DuChamp and Don Olson; but KTRF's Milt Reierson and Arnold Trost evened the match by beating Bob Tarnowski and Hank Langard.

We hear that a southpaw team, consisting of Kenny Nelson, Phil LeGault, Orvis Olen, L. L. Tygeson, and Doug Tegtmeier, has issued a challenge to a comparable team of right-handers. Doug is the coach and manager of the southpaws, and he'll make the match for steaks or cokes.

West Virginia in 1953 used more than 42 million pounds of explosives in mining 132 million tons of bituminous coal.

Brisk Contests Mark Tuesday's Race Card

Veteran jockey Archie Porter and youthful Clayton Gray shared honors in the first day's running of the County Fair's horse racing program. Porter won the Local Horse event on Gypsy, and was first in the Free-for-All, riding Lloyd Edgar's Don Mike. In addition, Porter had a second place on By Pet in the Consolation event. Clayton Gray won the Consolation on Eva E, and then won the feature event, the one-mile International, on Fair Hills.

The horse racing program will be completed with a five-event card on Wednesday afternoon.

The best race on Tuesday's program was the one-mile International event, which found Clayton Gray bringing long-striding Fair Hills in first, just a neck ahead of the Nite Hawk stable's Win-a-cup.

Six horses were entered in the Rough Riders event; and six horses were also entered in the Local Horse event. In the Local Horse race, Ruby, ridden by Dennis Johnson held a commanding lead to within fifty yards of the finish line, and then, apparently being disturbed by the grandstand, she stopped.

Seven horses were entered in the Free-for-All; four horses raced in the Consolation event; and five horses were entered in the International event.

The electric starting gate, being used for the first time on the local track, proved to be a success, with the horses getting away from the starting line in fine style.

Rough Riders event, one-half mile: won by Peggy F., owned by Glenn Stewart of Humboldt; ridden by Morris Hughes; 2nd, Autumn Dirk, owned and ridden by Bob Winters of Hallock; 3rd, Miss Illam, ridden by owner Dennis Todd of [illegible]. Time—51.2

Local Horse event, one-half mile: won by Gypsy, owned by George Dedem of St. Hilaire and ridden by Archie Porter; 2nd, Rusty, owned by L. E. Parks of this city, and ridden by Curtis Johnson; 3rd, Red Badge, owned by Curtis Johnson, ridden by Larry Renner. Time—50.8

Free-for-All, one-half mile: won by Don Mike, owned by Lloyd Edgar of Warren, ridden by Archie Porter; 2nd, Shining Jack, owned by Glenn Stewart, ridden by Gary Stewart; 3rd, Christy Ann, owned and ridden by Bob Winters. Time—50.9

Consolation event, one-half mile: won by Eva E., owned by Lloyd Gray of Dominion City, Manitoba, and ridden by Clayton Gray; 2nd, Ily Pet, owned by Lloyd Edgar, ridden by Archie Porter; 3rd, [illegible], owned by Gerald Hughes of Garden City, S. D. and ridden by Morris Hughes. Time—51.2

International event, one mile: won by Fair Hills, owned by Lloyd Gray and ridden by Clayton Gray; 2nd, Win-a-Cup, owned by the Nite Hawk stables of Roosevelt, ridden by Morris Hughes; 3rd, Rice Creek, owned by the Nite Hawk stables, and ridden by Dennis Todd. Time—1:46.5

Pipeline to Be Built from Clearbrook to Minneapolis-St. Paul

Marlin E. Sandlin, president of Minnesota Pipe Line Co., announced a contract has been awarded for construction of a 12½-million-dollar crude oil pipeline from Clearbrook, to connect with the new Great Northern Oil Co. refinery at Pine Bend on the Mississippi river south of the Twin Cities.

Williams Brothers Co., Tulsa Okla., will build the pipeline.

The 16-inch, 260-mile line, with two pumping stations, which will link the facilities of the Lakehead Pipe Line with the refinery, will be operated as a common carrier. It is expected to become an integral part of the pipeline transportation system designed to bring Canadian crude oil into the Twin Cities and Chicago marketing areas.

Great Northern Oil Co., will be the line's main user. Its new refinery, now being constructed, will have a rated daily capacity of 25,000 barrels, and will process medium gravity crude from the Fosterton area of Saskatchewan, Canada.

The Company has contracted to buy the crude at the well-head from Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. of Canada, Ltd., Woodley Canadian Oil Co., and Southern Production Co., Inc.

Great Northern expects to begin shipping at least 15,000 barrels of crude daily through the new pipeline facilities by June 1, 1955, Sandlin said, and to increase shipments to 20,000 barrels daily by Jan. 1, 1956.

Total initial capacity of the Clearbrook-Pine Bend link will be 35,000 barrels daily of the Fosterton crude.

Crude storage capacity at Clearbrook will total 400,000 barrels. The sites of the pumping stations at the Clearbrook take-off point and half-way point are still to be selected.

Sandlin said intermediate stations can be built to substantially increase the line's capacity.

This would enable the new line to serve the industry as an important link in the crude oil transportation system piping Canadian or Williston (N. D.) basin crude to the Great Lakes region.

Project engineer for the new line is Ross Holmes of the Southern Production Co. staff. Consulting engineer will be Oscar Wolfe, recently retired from the Texas Co.

Sandlin said pipe is expected to be laid this year before construction is interrupted by severe ground freezing.

Gentilly Boy, Age 2, Is Drowned in Stock Water Tank

John Joseph Patenaude, Jr., 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Patenaude of Gentilly drowned Monday of last week in a stock water tank at the Patenaude farm home.

Dr. H. E. Nelson, Polk county coroner, said the boy apparently lost his balance and fell into the tank when he attempted to get a cup of water from a flowing well which feds the tank. The tank and the well are housed and no one saw the mishap, Dr. Nelson said.

John's body was discovered some time later by a brother. Attempts by the Crookston fire department to revive the boy failed.

It was the second time the tank claimed a member of the family. A daughter of the Patenaude's drowned in it about eight years ago.

Safety Leader Gives Driver Tips

Council Leader Cautions Against Taking Chances

The chances you get away with today while driving can result in a serious accident on another day, according to A. V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council.

"Just because a reckless maneuver by you today did not end up in an accident," he said, "is no guarantee that the next time you won't end up wishing you hadn't tried that foolish stunt."

Among the accident-causing practices which are indulged in by drivers who should know better, he cited:

1. Improper passing. This includes not only passing in restricted zones, but also when approaching vehicles make this maneuver hazardous. Passing another vehicle should never be attempted unless it is absolutely safe to do so.

2. Straddling the center line. Many accidents, many of them fatal, are caused every month by motorists who fail to keep on their side of the roadway. Most of these accidents are due to the driver's inattention to his job of driving his car.

3. Improper use of lights. Failure to dim headlights can blind the driver approaching you and can result in a sideswipe accident or even a head-on collision. The low beam should be used when meeting another vehicle at night or when following closely behind.

4. Driving too fast for conditions. Some people might get a thrill out of zooming around a dangerous curve on two wheels, but a lot of people never live after one of these escapades, as traffic fatality statistics show. Negotiating curves at sensible speeds in one good way of staying alive.

Kittson Co. Bridge Jobs are Awarded

The state highway department announced this week that the Herbison Bridge Co. of Brainerd had been awarded the contract to construct two bridges on Highway 59 north of Lancaster in Kittson county on its low bids of respectively $39,903 and $12,020.

Mayors, Legislators Aquatennial Guests

Mayors of Minnesota communities will be honored July 21 by Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., at the annual Aquatennial Mayor's Day in Minneapolis. The Land O'Lakes luncheon for nearly 500 of Minnesota's Mayors is the first event scheduled during a busy day dedicated to the first citizens of Minnesota.

J. Leonard Larson, Aquatennial Commodore and Harold J. Anderson, Aquatennial president, will welcome the mayors to the luncheon. After an appearance at a luncheon for the Mayor's wives, Betty Tronea, reigning Queen of the Lakes, will add a note of glamour to the event.

Cal Karnstedt, radio personality, will act as master of ceremonies and introduce Aquatennial celebrities and this year's candidates for Queen of the Lakes. Betty Carr, MGM starlet from Hollywood, will be on hand. The famed Carillon Singers will also appear on the program.

Mayne H. Mauritson, president of Land O'Lakes, will be host at the luncheon. Mauritson was mayor of Shelly, Minnesota, for five years.

Other Acquatennial activities for Land O'Lakes include the co-sponsorship of a dinner for state legislators on July 17. Land O'Lakes will also participate in the Aqua Tours which give Aquatennial visitors a chance to see the leading businesses in Minneapolis.

After the luncheon the mayors and their wives will be guests at a special showing of "This is Cinerama" at the Century Theater. In the evening a buffet supper will be held in their honor. Following the supper they will watch the spectacular illuminated Aquatennial night parade.

Record Sturgeon in Lake of Woods Weighed 236 lbs.

The largest fish that Minnesota produces will not bite a hook. This is the rock sturgeon, still found in the north boundary waters. This fish will be as long as a man is tall and weigh more, in many cases, than the fisherman who once netted him.

The largest sturgeon believed to have ever been taken from the Lake of the Woods was eight feet long and weighed 236 pounds.

The sturgeon was once considered a nuisance to the commercial fishermen because he destroyed their nets. In the earlier times many were killed and thrown away. Then came a demand for their flesh. In 1893 more than a million pounds were taken from the American boundary waters. Since it takes a good sturgeon minnow into a big fish, the species was near extermination ten years later.

The sturgeon not only produced flesh but its bladder was, at one time and until the plastic age, a source of isinglass. The eggs, of which there are several pounds to the female fish, are the basis of caviar.

Many of the sturgeon eggs taken in Minnesota went to Russia. There they were treated, repacked, labelled and came back to America as high priced caviar.

ON THE HOME [illegible]

Based on the experience of the first six months and the present prospect, there seems to be general agreement that 1954 is going to be another good year. Business volume nationally is not up to the 1953 totals, but not too far behind. While 1954 will not be our best year it has a good chance of being our second best. That is what the fellows who make the predictions tell us.

The national condition is important locally. It would not be good for us here in Squash Hollow to have things go to pot nationally. Our main concern however is ever local conditions. The weather and what it does to our crops during the coming critical weeks is what will be the determining factor in deciding how much prosperity we will have in our happy new year.

For the first six months, locally, we have no reason to complain. There is no unemployment in the building trades. Many new homes are in the making along with an unusually large volume of other construction now under way. And in some ways the rural community is developing faster than the city.

That leaves us with nothing to worry about from here on in except the crops. That we will do.

NATIONAL UNITY

Republicans and Democrats apparently are not going to split on the question of foreign policy if the Red Chinese are seated in the assembly of the United Nations. That seems to be a reasonable conclusion following the proposal of the senate foreign relations committee in which the President was merely requested to keep Congress informed on developments. This proposal had the support of the committee members of both parties and it came without any hysterics over what we would do if Red China were admitted.

That puts us in a better position to deal realistically rather than emotionally with whatever situation we may find ourselves confronted with. Nothing would be more pleasing to the Reds than the collapse of the United Nations organization. And if our country should withdraw, that organization, which still is controlled by the free nations of the world, probably would fall apart.

SUBSIDIZING AVIATION

A study made by a committee of the Investment Bankers Association reveals the fact that our airlines are now more than paying their own way. According to the report of this committee, if air mail postage, income taxes and transportation taxes collected from the carriers are included, the federal government in the year ended June 30, 1953, actually had an income of $198 [illegible] from the air transportation industry, over and above payments for carrying mail and subsidies.

Most of the airline companies are now operating without public assistance. Some of the smaller lines that are providing feeder service are still being helped but they too are gradually becoming more self-sufficient.

Giving public assistance to infant industries in one form or another has long been established practice in our country. It is quite certain we would not have made the progress in aviation that we have made if the industry had not been heavily subsidized during the early stages of its development.

The report of the committee of the Investment Bankers Association emphasized the fact that what generally are known as subsidy payments are not made just for the benefit of the carriers but are to provide communities with air service they otherwise would not have. National defense was also an important factor in justifying subsidies, it was contended.

THE RIGHT TO EARN A LIVING

Governors from the widely separated states of Pennsylvania, Colorado and Texas recently visited the Far East at the request of President Eisenhower to study conditions in that area. In their report to him they have recommended that Japan be permitted to trade on a limited scale with Red China. They base their conclusion on an assumption 90 million Japanese must be permitted to earn a living.

Their recommendation points up the difficulty we face in trying to maintain embargoes on trade with Communist nations. Our country can get along nicely without an exchange of goods and services with the countries behind the Iron Curtain. To many of our allied nations, however, trade with their neighboring countries is as natural as it is for us trade with our neighbors. To place an embargo upon such trade is to impose a heavy burden upon them.

To Japan's 90 million people trade is essential if they are to become self-supporting. If we insist they cannot do business with their natural customers then we will be morally obligated to continue to support them and that is not good either for them or for us.

There is much to be said in support of the argument that the best way to world recovery and peace is a breakdown to the greatest possible extent of existing barriers to a free exchange of goods. Maybe a few good commercial salesmen can do a better job of making friends for us among the people of unfriendly nations than our diplomats and politicians.

The report of the three governors deserves consideration.

EDITORS DESERVED SPANKING

(Montevideo News)

Country editors, while conventioneering in Washington, mixed a bit of lobbying with looks at historic shrines, modern factories of government, and notables.

The editor of the Sleepy Eye Herald-Dispatch was on a committee that had a conference with the postmaster general "to ask that he reconsider a ruling which newspapers felt were somewhat inimical to their interests."

Editor W. E. Barnes reports:

"As we left his office I felt that we had been figuratively spanked and that we deserved it. Mr. Summerfield pointed out the prodigious job which confronted him in reorganizating the post office department and trying to get it out of the red.

He explained pointedly that postage rates on newspapers and magazines had increased less than any other expense of the publisher's business.

He praised President Eisenhower for trying to balance the national budget and for doing an excellent job of bringing the country out of war economy into a peaceful era with a minimum of confusion.

"It is reorganization which you should be helping me get," he told our committee. "Instead of that you are down here asking for reconsideration of something you think may harm you slightly, and ignoring the over-all picture. I'm batting FOR YOU and the rest of the taxpayers: It is high time you came down here and gave me an opportunity to tell you what this department and your government is facing."

This writer thinks the postoffice department is in good hands. He also is of the opinion the national editorial association committee deserved the polite, but effective verbal spanking it received in the office of the Postmaster General."

We like the Sleepy Eye editor's frankness. Going on from there, the question comes up: Are too many groups of Americans guilty of "ignoring the overall picture" while they ask for protection of their group, class or industry.

In Illinois, 99% of the coal and 95% mechanically loaded. coal in 1953 was 9 million tons produced is mechanically cut. Electric utility consumption of above 1952.

ARE YOU AFRAID OF BEING HIT AND HURT BY an Uninsured Driver?

As that rickety old car lurches out on the street just ahead and wobbles crazily around you, do you shiver in your shoes at fear of being hit and hurt, and by an uninsured driver, to boot?

For the first time, this fear need no longer haunt you. For the very first time, insurance against the uninsured driver may be had by Minnesota motorists, and automobile drivers in this state may obtain unsatisfied judgment coverage with which to pay personal injury bills.

New Plan Fills Crying Need

This new kind of insurance offered you by Anchor Casualty Company has long been needed to take care of personal injury bills caused by a negligent uninsured driver.

If you are at fault in an automobile accident, your liability insurance company pays all the personal-injury bills incurred by the "other fellow." But how do you fare if the "other fellow" is at fault and is uninsured and financially irresponsible? Sadly, you find that an uncollectible court judgment will pay none of your personal injury bills. In other words, you're "stuck."

Anchor Casualty Will Now Protect You

The new "U. J." (unsatisfied judgment) insurance now offered you by Anchor Casualty Company provides its automobile bodily injury policy holders with long-needed protection against negligent uninsured drivers.

Unsatisfied judgment coverage will pay as much as $5,000 to one insured person, and as much as $10,000 to two or more persons involved in a single accident. Coverage is extended to husband, wife and minor children in the insured's household.

Anchor Casualty "U. J." coverage protects those covered while riding or driving in automobiles or most types of land vehicles, and—this is important—if those insured are pedestrians at time of the accident.

Cost is Surprisingly Low

The cost is surprisingly low. Unsatisfied judgment protection may be added to an Anchor Casualty automobile bodily injury policy at a cost of only $6.00 a year in metropolitan areas, or $4.00 per year in rural areas, for each auto insured.

This new "U. J." insurance can be obtained by simply contacting your local Anchor Casualty Company agent. Get in touch with us at once, and complete information will be made available to you.

What's New with Cows?

Catching up on my reading, I noticed three news items you might like to know about.

First, a farmer whose milk had a trace of garlic flavor is feeding his cows chlorophyll to sweeten their breaths.

Next, a college agricultural station has trained a herd to get milked when they are called by number. Seems 75 out of 80 cows learned their numbers in a few days. Guess the "dumb" five couldn't count that high. Final item—cows are getting "nose-printed" for identification.

From where I sit, I hope there is as much progress being made with humans . . . especially in regard to tolerance. Whether it's a choice of a political party, a basketball team, or a favorite beverage, let's learn to live and let live more. You may ask for a soft drink after a hard day's work—I'll choose a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not try to "sew" the other fellow into our way of thinking!

Mrs. E. Ostlund, Grygla

Donald Gram from Middle River helped with haying on the Gordon Foss and Ordean Anderson farms a few days and then went on the Leggler farm during haying and other farming operations.

The Northwood church Luther League held their ice cream social at the Harland Lee home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beaumont from Clearbrook, Minn. visited at the home of Mrs. Beaumont's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ordean Anderson Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Axel Evans and son Kenneth from Shelton, Wash., Mrs. Clifford Engebretson and children called at the Emil Ostlund, Gordon Foss and Emmett Finley homes Friday.

LeAnn and Lynnette Bolin of Wannaska visited Sunday in the Lester Ostlund home.

Mrs. Ella Tyson is staying in the Emil Ostlund and Fred Ice homes indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. Erhart Leggler and children were guests in the Emmett Finlay home Tuesday evening.

With haying and June grass stripping farmers are busy people now days. Clarence Davy is using his truck to deliver strippers. Emmett Finley and Gilmer Anderson moved their tractors east of Fourtowns Friday where they'll strip June grass on some land they have rented. Vernon and Lester Ostlund had a new hay baler and side delivery rake delivered last week. Harland Lee also bought a new baler and rake.

Bobby Davy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Davy narrowly escaped serious injury last week when the team he was driving on the hay rake got scared and took off. One wheel of the rake hit the trunk of a car and went over that and then over a jeep. Bob was thrown off the rake and landed 15 feet in front of the horses. He was unconscious for half an hour after they got to him. He suffered a broken shoulder bone and other minor bruises. Dr. Jack Delmore of Roseau was called out but Bobby was up and around by the time he got there.

Today's coal mine is no longer black, but white, because powdered limestone is sprayed throughout the mine as a safety measure against the spread of an explosion.

OUT OF THE PAST

What appears to have been an Indian spearhead was unearthed at Benson.—The famous old William Crooks, early day railroad locomotive that hauled public officials from St. Paul to St. Anthony in 1862, is being retired in St. Paul; the 92-year-old link with frontier days will be displayed at the Union Depot.—At Spanish Fort, Texas, is a stubby silver bugle inscribed "B. Griswold, Company F, Minnesota Volunteers, 2nd Cavalry." Someone may remember B. Griswold, civil war bugler, may know how his bugle fell into the hands of Texas Indians, among whom it was found after an unsuccessful raid soon after the end of the war. Eru Schrock, who has lived 64 years in Spanish Fort, Texas, now cherishes this unusual relic. —September 1, 1894, in the words of the historian Stewart H. Holbrook, "an empire burned," destroying thousands of acres of Minnesota forest and the entire town of Hinkley. A Pageant at Hinckley August 14 and 22 will mark this tragic anniversary and the rebirth of the indomitable community.

A single U. S. international airline recently flew 4,108 persons across the Atlantic in a seven-day period.

Governor Commends Civil Defense Force of Volunteer Aides

Governor C. Elmer Anderson this week issued the following statement commending the more than 20,000 civil defense workers in Minnesota and urging others to lend their assistance.

On July 14th the nation will honor the thousands of patriotic civil defense volunteers who have dedicated themselves to the security of our country by participating in the Ground Observer Corps. This date will mark the second anniversary of "Operation Skywatch," when the United States Air Force requested 27 States, including Minnesota, to participate in a continuous 24-hour vigil of our skies to protect our people against the possibility of a surprise attack.

In Minnesota today we have over 20,000 civil defense volunteers in over 700 posts located in practically every community in our great state. Many posts are located in lumber camps, ranger stations, farms, and even the small country store. In Minneapolis, over 1,500 volunteers have been trained for the filter center, one of the largest of its type in the Air Defense Command.

As governor and chief of civil defense for the state of Minnesota, I wish to commend the thousands of volunteers who are giving so unselfishly of their time and have contributed so much to the defense of our Country. With the international situation so tense, I especially urge all citizens of Minnesota to take their part in civil defense and do it now.

Catholic Welfare Gridiron Contest Set for August 14

There will be all-time National Football League stars and former college all-Americans galore on hand at the parade stadium in Minneapolis Saturday night, August 14. The occasion will be the seventh annual Catholic Welfare Association football game, which this year pits the Green Bay Packers against the Chicago Cardinals.

All plans have ben completed for the annual charity classic and the two teams are all set to begin their conditioning chores later this month—the Packers at Stevens Point, Wis. and the Cardinals at Lake Forest, Ill.

Father Tom Meagher, director of the game, said today that early ticket sales indicate that the August 14 Minneapolis turnout will top the 20,560 crowd of last year.

Green Bay will present such established stars as Clayton Tonnemaker, the all-American linebacker from the University of Minnesota who has gone on to become one of the pro league's defensive standouts.

Bike Accidents Can Be Avoided

Medical Association Gives Tips to Cyclists

Bicycle safety depends as much on having a god machine in good working order as it does on heeding traffic regulations, doctors of the Minnesota State Medical association declared in the fourth of a series of bulletins on summer safety issued by the association today.

To help guard against serious mishaps on a bicycle, the bike itself should have a check-up and possibly an over-haul, the bulletin says, and here are some of the mechanical things to watch for:

First: Kids' bikes are often too big for them and too hard to maniuplate in traffic on that account. A bicycle is the right height if the rider can stand with the balls of both feet solidly on the ground while he is straddling the bar.

Second: The bicycle should have a head-light and a rear reflector for driving at dusk or after dark. Many fatal accidents have happened at dusk with unlighted bicycles which were almost invisible to motorists. Also the bicycle should have a basket for carrying things so that both hands can be free.

Third: All moving parts and particularly the coast-brake mechanism should be well lubricated so that all work freely and smoothly.

Pastor Strand will deliver the sermon at the 10:30 service in the morning; Dr. Knutson will give the festival address at the afternoon session at 2. A festival offering will be received.

The Faberg choir of Rindahl, under the direction of Selmer Harstad, and the Gary parish male chorus, directed by Mrs. R. R. Schilling, will sing at the morning service. The Twin Valley community band, under the direction of E. B. Fredrick, will give a concert at 1 o'clock. A ladies' quartet of Ulen, composed of Mrs. Arthur Andersen, Mrs. Harold Dinsmore, Mrs. Harvey Olson and Mrs. Milton Reiersgord, will sing at the afternoon session. Mrs. Harvey Olson will also sing a solo.

Rev. A. C. Odden, Twin Valley, chairman of the Board, will preside for the afternoon program. Mrs. R. R. Schilling will serve as organist.

Faaberg Ladies Aid of Rindahl will serve the noon meal and afternoon coffee to all. A large tent, 40 by 80 feet, will be set up on the Home grounds for the services.

U. S. Indian Bureau Relocation Office Moving to Denver

Seeks to Give Indians on Reservation Chance for Economic Opportunities

National headquarters for the Indian Bureau's relocation program involving guidance and help for Indian workers and their families seeking to establish new homes away from the reservations, will be moved on August 1 from Washington, D. C. to Denver, Colo., Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay announced today.

Charles F. Miller, chief of the bureau's branch of relocation for the past two years, will continue to direct the program from Denver. However, Charles B. Rovin, assistant chief of the branch, will remain in Washington as a liaison with the Bureau's Central Office.

The move, which will place the bureau's top relocation staff in closer proximity to the major centers of Indian population, points up the increased emphasis which the bureau is now giving to this phase of its operations.

Two other recent developments also underline the growing importance of relocation activity.

One is the focusing of attention by Commissioner Glenn L. Emmons on the urgent need for providing reservation Indians with wider and more diverse opportunities for economic advancement. Commissioner Emmons has stressed this theme frequently and has pointed to the bureau's relocation program as one practical answer to the problem.

Relocation was also featured prominently in the report of the survey team which completed an organization study of the bureau in late 1953. "More attention," the report stated, "should be given to Indians' needs as individuals and in helping them earn a livelihood in much the same ways as the majority of American people who are working for salaries and wages—in towns and cities."

Agency relocation are headquartered in Minnesota at Cass Lake.

The processes of converting coal into oil and gasoline are now fully established. It is a question only of getting the cost of the synthetic liquid fuels down to a point that will be competitive with the natural products.

Newest kitchen appliance is a refrigerator which hangs on the wall like a cabinet. Manufacturers say it takes up only two-thirds as much space as floor model of same capacity.

Coal is a flexible material and may readily be converted into many useful forms.

WHEN IS A "DEAL" A REAL DOLLAR-SAVER?

"Only when the new car you buy has lasting value. Mercury's 1954 sales records let us give you a real bargain deal on the car that consistently tops its field in resale value!"

Before you "deal," take a good long look at the car you're dealing for. A deal is good only when you get a good trade-in allowance toward a car that delivers top value for your money—not only when you buy, but while you drive and when you trade.

We can give you a top trade-in allowance, because official figures show that Mercury dealers sell more new cars per dealer than competitors. With this higher volume, we can take a lower profit per car. We can take an honest profit and still match other offers.

When a car is "hot," there must be good reasons.

With Mercury, it's not just a matter of styling—although Mercury's style leadership is one good reason for its popularity. With a brand-new overhead valve V-8 engine developing 161 horsepower, Mercury outperforms other cars in its price class. And Mercury is famous for lower operating and maintenance costs.

The big demand for Mercurys includes used Mercurys, too. Authoritative market reports on used car values show that Mercury returns more of your original investment when you sell or trade—more than any other car in the entire medium-price field. That's why a deal for a Mercury is a real dollar-saver. When you're ready to "deal"—come talk to us!

No Compromise This Time!

It was over twenty years ago that he took title to his first motor car—and, since that time, he has owned and driven almost a dozen different automobiles.

And yet, every time he accepted the keys to a new car, he knew in his heart that it was a compromise.

For—like so many millions of his fellow men—he had his heart set on a Cadillac!

Well, there's no compromise this time! The magic moment has arrived. The papers are all in order . . . the keys are in his hand . . . and the car of his dreams is waiting for him to take the wheel. It's his!

And, if you could but ride with him on that first journey, you'd understand what it means to have a motoring dream come true.

You'd see excitement in his eyes as he rolls majestically through the city's traffic—and puts his Cadillac through its thrilling paces on the open road.

You'd see honest pride in his face as he sits, calmly and serenely in the driver's seat, and catches the admiring glances of his fellow motorists.

And you'd sense the joy in his heart as he turns down that familiar street and heads for the happiest homecoming of the year!

In short, you'd witness a motorist in his finest hour—living out an experience that has no counterpart in the world of transportation. It is a thrill and an inspiration and an education—all rolled into one.

• • •

A friend of ours put it this way. "There are two kinds of automobiles," he told us. "There are Cadillacs—and there are all the others."

Whether or not you've driven "all the others" we can't say. But of one thing we are certain: Until you've spent an hour in the driver's seat of a 1954 Cadillac, your motoring education is not complete.

Why not come in soon and do so?

Air Force Officers Confer Here with CAP on 2-way Radio hookup

Colonel A. R. Fortney, liaison officer from the United States Air Force to the Minnesota wing of the Civil Air Patrol, and Major R. O. Dauphin, wing communications officer, both of Minneapolis, flew in from Wold-Chamberlain Field last Thursday on an inspection trip of the Thief River Falls squadron of Civil Air Patrol.

An informal meeting was held at squadron headquarters in the arena building. Present were Captain C. W. Pope, commanding officer; Adjutant Herb Jung, Communications Officers Henry Bothman and Ted Mills; Supply Officer Willis Johnson and the wing officers.

The visit and inspection was in connection with checking and making recommendations to the local squadron in regard to radio transmission equipement installed here in the quarters of the squadron.

Colonel Fortney indicated that the wing is anxious to get this area covered by two-way radio and have it a functioning part of the state-wide Civil Air Patrol network which is now operating on two or more frequencies on a regular schedule. Some new equipment will be installed here to make this possible.

Major Dauphin, who heads the radio network, is a former citizen of Munich, Germany. He was a flying officer in the German Air Corps during World War I. He later came to America, became a citizen, joined the United States Air Corps and has served continuously since, having specialized in radio communication.

Rusted & Lodged Small Grain Held Good for Silage

Farmers looking for ways to salvage the feed value from rusted or lodged oats can profitably put them up as oat silage. It needs no preservative and makes almost as valuable feed, pound for pound, as corn silage.

This tip came today from Rodney A. Briggs, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota. He reports crown rust and Race 7 of stem rust are damaging small grains in most areas of the state.

Briggs advises cutting rusted or lodged oats while they are still in the "milk stage" and while stems and leaves are still green.

Badly lodged grain will be hard to combine or harvest and by removing it as grass silage, a farmer can not only save some feed value, but—if it's underseeded with legumes—he can give the legumes a better chance of survival.

'55 License Plates Will Be Different

Letters Will Indicate District Car Hails from

The first 1½ million sets of 1955 Minnesota license plates have been turned out at St. Cloud reformatory, Mrs. Mike Holm, secretary of state, said Friday.

Passenger car plates have gold letters on a maroon background—University of Minnesota colors—and are uniform in size and number of characters.

All plates, 6 by 12 inches, carry two letters and four numerals in a system of lettering being tried for the first time.

Each of Minnesota's nine congressional districts is assigned a first letter prefix.

Deputy registrars in the first district—the Rochester, Austin, Albert Lea and Winona area—will sell plates starting with the letter "A."

The second letter in each district will be "A" for the first series-of-plates sold, which will be number 1,000 through 9,999. For the second series of numbers 1,000 through 9,999, the letter will be "B", etc.

The letter "K" has been assigned to the Ninth district, which includes Pennington and other Northwest counties.

Rep. Harold Hagen to Seek 7th Term

Files Today as Aspirant for Congressional Post

Seeking his seventh term in Congress, U. S. Representative Harold C. Hagen of Crookston filed for reelection today. His filing papers were mailed from Washington, D. C. to the office of the Minnesota secretary of state at St. Paul.

Hagen is now vice-chairman of the House postoffice and civil service committee, and chairman of the special standing subcommittee on civil service and other committees. He stated he will return to his home in Crookston as soon as Congress adjourns to start his campaign for re-election.

In a filing statement, Representative Hagen stated that among the main problems yet to be solved are those of world peace, a stable and prosperous agriculture, full employment, improved social conditions, more economy in our government operations and reduced taxes. He said there were also many other problems but these were the major ones needing consideration.

$30,000 Fire Hits Alvarado Village

Potato Warehouse Burns When Hit by Lightning

Fire, apparently caused by a bolt of lightning, completely destroyed the large quonset type potato warehouse of the Alvarado Potato Co. at Alvarado during the electrical storm early Tuesday morning of last week.

The loss to building and contents is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $30,000. The structure is owned by Lee Selnes and M. C. Baggats of East Grand Forks. The 40 by 100 foot frame constructed quonset contained modern potato washing and sorting machinery, as well as a quantity of farm machinery which had been stored. Firefighters managed to drag out a jeep which was located near the west end doors.

Warren's fire department was called to help fight the blaze shortly before five o'clock, but upon arrival the structure was in full blaze.

Mr. Selnes said they plan to rebuild during the summer to have storage ready for the new crop. The house contained a washing and grading plant which will be needed this fall, the owners said.

V. Bjornson Guest at RLF on July 19

Val Bjornson, state treasurer, who it is conceded will be the Republican nominee for United States senator against Hubert H. Humphrey, D-F-L incumbent, will be the guest of honor at a dinner sponsored by Red Lake county boosters at the Community hall in Red Lake Falls Monday evening, July 19. The dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock.

Wheat Referendum Scheduled July 23d

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has set July 23 as the date for a national referendum among growers on marketing quotas for the 1955 wheat crop, Oscar J. Houske, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, reminded farmers today. At least two-thirds of the growers voting must approve quotas before they may be put into effect.

"Under present supply conditions," the chairman stated, "Secretary Benson had no choice but to proclaim wheat quotas and call for a vote. Legislation directs the secretary to proclaim wheat quotas whenever the supply exceeds 20 percent of 'normal.' The 'normal supply,' as calculated under provisions of the controlling legislation, is a year's domestic and export requirements plus 15 percent as a reserve. Actually, the available supply for 1954-55 is about 78 percent above normal."

If quotas are approved, Mr. Houske explained, producers who comply with their farm wheat acreage allotments may market all the wheat they produce in any way they choose. They will also be eligible for the full level of price support which is authorized for the 1955 crop, apparently somewhere from 80 to 75 percent of parity.

Producers who are subject to the marketing quotas—those with more than 15 acres of wheat—will lose their price support eligibility if they do not comply with their acreage allotments. They will also be subject to a marketing quota penalty on their excess wheat.

If quotas are disapproved, there will be no marketing quotas and no marketing penalties. Price supports would be at 50 percent of parity for those who comply with their acreage allotments—which will continue in effect even if quotas should be voted down.

Eligibility for price support, with or without marketing quotas, will also require compliance with all crop allotments established for a farm in 1955.

In addition, a "total acreage allotment" will be established for all farms where more than 10 acres are diverted from production of allotment crops. A producer will have to comply with the total acreage allotment if one is established for his farm, as well as with all individual crop allotments, in order to be eligible for price support on any crop.

These cross-compliance provisions are designed to assure more balanced production, without shifting surplus problems from one crop to another.

Some have asked, "Who is eligible to vote?" The answer is, any farmer who would be subject to the quotas. Farms will be subject to the quotas if the wheat to be harvested for grain in 1955 is more than 15 acres.

"If quotas are in effect, what will be the penalty for failure to comply with acreage allotments?" The penalty on excess wheat will be at the rate of 45 percent of the May 1, 1955, parity price.

Another frequently asked question is, "How does the referendum affect 1955 price supports?" The answer is: If two-thirds or more of the farmers who vote favor quotas, the full level of price support which is authorized for the 1955 crop—apparently somewhere from 90 to 75 percent of parity—will be available for those who comply with their wheat and other acreage allotments.

If less than two-thirds favor quotas, price support will be at 50 percent of parity for those who comply with their acreage allotments. No price support is available for those who fail to comply with acreage allotments, with or without the marketing quotas.

Farmers in doubt about their eligibility to vote in the referendum, or any program question, should see their county ASC office.

Bagley Man Killed in Mentor Crash

Floyd Chumley, 52, Dies in Collision on T. H. 2

Floyd Chumley, 52, of Bagley, was fatally injured Tuesday afternoon of last week in a head-on auto-truck crash near Mentor.

The car driven by Chumley collided with a truck driven by Alfred H. Johnstad, 38, of Crookston, about one-half mile east of Mentor on U. S. Highway 2.

The accident raised Minnesota's 1954 traffic death total to 291, compared with 270 at the same time last year.

Authorities said Chumley, who was alone in the car was traveling east and the truck west when the accident occurred.

A wrecker had to be called from Mentor to extricate Chumley from the wreckage of his car. He died shortly afterward. Johnstad was shaken up but not seriously hurt. His 16-year-old son riding with him in the truck was uninjured.

BUDDIES

It was Jackie who hit that home run this afternoon, but Butch is just as proud as if he'd been the one out there swinging. That's the way these boys are. They share their experiences, both the good and the bad . . . for they are buddies.

Another thing they share is going to Church school regularly. Here they learn about another kind of friendship, the warm, all-encompassing friendship of Christian love.

It may be that in the years ahead the paths of these two buddies will take different directions.

No doubt they will have different vocations, and perhaps live in different parts of the world. But wherever they may be, we can be sure that each of them will have the Church as their guide and inspiration . . . forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and we boldly show our price here to prove it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But—dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power—Buick V8 power—plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity—more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness—including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the times, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-looking beauty will stay in the style parade for seasons to come. (That means a better deal for you come resale time.)

Is it any wonder, then, that Buick now outsells all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in for a demonstration—this week, for sure. And learn, in the doing, what a big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you.

And get this—That's the local delivered price of the New Buick Special V8

2-DOOR, 6-PASSENGER SEDAN Model 48D (Illus.)

*Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice. HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and we boldly show our price here to prove it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But—dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power—Buick V8 power—plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity—more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness—including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the times, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-looking beauty will stay in the style parade for seasons to come. (That means a better deal for you come resale time.)

2-DOOR, 6-PASSENGER SEDAN Model 48D (illus.)

*Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as, heater & defroster . . . only $31.70.

Is it any wonder, then, that Buick now outsells all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in for a demonstration—this week, for sure. And learn, in the doing, what a big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you.

A "NOTABLE" PENCIL

A Minnesota newspaper man cherishes a pencil which may have been used by more prominent men than any other pencil in history. An autograph hunter found a head-table galaxy of notables at a Washington dinner totally devoid of writing implements. The newspaper man supplied the pencil with which the book was incribed by Ed M. Anderson of North Carolina, President of the National Editorial Association, Alan C. McIntosh of Minnesota, immediate past president; Reverend Bernard Braskamp, chaplain of the House of Representatives; Hon. Edw. J. Thye, Minnesota's senior senator; Douglas McKay, secretary of the interior; Arthur E. Summerfield, postmaster general; Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States; Vice President Nixon, and President Eisenhower. All on one pencil.

Council Gets Appraisals of Parking Lots

Action Is Deferred on Acquisition of 9 Lots; Value Placed at $35,450

The report of the commission recently appointed to appraise the value of nine lots on LaBree Ave. at First st. sought by the city for parking lot purposes was read at a meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, following which action to proceed with the acquisition of the property was deferred to the next meeting.

A value of $35,450 was placed on the lots, allocated among four owners, as follows: C. W. Vorachek, two lots on the east side of LaBree at First st., $8,000; Dr. W. P. Kaisler, two lots north of Vorachek's, $7,700; Mission Covenant church, three lots on the west side of LaBree Ave. and north of First st., $11,850; and the Larson Co., owner of two lots adjoining the church lots, $7,700.

In connection with financing the purchase of the lots, the council indicated it was considering the issuance of more permanent improvement bonds, which would also supply funds for street lights, baseball field lights and extensive sewer and water main improvements.

A hearing was conducted on a petition for sewer and water mains on Merriam Ave. S. from Hughes st. to Nora st., and, no objections appearing, plans and specifications were ordered prepared preliminary to calling for bids.

A preliminary report was submitted on the proposed installation of curb and gutter on Merriam Ave. from Third st. to Taft st., estimating the cost at $6,625. A hearing on the matter was set for the regular August meeting.

A petition requested bituminous treatment of the alley between Kneale and Maple avs. from Third to Taft st. The petition was laid over for further study.

A delegation was present at the session to renew its protest against the recent action of the council in granting a 3.2 beer license at 717 Atlantic av. Members of the council stood firm

Val Bjornson Is Visitor Tuesday

Tells of State's Efforts To Combat Army Worms

State Treasurer Val Bjornson's visit to this section of the state the first of the week turned into an on-the-scene observation of army worm damage to crops instead of a senatorial campaign tour.

The Republican contender for the U. S. Senate visited the East Polk county fair at Fosston Monday, speaking both in Red Lake Falls and Plummer that evening. He spent Tuesday forenoon in Thief River Falls before going to Marshall and Kittson counties for a series of appearances. He spoke at the Roseau county fair this afternoon.

"At Red Lake Falls and Plummer," Bjornson told backers here at a breakfast meeting Tuesday, "I was able to report latest developments as to the state administration's action in combatting the army worm scourge. I have been in touch by telephone with Governor Anderson and with other members of the state's executive council during my tour of this section, and there is satisfaction in knowing that both state and national administrations are wroking closely together in such steps as can be taken to meet the worm infestation problem."

Prompt use of National Guard and Army planes in flying insecticide from distant points to distribution centers in this section was possible, Bjornson said, under Governor Anderson's declaration of a state of emergency, made on Sunday. Acting under Public Law 875 in response to a telegram from the governor, President Eisenhower on Monday instituted steps to determine the exact extent of the disaster area, with special credit facilities expected to help farmers in financing individual spraying operations.

Four Polling Places Selected for Wheat Referendum Friday

On Friday, July 23, at four different polling places, wheat growers of Pennington county will vote for or against marketing quotas for the 1955 crop.

The referendum, according to Oscar J. Houske of the Pennington county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, will determine whether or not the quota program now in effect will continue for next year's crop.

Two-thirds of those who vote must approve quotas before they can be put into operation. The current program, which was voted on a year ago, was approved by 87 percent of the voters—390,221 to 57,536.

Chairman Houske urges every eligible wheat grower in Pennington county to vote. A producer is eligible to vote if he will have more than 15 acres of wheat on his farm for harvest in 1955. In other words, he can vote if he would be affected directly by quotas, which apply only to farm with more than 15 acres of wheat.

If quotas are approved, there will be marketing penalties on any "excess" wheat—produced outside the acreage allotment—and the full level of price support authorized for 1955 will be available for those who comply with their allotments. If quotas are not approved, there will be no quotas or marketing penalties, and the price support for those who stay within their allotments will be at 50 percent of parity.

Farm allotment notices, as well as an explanatory leaflet giving the essential facts of the 1955 program, were sent out on July 12 to Pennington County wheat growers on record.

The following voting places in the county will be open from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. on Friday, July 23:

Eagles Hall, Thief River Falls.
Jackson Hall, St. Hilaire.
Highlanding Community Hall, Highlanding.
City View School on Highway No. 1.

Annual Meeting of Polio Chapter Set for Tuesday

Local Citizens Invited to Attend Session in Rex Cafe at 8 o'clock

The annual meeting of the Pennington county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be conducted in the Rex Cafe next Tuesday evening, July 27, at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by M. C. Gulbranson, chairman.

He added that annual reports will be submitted and a slate of officers will be elected following a report by the nominating committee. He invited the attendance of all local supporters of the work of the national foundation and the Pennington county chapter.

Gulbranson stated that no new cases of polio have been reported in this county to date in 1954.

At the same time, Larry H. Rieder, Northern Minnesota representative of the national foundation, announced that officers of polio chapters in nine Northwest counties have been invited to attend a dinner meeting in the Rex Cafe this evening (Wednesday) at 6:30.

Purpose of the session, he said, is to develop plans for the emergency polio campaign to be held from August 16 to 31 to raise an additional $20,000,000 needed to finance the work of the national foundation for the remainder of the year.

Attendance at County Fair Is Down Slightly

Earlier Dates Are Held Partly Responsible; Cattle Winners Listed

Altho attendance at the Pennington county fair last week was below that of the 1953 fair, receipts on Tuesday, the biggest day, were the largest in recent years, J. M. Roche, secretary, reported. He added that he believed the fair would end up on the right side financially when all expenses are paid.

Due to the earlier dates of the fair this year, and to the busy haying season, exhibits of agricultural products and livestock were less numerous than usual, altho there were some excellent exhibits in the women's departments and from the local schools.

Prize-winning exhibits in the cattle department were announced by Secretary Roche as follows:

Shortage of Chemicals Slows Campaign Against Army Worms

Airplanes Spray Large Area Tuesday; Extent of Infestation Uncertain

Northwestern Minnesota is being invaded by vast hordes of army worms. There were scattered reports of their appearance last week. On Sunday there were fears that some damage might be suffered. By Monday there was a realization that the condition was critical; that the infestation was general and that drastic action was needed to check the crawling plague that already was destroying crops.

The area was not prepared to fight a pest war of such magnitude. Planes for spraying were busy elsewhere and stocks of chemicals were limited. One Minnesota National Guard plane delivered a load picked up in Iowa Monday afternoon. A few other scattered shipments were received, but the first delivery of any size was a truckload from Omaha received by Roy Barzen Tuesday morning.

Planes that had been grounded during most of a too-windy Monday were able to spray a large acreage Tuesday. At four o'clock this morning they started again. Chemicals were still short however. A second army plane load Tuesday afternoon provided slight relief but other promised plane shipments failed to appear.

As chemicals were made available, some farmers were resorting to their own field sprayers in efforts to check the worms in heavily infested fields. For most of the farmers, however, the chemicals even in limited amounts were not available. For them there was nothing to but wait—and hope. And as expected shipments of supplies failed to appear it was not easy to remain hopeful.

The situation brightened considerably this morning. Land O'Lakes and Consumers each received loads by plane before 7:00 o'clock and three and possibly four more plane shipments were expected by this afternoon. Roy Barzen reports that two truck loads coming in from Omaha should be in by 4:00 o'clock and that should relieve the emergency substantially.

The condition in the southern portion of the Red River Valley was reported to be very much improved but the extent of the infestation in the northern counties is still uncertain. Reports today indicated that the area of infestation in these northern counties is still increasing. Until more information becomes available the extent of the damages cannot be estimated.

Maternity Service Halted Temporarily at Local Hospital

An outbreak of a severe generalized infection in new born infants at Northwestern Hospital has resulted in temporarily closing of the maternity service, it was announced Friday by Norman Peterson, secretary of the hospital board.

Measures put in force immediately after the outbreak have have apparently prevented spread to other hospital babies, and no new cases have developed after the original outbreak. The closing of the maternity service and the barring of visitors to mothers now at the hospital is an additional precaution to the many already in effect.

The board's statement adds, "The illness is a type that is deadly only to infants in their first month of life and there need be no fear of a community epidemic of any severe nature.

"The illness was most likely carried into the hospital by an unhealthy adult visiting on the maternity floor.

"The emergency precautions now in effect will continue until the maternity patients and babies now at the hospital have been discharged and the entire floor, bedding, supplies and facilities have been cleaned of any possible infection.

It is expected that the maternity floor will be completely cleansed by Friday of this week and its regular use will be resumed at that time. The State Department of Health has authorized its reopening following completion of cleansing and sterilization now in process.

"Arrangements have been made with the hospitals at Warren and Red Lake Falls to take care of any new maternity cases prior to reopening on Friday.

"Experts from the State Department of Health have been at the hospital during the past two days to review the matter with hospital authorities and the medical staff, and they have commended the hospital personnel and the members of the medical staff for their action taken and measures instituted to prevent any possible spread of the generalized infection in the new born infants."

Performers at Pennington Fair Entertain Lions

Sig Quam, vice president of the Lions club, conducted the luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe in the absence of President M. D. Starekow.

Stuart McLeod, member of the fair board, introduced Carl Marlo of Marlo Productions, which appeared at the fair last week, together with Frank Sully, master of ceremonies, who told stories and played the piano, and a girls' quartet which sang several selections.

Carl Marlo stated that members of his troupe made good use of the facilities of the Tindolph park pool during their stay in the city.

No More Filings Here During Week

No additional filings for county office were received during the past week in the office of County Auditor C. W. Rouskuhr. With Monday, July 26, the last day for aspirants to enter their names, it now appears that, barring a last-minute rush, there will be no primary election contests for county offices.

San Merger to Be Discussed July 26

Further discussion of the projected merger of Oakland Park sanatorium in Thief River Falls with Sunnyrest sanatorium at Crookston will take place at a second meeting of the boards of the two institutions to be held next Monday evening, July 26, at the local sanatorium.

Says City Should Assume Ownership of Water Meters

Robert Bell, Chairman of Water & Light Committee of Council, Proposes Plan

The city council of Thief River Falls is proposing adoption of a system whereby the city would install and own the water meters, Robert Bell, chairman of the water and light committee, stated today.

In the past these have been charged to the property owner and have been his property. He has been required to pay costs of repairs whenever needed.

"The existing system," said Bell, "is not a good one—a point freely acknowledged. It is realized the city should own its own 'cash registers' and that, in effect, are what the meters represent.

"The change in the system cannot be negotiated without some seeming inequities. The man who recently purchased a meter may feel that he is being wronged.

"But it is difficult to figure out a way of accomplishing something that is generally felt to be desirable without some such difficulties. It would be impossible, for example, to provide refunds for a few without spreading them over the entire system. This would involve an expensive and tedious task and the amount in each case would be small.

"For the future, the change suggests a better and more logical plan. There would be less annoyance to water consumers and the department would be free to replace meters whenever such action seemed desirable. And there would not be these occasional bills for repairs."

Wheat Allotments Not Affected by Voting on July 23

Oscar Houske, Chairman Pennington County ASC, Clarifies Regulations

"There still seems to be a good deal of misunderstanding among farmers regarding the effect of the coming July 23 wheat quota referendum on acreage allotments," Chairman Oscar J. Houske of the Pennington agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, said today.

"Whether quotas are approved or not, the wheat allotment proclaimed by the secretary of agriculture will be in effect for the 1955 crop. The controlling legislation requires the establishment of wheat acreage allotments every year, unless they are suspended because of emergency conditions.

"Allotments are the basis of quota administration when quotas are in effect, but when there are no quotas the allotments are still in operation.

"Producers must comply with acreage allotments in order to be eligible for price supports—with or without quotas. If quotas are not in operation, there is of course no 'marketing penalty' involved in exceeding acreage allotments—the only penalty is the loss of price support eligibility.

"The vote on the 23rd will decide the marketing quotas for 1955. This is a vitally important decision for wheat farmers. It will affect their operations, the degree of production controls, and the level of price support which is available. But the vote on quotas will have no direct effect on acreage allotments."

Council Receives Appraiser Report on Parking Lots

on their action, but indicated they would take steps to revise the beer ordinance to give advance notice of its intention to act on the issuance of beer licenses.

Following reports by a council committee and Dr. Dan Greene, city health officer, on a recent inspection of the Hendrickson ice house on Crocker av. S., the council adopted a resolution ordering the owner to raze the dilapidated south portion of the structure before November 1. The action was taken in response to a petition recently submitted, calling on the council to act in the matter.

Building permits approved Tuesday night covered the erection of seven new residences, the builders including Iver Nelson and Sons (two), Claude Davidson, Milton Reierson, Chas. C Faunce, John L. Peterson and James Fielder. Roy Shelter also was granted a permit to erect a feed warehouse on the Soo Line right-of-way.

The Thief River Grain Co. asked for a permit to build a grain storage warehouse on the Great Northern right-of-way west of Kinney av. and north of Second st. When the council pointed out that the property is zoned as residential, Great Northern agent Randy Holmgren requested that it be re-zoned as industrial. A proposed ordinance was given its first reading, classifying as industrial the area west of Kinney av. to the tracks and extending from First to Fourth sts.

Mayor Agnes Israelson submitted a request from the police department for a new police car and three new uniforms and other equipment. After discussing the matter, the council voted to call for bids on a new car, turning in the present police car on the deal. It also authorized the purchase of three uniforms and eight lockers, and gave instructions for the police not to wear their uniforms when off duty.

A letter from Mrs. Cora Lein, 102 Main av. N., was read, in which she objected to trucks being parked continuously along the Fourth st. side of her property. The council indicated it would try to remedy the situation.

The council voted to withdraw its application filed some time ago for an audit of the city's financial records for the past four years by the state public examiner's office. It then proceeded to engage the services of Homer Matheson, certified public accountant of Grand Forks, N. D., to make the audit. Matheson is a former Thief River Falls resident and the son of Mrs. Martha Matheson.

NEWFOLDEN . .

New gas pumps have been installed at Gilbert Bakkes Cities Service Station and they really are a great improvement, making the station look larger, and affording better visibility all around.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doran and children called at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Berton Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. John Ness of rural Thief River Falls on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller, Tom, Roger and Kathryn of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Blinsmon visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Doran on Thursday evening.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Doran and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Doran of Greenbush.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doran and family returned home on Wednesday morning, after visiting relatives during their two week vacation. They spent about five hours in Chicago on Friday. Scenery along the way was very beautiful, but the Blue Ridge Mts. were outstanding, in their estimation. Trees and shrubs were gorgeous, too. Temperatures were rather uncomfortable, though, ranging from 98 to 104 degrees, which is sort of warmish. They spent five days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eckard (Rosella Doran) and did a lot of sightseeing. Enroute home they spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A J Haywood (Delma Doran) at Hammond, Indiana. There they enjoyed a cold dip on Lake Michigan and saw Inland Steel and the huge Standard Oil and other refineries. They were fascinated by the tall buildings and museums of Chicago, but weren't too fond of the traffic. They spent an enjoyable day at the Clarence Doran home and called briefly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Eskierka (Marcella Doran) before taking the flier for home. Even though they enjoyed evening minute of their vacation, they are happy to be back home with old friends again and enjoy cooler weather.

Mrs Mae Leidgen left for Saginaw, Michigan, after a three week vacation with relatives and friends in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hanson visited their son and daughter in law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hanson at Brainerd. Mrs. Mae Leidgen accompanied them to Walker, where she spent the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnette and Faye Marie spent a couple of days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hanson.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

Maneuverings within the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party continued to dominate the state political front this week, with talk now turning to the possibility of a top-to-bottom ticket of "opposition" candidates to the Party's endorsed slate.

Hottest item in the flood of rumors concerning the impending DFL primary scrap was the report that Harry H. Peterson, former supreme court justice and the Party's nominee for Governor in 1950, was being urged to join the "opposition" group as a candidate against United States Senator Hubert H. Humphrey.

The "opposition" slate would be headed by Paul A. Rasmussen, DFL railroad and warehouse commission, who will contest the nomination of Orville L. Freeman, the Party's endorsed candidate for Governor.

'Dissidents' vs. 'Regulars'

The DFL primary fight is certain to be billed as a struggle between the "dissidents," who oppose the majority group within the Party and who label this group as the "palace guard," and the "regulars," who have rather firmly managed DFL affairs since 1948.

The "regulars" are, in the main, associated with Senator Humphrey, and they have an overwhelming margin of control on the state executive and central committees and in the county organizations. The "dissidents" do not have a central rallying point, although the promoters of the slate are hopeful that success in the primary could establish new leadership for the Party.

From time to time there have been outcroppings of dissension in some DFL quarters, but the leadership has never regarded them as very serious, viewing them as having no firmer ground than the scattered ambitions of some disappointed officeseekers.

Slate Taking Shape

In any event, the "opposition" slate was taking shape this week. Former State Representative Leonard Johnson, of Minneapolis, filed for Lieutenant-Governor against the endorsed candidate, former State DFL Chairman Karl F. Rolvaag.

The "opposition" group has one incumbent, Clifford C. Peterson, of Minneapolis, who will fight it out with former Governor Hjalmer Peterson, of Askov, for the Party's nomination for the railroad and warehouse commission, in what promises to be one of the liveliest encounters in the September primary.

Also in the camp of the "opposition" group is Koscie Marsh, of St. Paul, whose endorsement for the secretary of state nomination was withdrawn after he had begun urging the legalizing of pari-mutuel betting and horse-racing. Regulars this week were still attempting to persuade the Party's National Committeeman, Byron G. Allen, of Detroit Lakes, to make the race against Marsh.

Helpful or Harmful to DFL?

DFL "regulars" are divided in their opinions as to whether an all-out primary scrap will help or harm the Party's chances in the November general election. Some feel it will be a definite advantage because it will focus public interest on the candidates over a much longer period than ordinarily, thus permitting the building up of the nominees.

Others are fearful that a bitter family fight might result in charges and counter-charges that will tear the Party apart, with the result that no matter who the nominees are their strength will have been drained for the general election.

Factional Issue Not Clear

To the outsider the emergence of an "opposition" slate must be somewhat baffling. There is no clear-cut factional issue that separates the two elements such as a liberal-conservative skirmish or such as a left wing-right wing struggle within the old Farmer-Labor Party.

The nearest one comes to defining an issue is to accept the claim of some of the "opposition" group that a "small and ruthless clique" has been running the affairs of the DFL and that they, the "oppositionists" are set on opposing what they call "undemocratic" leadership.

Actually, the charge — often aired within official Party meetings — has never held up, and the "regulars" are convinced that the opposition has little or nothing to do with the quality of leadership but is based on the efforts of several disappointed aspirants for Party and public position.

GOP Has Troubles, Too

All is not serene and harmonious within Republican ranks either. The GOP does not vote official endorsements for the primary, and thus avoids what would otherwise be a smaller kind of difficulty. But the official organization often does give an indirect and unofficial blessing to candidates, which they have done in the case of State Treasurer, Val Bjornson's candidacy for the U. S. Senate and which they appear to have done for State Representative P. Kenneth Peterson in his race for the Lieutenant-Governorship nomination. There was talk, though that Peterson will be opposed by A. Herbert Nelson of Minneapolis, former state insurance commissioner. And other primary fights were also shaping, promising one of the liveliest elections in recent years. Filings for office close next Monday.

Care Of Dacron And Orlon

Since some of you have already aquired clothing made of Dacron and Orlon, here are some basic tips on care of these new fibers from extension clothing specialists at the University of Minnesota.

Not everything made of Dacron and Orlon is washable. For example, a man's suit of Dacron may have linings and shoulder pads that aren't washable. Blended fabrics may not be washable, either. However, a simple rule you can follow is to handle the garment as though it were made of the more sensitive fiber.

If the manufacturer supples instructions on care, they should be followed, since special features may dictate care. If no directions are given, these suggestions may be helpful:

Wash in warm water, by hand or machine, using a soap or synthetic detergent. If the fabrics are delicate, or if seams and trims are not well constructed, wash by hand. Rinse thoroughly, using warm water for the first rinse.

To keep ironing at a minimum, "drip-dry" by hanging the garment soaking wet on a hanger. If seams, hems and collar edges are then smoothed out, ironing may not be necessary. If some touching up is needed, use the lowest setting on the iron. Iron either damp or dry.

Put Houseplants Outside

Solve the problem of caring for houseplants during summer vacation by planting them outdoors.

Most houseplants can be set outdoors with their pots plunged into the ground up to the rim, according to Richard Widmer, University of Minnesota floriculturist. However tropical plants requiring 60 degrees F or more at night—such as the tenderfoliage plants—are best kept indoors. African violets should also be kept inside. Gloxinia does best on a porch.

Foliage plants usually do best on the north side of the house, but flowering plants require some sunshine. Geranium and coleus thrive in full sun but most other flowering plants prefer partial shade. All plants should be in protected locations, away from strong winds.

If possible, set the pots on a base of sand, clinkers or gravel to insure good drainage, Widmer advises. Plunge the pots into the ground up to the rim. Once a month lift the pots to discourage rooting through the drainage hole.

Old fellows should be removed regularly and plants kept free of insects.

Houseplants can be kept outdoors until just before frost. They should be repotted in fresh soil before they are brought inside. In late summer, cuttings can be made of fast-growing plants which are easy to propagate such as geranium, coleus and fuchsia.

Locals Score 12 Runs but Lose to Pirates

Sunday's ball game at the Fair Grounds diamond, between the Crookston Pirates and the Thieves was a hectic affair, with twenty-nine runs being scored, thirty-two hits being pounded out, and seventeen errors being committed as the Pirates defeated the Thieves, 17 to 12.

This week's Thieves' schedule will find the locals traveling to Halstad on Saturday night for an exhibition game against the highly-rated Halstad Pirates; on Sunday, July 25th, the Alvarado Farmers will play the Thieves on the Fair Grounds diamond, and according to present plans, this will be a night game; and on Wednesday night, July 28th, the lights at the Fair Grounds will be officially dedicated when the Thieves meet the Halstad Pirates in a return game.

Bun Holtz' Crookston Pirates, scoring a pair of runs in the 1st inning, six runs in the 2nd, and two more runs in the 3rd, piled up a 10 to 4 lead after three innings of play, and the Thieves, although they came up with four runs in the 4th frame to narrow the Pirates lead to two runs, were never able to overtake the Pirates.

Crookston's seventeen-hit attack, on the Thieves' right-handers Gene Leslie, Swede Lund, and Sid Vraa, was paced by the five-for-five by Loren Hegland, and the five hits in six tries by John Kraft.

The Thieves raked the right-hander offerings of Crookston's father-and-son combination for fifteen hits, getting seven hits off Dwayne Peltier, the starter, and who is the son of Vern Peltier, who gave up eight hits in 5 2/3 innings.

Jack Hoppe proved to be the game's long-distance hitting star, with the southpaw swinger connecting for a pair of doubles and a right-field home run. Sid Vraa, who pitched creditable ball when he replaced Swede Lund in the 4th inning, wielded a sturdy bat at the plate, too, driving out a pair of doubles and a single in five at bats.

Legion Junior Ball Club Advances to the Subdistrict

Coach Ralph Skjod's Boys Defeat East Grand Forks in Opening Round

Coach Ralph Skjod's local Legion junior baseball team, by defeating East Grand Forks, 4 to 0; and coach Linton Lehrer's Crookston team, by scoring a 3 to 1 win over Alvarado, in sub district games at Alvarado on Sunday gained berths in the sub-district American Legion junior baseball tournament that will be played at Argyle on Saturday and Sunday.

In first round game played at Alvarado on Saturday, Alvarado defeated Argyle, Crookston upset Stephen, and East Grand Forks defeated Oslo. Thief River Falls received a forfeit win over Warren.

Today, Wednesday, the local juniors are playing an exhibition game against the Bemidji juniors at Bemidji.

Sunday's game against East Grand Forks was featured by the fine pitching of the local club's Jack Poole. The young right-hander doled out but two hits, a double by Holt in the 2nd inning and a single by Stauss in the 5th inning, and collected ten strikeouts in the seven-inning tilt.

The locals "won" the game in the 1st inning when they marked up two runs. Rod Collins led off with a single; Poole grounded out, third to first; Glenn Carlson singled; and then Larry Jorgenson doubled in the two runs.

In the 5th inning, a walk to Carlson, a fielder's choice, and singles by Duane Glass and Fred Dablow plated another run. And coach Skjod's squad added their final tally in the 6th frame when three bases on balls and an error sent a run across the plate.

The line score:

Thief River Falls	200	011	0	4	7	3
E. Grand Forks	000	000	0	0	2	1

Teams from Neighboring Towns to Compete Here

There will be a two-day trap shoot conducted by the Thief River Falls Gun and Trap club on Saturday and Sunday, July 24 and 25, at the club's attractive lay out north of town.

Various other shoots have been arranged such as a merchandise shoot, a chicken shoot, and a doubles event.

For all events, and for practice rounds, shells and targets will be provided by the Club at a charge of 25 for $3.00. The events will be shot concurrently on Saturday and Sunday as the squads are organized.

It is expected that several of Winnipeg's top-flight trap shooters will be in attendance (last year, Al Smith, one of Manitoba's best, was on hand) as well as a contingent of shooters from northeastern North Dakota.

The Grand Opening

Preparations are being made to accomodate one of the largest crowds to witness a baseball game here when, on Wednesday night, July 28th, the Halstad Pirates meet the Thieves in an exhibition that will feature the dedication of the lights on the Fair Grounds diamond. Club officials believe that, with favorable weather, more than a thousand fans will be on hand for the ceremonies and for the game.

In securing the Halstad Pirates for the game next Wednesday night, the local management made a ten-strike, for the Pirates are rated as one of the best teams in northwestern Minnesota. Halstad won the baseball tournament held at Warroad on July 4th and 5th, and the club currently is tied for first place in the fast Norman-Polk circuit.

There will be a number of familiar faces in the lineup of the Halstad team when they appear here. Who can forget such fellows as Jim Akason, Darryl Hesby, Morry Holm, Dale Serum, and Marlyn Aanenson, for those boys were members of that never-to-be-forgotten Halstad Pirates high school basketball team that defeated the Prowlers, 54 to 53, in the regional finals here in 1952. That team went into the state tournament and won third place.

Later in the year, Akason, Hesby, Holm, Serum, and Anenson were factors in giving the Halstad Pirates the state high school baseball title, with Holm pitching and winning three tournament games. These are the boys that are the bulwarks of the Halstad team that will cross bats with the Thieves next Wednesday night.

Blue Bombers Begin Practice

The Winnipeg Blue Bombers, of the Western Canada football league, began official practice this week, and among the sixty or so candidates that reported to coach Al Sherman were such former Minnesota Gopher stars as Billy Bye, Mel Holme, Dave Skrein, Bud Grant, and Steve Canakes. Ralph McAllister is also expected to play with the Bombers again this year, but to date Ralph has not signed a contract.

Bye is a halfback candidate, Holme and Skrein are fullback, Grant an end, and Canakes a tackle. Holme and Canakes, members of last year's Minnesota team, are making their debut in Canadian football this fall, but Bye, Grant, and Skrein were at Winnipeg last year.

One of this year's Winnipeg imports, of whom much is expected, is Even Slonac, who was a standout halfback for Michigan State the past three years.

It's worth a mention to add that Indian Jack Jacobs, the former Oklahoma U football star, and who has been playing a stellar role at quarterback for the Blue Bombers the past several seasons, won the Manitoba amateur golf championship on Saturday afternoon, scoring a 5 and 4 win in the finals.

Dead Bird; Lost.

On the trap shooting grounds north of town on Saturday and Sunday, there will be much noise and smoke as they boys began firing at the clay targets being flipped out of the two traps. Dead bird, or lost, will be the terms that will be in vogue, and they'll indicate whether the shooter made a hit or a miss.

Considerable interest has been expressed about the competition on Sunday afternoon for the Northwestern Minnesota Conservation Club trophy. The Crookston club has held a monopoly on that trophy for the past few years, but the local club expects to make a serious bid for the title this year.

Well Done, Juniors

Coach Ralph Skjod's Legion junior baseball team will enter the sub-district tournament at Argyle on Saturday and Sunday, and the locals have a fine chance of winning. The local juniors, behind the pitching of big Jack Poole, defeated East Grand Forks, 4 to 0, to gain the sub-district tourney.

It is hoped that Sid Vraa will make himself available for the games at Argyle on Saturday and Sunday, for the juniors need all the assistance they can muster. Sid wasn't with the team at Alvarado Sunday, but the boys surely will need him this week. Sid has an obligation to the junior baseball team, and just his presence on the bench gives a big boost to the players' morale.

Sid is a valued member of the Thieves' baseball organization, too, but, after all, the junior baseball program, from a recreational standpoint, is more important than the city's senior baseball set-up.

NEW STATE PARK

Minnesota has a new State Park, known variously as Manitou, George H. Crosby, or George H. Crosby Manitou State Park. Mr. Crosby, 89-year-old Duluth mining pioneer and civic leader, deeded to the state 3,320 acres in the lower Manitou valley along Minnesota's scenic north shore, part of it bordering on Benson Lake. A native of Hastings, Mr. Crosby has lived in Duluth since 1885; he discovered the Nashwauk ore field, founded the town of Crosby, and was for several years president of the Minnesota Arrowhead Association.

Visitation Day at the field crops variety trials at Roseau, Minnesota, will be held on Friday, July 23; the program will begin at 1:30 p. m. at the Magnusson farm, one mile north of the Roseau Fair Grounds.

The Northwest School and Experiment Station, Crookston, is cooperating with the department of agronomy of the University of Minnesota and farmers of Roseau and Lake of the Woods counties in conducting grain variety trials this year.

O. C. Soine, agronomist at the Northwest Experiment Station, is in charge of the Roseau crop trials, and he is being assisted by Richard Radway, county agricultural agent for Roseau county. Members of staff from the department of agronomy, plant pathology, soils and entomology of the Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, will assist with the lecture-demonstrations at the Roseau plots.

Grafton to Note Potato Day July 26

Field Tour to Be Held in Connection with Day

Potato men from all sections of the United States, representing both potato seed men and table potato men, will use Grafton as their base headquarters for a three-day tour of potato fields and plants in the Red River valley starting July 26, in conjunction with "Grafton Potato Day."

The tour will originate in Grand Forks, N. D., at noon July 26 and be in Grafton at about 3:30. In Grafton the potato men will inspect the most modern collection of potato handling, harvesting and planting potato machinery available in the United States, a "Grafton Potato Day" feature.

The following day, the tour will cover points of interest north and west of Grafton, returning to Grafton Tuesday evening. The third day of the tour will cover points west and south of Grafton.

Potato bag brands, printed on the burlap bags of potato shippers, will be used as the street decorations in Grafton to greet members of the potato tour.

The public is invited to participate in all events. No charges will be made for free kiddies' rides, parades, entertainment programs and fireworks that will be part of the activities of the day.

Electric power utilities, largest consumers of bituminous coal, currently are maintaining an average stock supply of more than 100 days.

St. Louis Meeting Asks Early Start of Duck Hunting

Flyway Council Adopts Series of Resolutions at Its Recent Session

Resolutions of particular importance to Minnesota duck hunters highlighted the recent meeting of the Mississippi Waterfowl Flyway Council at St. Louis, Missouri.

The Flyway Council, which represents all state conservation departments of the Mississippi valley in matters relating to waterfowl regulations, endorsed two proposals pertinent to Minnesota.

One proposal would permit states to set the waterfowl season between September 20 and January 31 in accordance with the number of days and bag limit authorized by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. This would give the northern states, such as Minnesota, an opportunity for an earlier opening.

Another resolution would permit states with boundary water problems, such as Minnesota and North and South Dakota, to negotiate uniform seasons and bag limits within Federal regulations.

In a move aimed at conserving ducks, a resolution was passed that would restrict the 1954 waterfowl shooting hours to sunrise to a half hour before sunset. Hours last year were a half hour before sunrise to sunset.

These proposals will be submitted to the National Waterfowl Council, which meets in Washington, D. C. later this summer. The National Council endorsed the first two resolutions in substance last year, and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service promised to study them and give them consideration in connection with the setting of waterfowl regulations for the 1954 hunting season.

One Reason for Farm Safety Week

He was unclogging a combine reel when the tractor suddenly rolled forward, starting the reel and knocking him off balance and into the sickle. He had not braked the tractor and had left both tractor and combine motors running. Vibration and a slight incline did the rest. His right leg was nearly severed and had to be amputated just below the knee. His left needs braces to help him guide its torn muscles and tendons.

The man is Oscar Carlson, a farmer near Brainerd. His advice: "Shut off all motors and brake the tractor when you get off to check a combine or other piece of equipment." He figures the accident has cost him several thousand dollars for medical treatment. Nobody can measure, of course, the lost time or pain or doubt or worry about his family and farm.

Carlson and others — many less fortunate, some not alive to be photographed — are the reason we have Farm Safety Week —July 25-31. Its motto: "Farm to Live — Live to Farm." Exactly 140 Minnesotans were killed in farm and rural home accidents in 1953 — nearly 4,000 in the 48 states.

American Legion Donates $9,000 to Crippled Children

A $9,000 donation to help build a state camp for crippled children has been presented to the Easter Seal Society by Minnesota's American Legion posts.

Eugene V. Lindquist of Clarissa and Frank Morse of Mankato made the presentation in St. Cloud on behalf of 135 American Legion posts, 280 units of the American Legion Auxiliary and seven voitures locale of the 40 and 8.

E. K. Thorstad of Minneapolis, vice president of Northern States Power Company, accepted the check for the Minnesota Society for Crippled Children.

Work at the camp, to be known as Camp Courage, got underway July 7, when Gov. C. Elmer Anderson and former track star Glenn Cunningham broke ground at the site near Annandale's Cedar Lake.

A coal barge unloader on the Illinois River near La Salle can deliver some 670 tons of coal hourly.

Strandquist Again Heads Marshall Co. History Society

Group Makes Preliminary Plans for Celebration at Old Mill Park in 1955

A. E. Strandquist, Argyle, was reelected president of the Marshall County Historical society, as were all other officers at the annual meeting held at the Old Mill state park Monday night of last week.

The other officers reelected include O. M. Mattson, Warren, vice president and C. H. Cook, Newfolden, secretary-treasurer. All directors were also reelected including Ernest Holmlund, John Papacz, E. M. Skoglund, Herman Solum, Ragnar Stranghelle, Geo. Fricker, S. J. Bredeson, Mrs. A. A. Trost, Mrs. Fred Field, Oliver Tollefson, J. W. Bands, Ernest Jewell, Walter Malm, Hans T. Larson, Ed. O. Stennes, Egbert L. Malberg, Carl Berg, J. J. Pagnac and H. S. Thibodo.

Members of the society discussed plans to hold a summer celebration at the park in 1955, when the park committee hopes to complete rebuilding of the Case steam engine and old mill, and a historical pageant is being considered. The Old Mill will be used to grind flour during the celebration.

E. A. Jewell, park superintendent, reported that the state park division plans to complete the restoration of the Old Mill building and will also construct more picnic tables for next year. He also stated that more than 1,700 park stickers had been sold at the park this season to date and that the park division is doing much work in improving facilities.

Frank Blair Names Acting Game Chief

R. T. Dorer Appointed to Succeed Taylor W. Huston

Because of the illness of Taylor W. Huston, supervisor of the bureau of game, Minnesota division of game and fish, and the likelihood that he will not return to this position, Richard J. Dorer, supervisor of the division's bureau of wildlife development, has been provisionally appointed as acting supervisor of the bureau of game, Frank D. Blair, director of the division of game and fish, announced today.

David Vesall, assistant supervisor of the bureau of wildlife development and in charge of game projects, has been temporarily appointed acting supervisor, replacing Mr. Dorer.

"Mr. Dorer is a well-known conservationist," Mr. Blair said, "who, in charge of the bureau of wildlife development, has engineered all federal aid projects in Minnesota under the Pittman-Robertson game act and the Dingell-Johnson Fisheries act."

T. A. Teigen Files for Congressman in Ninth District

He is an advocate of 100 per cent of parity farm income. He states it is impossible to buy at 100 percent and sell at 75 percent.

Teigen is opposed to the exploitation of our natural resources, placing them in the hands of monopoly. The Tidelands Oil Bill was a betrayal of national trust, he stated.

Mr. Teigen is 53 years old, a family man of three children, graduate of Concordia college, Moorhead; and a law graduate, Chicago.

ARMYWORM BLITZ

Armyworms staged a blitz attack on this area over the week-end and on hundreds of farms there is evidence of the ruthlessness of their type of warfare. Thousands of acres of an unusually promising crop have been destroyed or damaged in just a few days.

The extent of the loss cannot be determined with any degree of accuracy at this time. It will not be fully realized until the harvest has been completed. In the aggregate, however, in terms of dollars the loss will be a huge figure.

Looking back over the first days of battle, it probably is fair to conclude that the heavy losses are due in large part to the surprise element of the attack. It was a new experience and we were not prepared for it. Our counterattack was weak because of that familiar shortcoming, too little and too late.

This is a type of emergency for which it is difficult to maintain an adequate defense at the local level. The probability of infestation in any one community is too remote to justify adequate protective equipment and supplies. Within the state as a whole however, similar problems do occur with a frequency that does justify a more adequate defense, and the need for expanding our facilities at the state level to meet the attack of various pests that are a constant threat to our crops deserves more consideration that it has received.

We know from sad experience that a few more dollars worth of preparedness in this field would prove itself to be a sound investment.

OFF TO A GOOD START

Earl Larimer is off to a good start as Minnesota's new director of highway safety. He is approaching his problem realistically and without the usual hysterics. He probably will get good cooperation from the motoring public. He is organizing safety councils throughout the state and in this effort he deserves the support of all civic groups.

There are many causes of traffic accidents but most of them fit into a few well defined classifications. A breakdown of the causes of the major traffic accidents in the state during 1953 gives us a fair indication of where we must seek for improvement if we are to reduce the number.

The following tabulation shows the twelve principal reasons for these accidents last year, the figures at the right being the number of accidents which occurred in each class:

Failure to grant right of way to vehicle	9,418
Exceeded safe speed, but not state limit	6,630
Following too closely	4,897
On wrong side of road, not in passing	3,853
Disregarded stop-and-go light	3,324
Under influence of alcohol	2,661
Disregarded stop sign or signal	2,498
Other improper passing	2,020
Failure to signal or improper signal	1,916
Other improper turning	1,719
Improper starting from parked position	1,306
Exceeded stated speed limit	1,334

HAPPY THOUGHT

The Senate foreign relations committee has acted favorably on a proposal to fix a time limit within which to end our foreign aid program. They are recommending that the agency set up for this purpose be discontinued at the end of the present fiscal year. And so, after seven years of the Marshall plan we apparently are approaching the end of a program for World reconstruction that has cost us many billions of dollars.

There are wide differences of opinion as to how effective this program has been and this is a question on which there probably never will be agreement. It is easy to see the many shortcomings of the program. It would not be difficult to prepare a long list of desirable things that it has failed to accomplish. On the other hand we have no way of knowing what might have occurred in the field of international relations if we had not gone along with a program of this kind.

Generally speaking, the program has not been a partisan issue in this country. It has had the support of both of the major parties. And, happy thought, the decision to bring it to an end will meet with general approval in the ranks of both parties.

UNHAPPY THOUGHT

Minnesota's permanent trust funds now total more than a quarter of a billion dollars and they earn about $18,000 a day for the people of the state. These earnings are used chiefly for school purposes and a little more than $9 per pupil are distributed in the form of aid for local schools. At one time the aid from this source was an important item in the state's contribution to school districts. Now it represents only a small fraction of the school aid distributed by the state, most of which has come from the revenue produced by the income tax. At the present time this state aid is considerably in excess of the combined income tax revenue and the earnings of the trust funds and the next legislature will be confronted with the unpleasant task of increasing present taxes or adopting new taxes if school aids are to be continued at their present level.

Attention Baseball Fans

The Viking Oilers baseball team is sending out an appeal to the people of Viking and the surrounding community, asking them to please come out and support the team on the two remaining games of the schedule. The attendance this year has been sorely lacking and we need a couple of good crowds to finish out the season in good financial condition.

Although they are riding the cellar of the league, the oilers have been playing good ball this summer, most of their defeats have been by only one or two runs and that certainly is nothing to be ashamed of. If you want to enjoy a couple Sundays of good baseball, come on out next Sunday when the oilers are entertaining the Red Lake Falls Lakers or the following Sunday when the Argyle Maroons come to town. The Oilers would greatly appreciate your support.

TEA STEEPED IN STATE HISTORY

An impressive segment of Minnesota history snuggles around the popular Sibley Tea House at the confluence of the Minnesota and Mississippi rivers. Here Lt. Zebulon Pike first raised the Stars and Stripes on Minnesota soil September 21, 1805. Fort St. Anthony was established in 1820 and in 1825 moved across the Minnesota as Fort Snelling. The village of St. Peters was formed in 1834, changed to Mendota in 1853. General Sibley built the state's first stone house in 1836, followed by the pioneer fur trader Faribault in 1837. Nearby Minnesota's first Catholic chapel, St. Peter's, was built in 1840. In 1854 Hypolite DuPuis, General Sibley's secretary, built a home, selling in 1869 to the Fee family who in 1928 sold to the Daughters of the American Revolution of Minnesota. Today the DAR maintain and keep open to the public these early shrines, including the Tea House in the century-old DuPuis home, where the piquant flavor of history is enhanced by the culinary finesse of Mr. and Mrs. Bjarne Olsen.

It's a Million Dollar Ride-and no foolin'
Buick Sales are Soaring!

YOU can see for yourself the gay and gorgeous styling that's sure to be the fresh note next year, too.

And you can easily learn that here is power a-plenty—the highest V8 power, Series for Series, in the annals of Buick history.

But what you can never know, till you try it yourself, is the feel of a Buick in motion.

It's a ride as precision-soft and firm as only coiled steel can make it.

Yes, coil springs on all four wheels. And a full-length torque-tube drive for true tracking. And a massive X-braced frame for solid steadiness. And specially calibrated shock absorbers, V-braced struts, wide-rim wheels, a unique front-end geometry—plus a host of other betterments too numerous to mention.

You feel the result of this advanced engineering every mile you drive—in what is literally and figuratively a Million Dollar Ride.

You feel it in the superb and buoyant cradling. You feel it in the serene levelness of your going over ruts and ridges. You feel it in the precise snubbing of jars and jounces. You feel it in a new kind of steadiness, handling ease, curve control.

Only thing for you to do, we believe, is to come try this miracle of motion—and we'll be glad to oblige.

That way you'll also learn firsthand about the style, the power, and the value that have made Buick such a best-selling success this year. For Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

(Smart tip: With Buick such a beautiful buy this year, think what a winner it's bound to be at trade-in time! Come see us this week!)

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Playing Outdoors

"Why won't my four-year-old Johnny stay in our yard to play instead of wandering all over the neighborhood?" asks Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Johnson says, "My problem is that Susan won't play outside at all unless I go with her."

With the coming of Summer, parents might very well take stock of the outdoor play opportunities available to their children. In some neighborhoods, children find congenial playmates and enough equipment near at hand to keep them safely and happily occupied. In others, parents may need to spend some time and thought on making their yard into an absorbing play space. This is especially true where there are no playmates and the child tends to wander further afield or to seek adult company.

Outdoor play equipment is commercially available, and much of it shows creative understanding of what children need. However, a parent need not be discouraged and can be discouraged if the family budget does not permit its purchase. A sand box is easily improvised and can be equipped with tin cans in various sizes, shovels or spoons (wooden ones are good) a strainer, and perhaps a small watering can.

Packing boxes to crawl into, to shove around and stack, and pieces of board long enough to make ramps or bridges between the boxes will usually stimulate hours of experimenting. Some sanding and inspection to be sure no nails are protruding are enough preparation but a coat of outdoor paint may improve the general effect.

An inexpensive paintbrush and a can of water will thrill many a preschool child as he "paints" his tricycle the side of the house, or the sidewalk. If a corner of the yard can be spared for a "digging" corner, a child will enjoy digging "deep" holes in a real dirt and searching for worms, which are then usually hoarded in a can or bottle. A sturdy spade is better than a toy shovel for this sort of digging.

Centers of interest like these will help young children find their own yard a fascinating place to play.

State Legionnaires End St. Cloud Parley

The Minnesota American Legion is throwing its weight against objectionable comic books.

In a resolution passed at closing sessions of the annual meeting in St. Cloud Wednesday, delegates called for a state censorship board to pass on such books. The board would consist of at least 25 per cent membership from the publishing industry and would have the power to ban delivery of literature found objectionable.

In other resolutions, the convention:

Asked the legislature to grant a bonus to Korean veterans on the same terms as that paid to those who saw service in World War II.

Called for a battle against what was termed "an unjust campaign" by the American Medical Assn. to bar Veterans administration hospital facilities to service men with non-service connected ailments.

Went on record as backing fair employment practices legislation.

Backed a system of universal military training, and Opposed recognition of Communist China.

Lawrence Willett, Jackson, was elected commander after a contest with Asa Eldridge, North St. Paul who later withdrew and called for a unanimous ballot for Willett.

Other officers are Eugene V. Lindquist, Clarissa; Leonard Carlson, Marshall; W. J. Lundberg, Two Harbors; Olell Lee, Mabel, and Raymond Kriefall, Osseo, vice commanders; Frank J. Schletz, St. Paul, sergeant-at-arms, and the Rev. Richard Keene Smith, Duluth, chaplain.

Mrs. Bernice Plotterud, Zumbrota, was named auxiliary president and the two vice presidents are Mrs. Olga Paulson, Shevlin, and Mrs. Juel Osmundson, Adams. Mrs. Marion Hollenbeck, Minneapolis, is secretary and Mrs. Harriet Simonson, St. Louis Park, treasurer.

Minnesota Began as Territory with Only 9 Counties

On March 3, 1849 Minnesota became a territory. The news that congress had taken that action required five weeks to reach the people most concerned with it.

One of the first acts of the territorial legislature was to create counties. Nine of them were established at that time in the territory which then extended from the Mississippi to the Missouri rivers.

Three of these original counties lay within the general area bounded by the Mississippi and the St. Croix. These were Ramsey, Benton and Washington. All of the other counties bore Indian names. These were Waubashaw, Dahkotah, Wahnathtah, Mahkatho, Pembina and Itasca. Some of these names, with a different spelling in some cases, still remain. But the area of the first counties is very much smaller. Some of these counties originally extended five hundred miles in length. Some of them were larger than states in the eastern part of the nation.

Within a very few years all of the larger original counties were greatly changed. Settlement demanded government and government required county seats. These centers of government had to be not more than one day's distance by horse and wagon from the homes and farms where people lived. That was the general rule which guided the formation of the present 87 counties.

$7,500 Decrease in Levy Voted by Marshall Board

A $7,500 decrease in the tax levy for 1955 was approved by the Marshall county board of commissioners at their semi-annual meeting in Warren Monday and Tuesday of last week, when a budget of $421,500 was adopted for the coming year.

The 1954 levy totaled $429,000 which was $26,225 over the 1953 levy which totaled $402,775.

Commissioners were able to reduce the levies for welfare, tuberculosis sanatorium and high school tuition. The only fund to receive an increase is the road and bridge fund which will be up $10,000 from $130,000 to $140,000.

This was necessary to keep pace with the ever increasing demand for more and better highways in the county. All other funds remained the same.

Local Delegation Is at Youth Camp

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Abbott left Monday morning for Alexandria where they will be in charge of Girls' Week at Lake Geneva Youth Camp, sponsored by the Assemblies of God Church. Accompanying them as campers were Carol Arnold, Sandra Dow, Kathy Thorstad, Ardith Hagenbeck and Darlene Cahill. The group will return on Saturday.

The amount of coal produced in its 44 years of operation by one major U. S. coal mining company—Island Creek—totals 273,000,000 tons, and would fill a train 33,000 miles long, stretching 1⅓ times around the world.

No Traffic Deaths in County in Six Months

Minnesota headed into the second half of 1954 with 41 more traffic deaths in the first six months of the year than were recorded in the first half of 1953 according to a report issued today by the Minnesota Highway Department. Pennington county contributed no deaths to the six-month total of 287 this year, while last year during the comparable period there were three deaths in the county. Marshall county reported five deaths in the first half of 1954, and one last year.

A review of the fatality figures by counties reveals that during each of the two years, 19 counties were able to maintain death-free records. However, only six counties—Brown, Hubbard, Isanti, Mahnomen, Norman and Roseau—came up with clear records during the first six months of each year.

Greatest improvements in the saving of lives so far this year have been registered by Anoka, Crow Wing, McLeod, Mower, Redwood and Winona counties, with these six counties showing a net reduction of 34 fatalities.

Counties coming up with poorer records in the first six months of this year, as compared with the first half of 1953, include Chippewa, Fillmore, Marshall, Nicollet, Otter Tail, Ramsey, Sherburne and Stearns, all of which have been charged with increases of five or more deaths, for a net increase of 45 deaths, or just four more than the 1954 margin over 1953.

Crookston Opens New Municipal Swimming Pool

Crookston's new municipal swimming pool was opened on Tuesday of last week to the delight of the small fry.

Hundreds of children were the first to take a dip in the new $125,000 pool on the edge of Central Park. Some of the children were on hand two hours before the pool was opened at 9:30 a. m.

Ten lifeguards and swimming attendants reported for work to handle the large crowd. Fewer attendants will manage the pool when a routine is established.

Construction of the 125,000 pool was started late last summer after the 1953 swimming season closed. The new pool was built on the site of the former pool and will be formally dedicated during Crookston's 75th anniversary celebration next month.

Transplanting Perennials

In midsummer a number of perennials are dormant and can be moved successfully. Frequently spring moving of these plants means loss of that season's bloom. The iris, peonies, Oriental poppies and old-fashioned bleding heart belong to this group. The hardy spring and early summer flowering bulbs might be included, too.

• • •

If you wish to move tulips and daffodils that have become crowded and don't bloom any more, you can dig them now. Replant them immediately after cleaning and separate them or dry them for several days in a shaded, airy place. Then clean and store them in a cool, dry place until September or October, when you can plant them in the garden.

• • •

After carefully lifting your perennials, be sure you have chosen a sunny location for them with good drainage. A fertile soil gives the best results. Apply a complete fertilizer such as 5-20-10 at the rate of 3 or 4 pounds per 100 square feet.

• • •

Each division should have at least one healthy bud. In iris, each rhizome (root) should contain a fan of leaves which should be cut down to about 6 inches before planting. The rhizomes should be planted so they are barely covered with soil.

• • •

Peonies and bleeding hearts should have a large, fleshy root with three or more eyes. The buds should be only two inches deep when the division is planted. Oriental poppies are similar, but need only one or two eyes.

James Watt's practical condensing steam engine proved itself in early coal mining in England by pumping water out of the mine, raising coal up the mine shaft, and driving the mechanical ventilating fan.

Minnesota State and Local Debts Hit $460 Million

School District Debts Total $165 Million at End of '53, up $38,000,000

Minnesota state and local government debt reached $460,174.28 on Dec. 31, 1953, an increase of 39 million dollars over the amount outstanding at the beginning of that year.

Richard A. Golling, state public examiner, made the report Wednesday after a study of state records and reports on the local debts submitted to him by county auditors, as required by law.

In 1953, new bonds issued totaled $82,178,110, while redemptions aggregated $43,169,804.

Golling reported that the state paid off 11 million dollars more than it borrowed in 1953, leaving the state debt at $109,712,000. Accounting for almost 98 per cent of the state debt are veterans bonus bonds of $53,424,000 rural credits debt of $26,850,000 and $27,106,000 for building construction at the university, teacher's colleges and state hospitals.

The largest increase in debt was reported by school districts, where bonds outstanding rose from 127-million dollars at the beginning of the year to nearly 165-million at the close of 1953.

Severe Sunburn Can Be Dangerous, Doctors Report

One of the very best ways to spoil a summer vacation is to acquire a painful sunburn the first day out.

With that warning as a starter, today's bulletin on summer safety issued by the Minnesota State Medical association provides some serious advice on the subject, designed to remind people of the real dangers involved in severe sunburn.

It should always be remembered, the doctors warn, that severe sunburn is like any other burn. It can produce a toxic condition in which the victim becomes nauseated, feverish and dangerously ill, even on an apparently cloudy day if the exposure is great enough.

When symptoms are severe enough to produce generalized illness medical advice should be sought immediately. Milder cases can be treated by application of any soothing lotion, mild cream or an application of baking soda—and the sober warning not to repeat the offense to unprotected skin.

Better than treatment is care to avoid burning in the first place, the bulletin says. If you have waited until vacation time to acquire a tan, there is no short cut to getting one in two weeks away from the office.

You must expose yourself briefly at first and then gradually add to your sun-tanning period each day to avoid trouble.

"OH, FOR PEACE AND QUIET!"

Whether you are a businessman or a housewife, a fellow who makes the wheels go 'round, or a woman in industry, there come times when you long for peace and quiet.

You'll find quiet in woods like these, but not a silence. The wind whispers through the trees. Birds murmur softly. Insects squeak tunelessly. The soft lap-lap of water against the shore is like distant drumbeats. There is infinite peace, but never silence.

Much closer to you is another haven of peace—your church. Here too you will find quiet, but no dead, spiritless silence.

Instead you will find relief from your worries, and inspiration to keep doing your best. You will find the friendliness of others like you seeking inspiration in these troubled times.

For the peace and quiet that will carry you serenely through the week, go to Church Sunday.

50 YEARS AGO

City Organized in 1896

Thief River Falls was organized as a village in 1890 and the first meeting of the village council was held in May of that year. Six years later the village become a city and the story of this development is told by Lars Backe, who served as the first City Clerk of the new city of Thief River Falls. As told by Mr. Backe:

"On the 19th day of June, 1896, Lars Backe and Chas. J. Knox made affidavits to a certain petition to the board of county commissioners of Polk County for the incorporation of the Village of Thief River Falls and contiguous territory as a city under provisions of Chapter 8, Laws of 1895, and that the corporate name thereof be "Twin Falls."

"By resolution of July 28th, 1896, the board of county commissioners of Polk County granted the petition to incorporate, except as to the name, as another petition, signed by M. C. Burns and others, endorsing the first petition but praying that the name of the corporation be Thief River Falls instead of Twin Falls, and ordered an election to be held to vote on the proposition September 1st, 1896.

"The county commissioners, on the 15th day of September, 1896, decreed the territory as a city under the name of Thief River Falls."

The election was duly held on October 17 and the following officials were selected: F. H. Kratka, mayor; J. W. Wallin, treasurer; Charles J. Knox, John E. Burkee, P. O. Bergh, Charles A. Robbecke and O. T. Tandberg, aldermen. At an organization meeting on November 4th, C. J. Knox was elected president, P. O. Bergh, vice president; and Lars Backe, clerk.

According to Mr. Backe's report the population of Thief River Falls in 1890 was 191. This had jumped to 840 in 1895 and to 1853 in 1900. The city doubled in size again by 1905 when the population was recorded as 3502. It is easy to understand why the citizens of the booming city of that period had high hopes for its continued growth.

Hopeful Pioneers

In a review of the history of banking in the community, banker W. W. Prichard expressed this optimism conservatively. "It is generally conceded that we now have one of the best market towns in the northern part of the state," he said, "and we are optimistic enough to belive that, in the near future, Thief River Falls will be the best town in the Northwest and a commercial center of great importance."

An unidentified contributor to the Thief River Falls booklet published in 1908, after reviewing the years of progress, said without qualification, "There is no question but Thief River Falls will be a very large city."

Rev. Ino B. Smith, in an article dealing solely with the future of the city, was most specific in his prophesy on what the future had in store for the young city.

"One question is always pertinent in regard to new towns that have sprung up so rapidly in this great northwest. It is this: what of the future? This question we shall endeavor to answer, in as conservative a manner as facts will warrant in relation to Thief River Falls.'

Then Rev. Smith presented an imposing array of facts. There were 8,500 quarter sections of land tributary to the city of which only 6,500 were presently occupied. "Let us pause," he said, "and calculate the possibilities of this territory, with one family of five on each quarter section." That would give us a population of 32,000 souls clustered around the city. "Then it is fair to assume that each section of land is easily capable of sustaining twenty cows; and that a net annual profit of $25 a cow can readily be realized, or a total net, annual profit of over $1,000,000 from cows alone."

"Great as these figures appear," he assured his readers, "they are the result of calm, sober thinking and are below rather than above the results that may be reasonably expected."

And so on through the fields of commerce and manufacturing he argued with cold facts and clear logic that Thief River Falls was destined to become a great city. He summarized his article by concluding positively that "within ten years Thief River Falls should be a city of 20,000 and the manufacturing, commercial and educational and social center of the northwestern part of Minnesota."

If the pioneers had not been hopeful they would not have been pioneers.

Council Hires Consultant on New Bond Issue

To Provide Funds for Sewer and Water Mains and Other Local Work

Following a conference Tuesday evening with T. G. Evenson, Minneapolis bond consultant, the city council voted to engage the services of T. G. Evenson & associates in connection with the proposed sale by the city of another bond issue.

The proceeds of the issue would be used to finance additional sewer and water mains and sidewalk, curb and gutter projects, as well as providing funds for the $40,000 street lighting project in the downtown area and the acquisition of parking lot sites. The amount of the bond issue has not yet been determined, pending a decision as to how much sewer and water main work will be done, but it was indicated that the total may be somewhere in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Evenson advised against doing any more refunding of bonds maturing in future years, and said that the city should make every effort to pay the bonds off as they fall due, even tho the installments may be heavy.

He also stated that the cost of the parking lots to be acquired must be levied against owners of benefited property in the business district.

Given a second reading at the session was an ordinance designating as an industrial

Two Sanatorium Boards Again Talk over Merger Plan

To Submit Cost Data to County Board Members in Local San District

In a lengthy meeting Monday evening at Oakland Park sanatorium, the board of the institution threshed over details in connection with the proposed merger with Sunnyrest sanatorium at Crookston with a committee of Sunnyrest board members, including Ed Massey, Ray Betcher and Philip Hamry and Supt. Leon Flancher.

Considerable discussion was devoted to whether the four counties comprising the Oakland Park district should pay for patients treated at Sunnyrest on a per diem basis, or to allocate the costs on a population basis. The two boards favored the population basis as being less expensive for the counties concerned.

Arrangements were made at the meeting to prepare figures on costs to be submitted to members of the county boards of the four counties, Pennington, Marshall, Roseau and Red Lake, preliminary to calling a joint meeting of the county boards with the sanatorium commission, at which time efforts will be made to reach a decision on the matter of transferring patients from Oakland Park to Sunnyrest.

Wheat Market Quota Plan Is Given Support

Only 93 Ballots Cast in Pennington County; Farmers Support Plan

With only 93 ballots cast in the wheat quota referendum in Pennington county last Friday, the vote was 82 in favor of quotas, five against and six challenged ballots, it was announced this week by P. W. Culkins of the county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee. Only about 30 per cent of the eligible voters took part, he added.

Balloting was on the question of whether or not marketing quotas on wheat should be continued in effect for 1955. In last year's balloting, a total of 209 votes was cast, quotas being approved by a margin of 207 in favor to two against.

Reports received by Culkins indicated that, with a two-thirds margin required, marketing quotas were supported by 94.6 per cent of Minnesota voters participating, while nationally the margin was about 70 per cent in favor.

M. W. Thatcher, general manager of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal association, said the results of the vote showed the nation's farmers know "farm prices are made in Washington and not determined in the free markets."

Thatcher said the farmer's action also was a vote to "keep

Hospital Is Commended for Action in Emergency

With the assistance of the Minnesota state board of health, the nursery epidemic at Northwestern hospital reported in last week's paper has been brought under complete control. This statement was made jointly by M. D. Starekow, M. D. chief of staff, and Harold W. Peterson, administrator of Northwestern hospital.

Evelyn E. Hartman, M. D., pediatric consultant of the section of maternal and child health, Minnesota department of health, has made the following statement in a letter to Northwestern hospital authorities: "We wish to take the opportunity to thank the entire staff for their excellent co-operation and for their action to eliminate the spread of the infection and to control the situation."

Spraying for Army Worms Is Still Going on

Heavily Infested Areas Report Losses Ranging as High as 75 Per Cent

Due to the prompt spraying of infected fields the army worm population in Pennington County has been greatly reduced, reports County Agent Wm. S. Penning. However, some spraying still needs to be done in the county, particularly unsprayed fields near the heavily infected areas. Considerable damage has been done to the crops in the heavily infected areas and as much as 75 per cent reduction in yield and quality has been reported.

All township have reported damage by the army worm; however it seems that Deer Park, Highlanding, Kratka, Smiley, Goodridge, Silverton, Cloverleaf, North, Rocksbury, Black River and River Falls have been heard from most, reports Penning.

The Thief River Falls airport has been especially busy the past week, with up to fourteen spray planes using it as home base. A hurried estimate of acres sprayed by air would be 20,000; however a number of planes are still spraying with a full schedule. Many farmers could not wait for the airplane spraying and sprayed with their own ground equipment and many acres were covered this way. All told there could easily be 60,000 acres, sprayed before the end of the week, said Penning.

According to the state entomologist's office, there is no danger to humans or farm animals as a result of consuming grain or corn harvested from fields treated for army worms, Penning stated. This is because the insecticides are sprayed upon the parts which normally are discarded in either threshing or husking.

However, any pasture or forage crop should not be fed to dairy or beef animals finished for slaughter until at least 30 days after spraying of these crops have been sprayed directly. Persons concerned about contamination of garden vegetables and small fruits coming into bearing need only wash them in the ordinary manner, he said.

The Thief River Falls board of education at an adjourned session Tuesday evening sold a $230,000 bond issue to the lowest of five bidders at a net interest cost of 2.20 per cent.

The successful bid was submitted jointly by the First National banks of Minneapolis and St. Paul and Mannheimer-Egan, Inc. of St. Paul. Their bid was on the basis of a two per cent rate for the 1957 to 1966 maturities, and 2.40 per cent on the 1967 and 1971 maturities, plus a premium of $115.

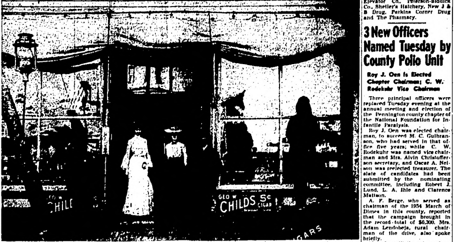
Here Was Telephone Headquarters and Personnel Fifty Years Ago



Up-and-coming Thief River Falls boasted of its snappy telephone service fifty years ago and pictured above is the telephone office and the "hello girls" and linemen who operated the system. Mr. H. Fant was the proprietor of the young industry and maintained its headquarters in his confectionary store pictured above.

In the doorway are the two operators Andrena Helgeson, now Mrs. Emmet Crowe who lives in a western state, and Anna Soarda, now Mrs. Louis Yell of Robbinsdale and a sister of Mrs. Esther Plough of this city. The linemen were Will Ferris and Al Dixon, ready with their spikes to climb a pole on a second's notice. The lamp on the leaning post and the cigar store Indian would be museum pieces today.

This picture was taken in 1903, according to Mrs. Yell who says Fant's was located on LaBree about where Poppler's is at the present time.

On page 13 of this issue, under the "50 Years Ago" heading, Joe Cervenka of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company staff, has contributed a short history of telephone service in Thief River Falls.

Woman's Club Takes Lead in Emergency Polio Drive in County

Polio chapter officials from five Northwest counties met at the Rex Cafe last Wednesday evening with Larry H. Rieder, Northern Minnesota representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to outline plans for the emergency campaign to be held from August 16 to 31 to raise an additional $20,000,000 to meet 1954 expenses in connection with care of polio patients.

Martin C. Gulbranson, chairman of the Pennington county chapter, announced that the campaign in this county will be conducted by the Thief River Falls Woman's club, with Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen and Mrs. Robert Roberge, club president, co-chairmen.

Mr. Rieder stated at Wednesday's meeting that while $55,000,000 was raised in the polio drive last January, the sum was $20,000,000 short of the amount needed to provide both for patient care and polio prevention.

He said that one-third more polio cases were reported in the nation in the first half of 1954 than the average for the same period of the last five years. Signs, he said, point to at least 40,000 new cases by the end of 1954 in addition to 67,000 patients from 1953 requiring continued care.

Rieder said the additional amount is needed to carry the program through 1954. Funds are needed for polio vaccine trials, the purchase of increased quantities of gamma globulin, the search for improved preventive and treatment techniques, the support of professional education and the provision of financial assistance for polio patients who need it.

FU Officer Warns Against Price Cut on Farm Products

Any compromise of farm policy which will provide farm supports below 90% of parity will inflict a serious loss upon farmers of Red Lake and Pennington County, a state farm leader said Sunday.

Speaking before an audience of 800 at Red Lake Falls city par, Russel Schwandt, secretary of the Minnesota Farmers Union, warned that a 15% cut in grain suports would mean an income loss of about $240,000 to farmers in each country.

Presiding over the program for the joint Farmers Union picnic for Red Lake and Pennington counties were the respective presidents, Alvin Fore of Oklee and Carl R. Anderson of Red Lake Falls.

Hospital Addition to Be Ready in 2 Months

Approximately eight more weeks of work will complete the new addition of Northwestern Hospital with 37 workers now employed, it was announced today.

The concrete driveway and parking space have now been completed. The driveway to the south of the hospital is 22 feet wide and circles around to the back of the building. This will be the driveway area for incoming supplies and ambulances. The driveway and parking area to the north of the building is estimated to be large enough to afford parking for 25 automobiles. Landscape workers will soon be notified to carry out their work on the job.

Quarry tile has been laid in the new kitchen area, and Aslesen Company of Minneapolis is expected this week to install all stainless steel equipment. The American Laundry Machinery Company is also expected to arrive this week to supervise installation of all new hospital laundry equipment. The Gust Lagerquist Elevator Company of Minneapolis has been at work for some time in connection with installation of freight and passenger oil-hydraulic type elevators.

The elevators will have a rising rate of 75 feet per minute and a falling rate of 100 feet per minute. There is no possibility in this type of elevator for cables to break or sudden falls to occur. There is no overhead machinery and the cost of electricity in operation is held to a minimum. The freight elevator is expected to be in operation within two or three weeks, and next week Lagerquist Company will send another crew for the installation of the two sets of dumbwaiters which connect the dietary department and the central sterile supply room with all floors.

The finishing coat of paint is being applied on the third floor of the new addition, and all millwork is now being put in place. Terrazzo work there has been finished. Some ceramic tile must be placed in limited areas on the third floor, but the floor itself will be ready for the setting in of asphalt tile very shortly.

Ceramic tile to be placed in the operating room areas, the obstetrical areas and in certain other places in the hospital has been progressing slowly. However, this coming week it is expected that four crews of ceramic tile layers will come to the city to complete this work in a very short time.

Installation of plumbing fixtures, steel and wooden cabinet work is beginning on the second floor, and the first coat of paint to all second floor rooms is now being applied. Plasterers have practically finished their work throughout the hospital.

All indications point toward completion of teh new addition some time in the second or third week in September. During the month of August, it is expected that practically all new equipment such as patient room furniture, lobby furniture, office equipment and the like will arrive and will be placed in the areas for which it has been ordered.

About the third or fourth week of September, it is expected that the transfer from the present Northwestern Hospital to the new structure will take place including transfer of patients. At that time, it will be necessary to take all present equipment and furniture out of the present hospital and temporarily store it except for items to be used in the new building. The remodeling of the present hospital, although financially a small part of the total cost participated in by the Federal government, will take approximately six months to finish. Only upon completion of the remodeling of the present building will the structure become a unit hospital of 112 beds and 20 bassinets.

The second inspection by the Minnesota state board of health in connection with the allocation of federal funds under the Hill-Burton Act took place on Tuesday, July 20th. The amount of this second contribution which has not yet been determined will be forthcoming within the next five weeks.

New-born Baby Is Left at Doctor's Office in Roseau

A healthy seven-pound eleven-ounce boy, estimated to have been born about two hours, was found quite contented in Doctor Jack Delmore's office in Roseau early Monday morning of last week says the Roseau Times Region. It had apparently been abandoned by its mother.

The child was found by the office girl who came to the clinic to begin work. She thought that the mother had placed the child on the examining table while she went to her car for something.

The mother had still not shown up when Dr. Delmore came to his office and when he questioned others about the child, they disclaimed any knowledge of how it got there or to whom it belonged.

Upon investigation it was found that the child had been born not more than a few hours before. It had been wrapped in a sheet from the clinic and placed on the doctor's examining table.

The baby boy was taken to the hospital and placed in the nursery where it can get good care and feeding. "It's a dandy boy," was the doctor's opinion.

The baby is under the custody of the welfare office and will undoubtedly later be turned over to a child welfare agency for placement in a good home.

Demonstration Plot Planned at Mud Lake

Mud Lake national wildlife refuge and soil conservation service personnel have cooperated in planning a demonstration area which will illustrate the possibilities of developing waterfowl habitat on crop lands. An area located on the brushlands of the refuge has been surveyed, as to soil capabilities, cover types and existing waterfowl utilization.

The surveys show that the land is practically useless for waterfowl in its present state. The surveys also show that the soil is capable of growing certain types of grains and legumes if shallow surface drains are provided which will remove excess precipitation. In order that the area can be developed for waterfowl utilization, the present brush and light aspen growths will be removed by power equipment and brush breaker plow.

After levelling, a shallow surface drain system will be constructed which will provide surface drainage sufficient to remove excess precipitation for the potential crop lands. A series of shallow pools will then be constructed in the drain. These pools will be two feet lower than the bottom of the drain and they will vary in length from 100 to 200 feet. The pools will vary in width, but will average about 25 feet.

Accurate cost records of the drain and pool construction will be maintained. Interested landowners may then know the approximate costs and advisability of attempting similar work on private lands.

The demonstration area is located within a short distance of a permanent marsh area, and about two miles from the refuge goose pen area. Once the area is in crops refuge geese will therefore have all habitat requirements easily available. The grain and legume crops to be grown will be managed so as to provide green forage and grains during fall and spring flights as part of a land management program.

The grain crops will also be available for other waterfowl, and should help considerably in cutting down waterfowl depredations on grain crops outside the refuge.

We are well into canning time now. If you have any doubt about the accuracy of your pressure canner gauge, it would be a very good idea to replace it before you do any more canning. It is not possible to have your present gauge tested now at the University, and pressure cooker clinics will not be held in the county until next spring. I have checked with local dealers, and they all have a supply of gauges on hand. The cost of replacing the gauge is small, and you will be sure that your canned goods are properly processed.

I have had a number of calls the past week on freezing vegetables. If you have not already picked up your copy of "Freezing Foods for Home Use" or "Freezing Fruits and Vegetables" from our office, I hope that you will do so. We have a good supply of them, and you will find the instructions easy to follow and accurate.

Here is a quickie trick for bread, that would be delicious for Sunday breakfast or when you have unexpected company drop in. The recipe shows you how to convert a loaf of white bread into a sweet roll.

Caramel Pecan Squares

1 (1-pound) loaf unsliced enriched bread; ¼ cup melted butter; ⅓ cup brown sugar, firmly packed; ½ cup chopped pecans; 2 tablespoons water.

With a sharp knife, remove the crusts from a loaf of bread. Cut in half, lengthwise. Make a lengthwise cut in the center of each half and divide into eight sections. Do not cut completely through lower crust. Combine butter, brown sugar, pecans and water and spread in to bottom of a shallow 9" square loaf pan. Place bread, cut sides down, over caramel mixture. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for ten minutes. Let stand in pan one minute after removing from oven. Invert pan to remove bread squares so that caramel mixture is up. Serve immediately.

Yield: 16 Caramel Pecan Squares.

New Ideas in Hen Housing

If you are making major changes in your poultry house this year, it will pay you to investigate modern housing trends before you start excavating, or buying lumber.

Getting your money's worth in poultry housing involves more than installing an exhaust fan, however convenient that might be, if it worked properly.

Exhaust fans do a satisfactory job only if properly installed and with the right number of intakes properly placed. Moreover, no ventilation system will keep a house dry unless the house walls and ceiling are carefully insulated.

Good insulation means at least four inches of a loose fill material in all four walls, with at least double that amount in the ceiling. If the fill is shavings or chopped flax straw, it should be six inches thick. Add a vapor seal material to the inside or warm side of the wall if you want the house to last longer.

Word comes from Cora Cooke, extension poultry specialist at the University of Minnesota, that styles in poultry houses are changing to provide better housing.

The old style long, narrow house is losing favor with poultry raisers looking for a good investment. Houses that are deep from the front to back are cheaper to build, warmer, easier to ventilate, and greatly reduce mileage in doing chores.

Houses 36 to 40 feet deep, and more, are proving highly satisfactory. A visit to a modern house before completing plans is a good investment of time and money.

Timing Helps Get Good Hay

When animals ask for hay they want GOOD hay. And cutting at the proper time, taking advantage of weather conditions, will help you fill the bill with high quality, leafy, green hay.

Time of cutting varies with the crop. For example, the first cutting of alfalfa should be made when the grass is from one-tenth to one fourth in bloom. Red clover is best cut when half is in bloom. Brome, timothy and other grasses should be cut after heading, but before bloom.

According to Rodney A. Briggs, the University's extension agronomist, three tons of early-cut hay has as much feed value as four tons of late-cut—and it's a lot tastier, too.

Late cutting may give a little more total yield but as hay matures, leaves begin to drop and feed value is reduced. Here's why—leaves contain much of the feed value of hay plants. They are two or three times richer in protein and have more minerals, vitamins and—of course—far less tasteless fiber that the stems.

Briggs says best haying results are obtained by working the field as little as possible. Too much windrowing or harsh turning can cause great losses from leaf shattering. Such harsh field operations can lose up to 350 pounds of leaves per ton of hay you take off the field — that's heavy loss of feed value.

He says it's wise to start cutting a bit early. Then, as cutting progresses, most of the hay will be coming off at about the best time.

Anything that speeds cutting time or reduces time from "field to storage"—use of a crusher or mow curing stystem, for example—will improve hay quality.

Thieves Play Halstad under Lights Tonight

The Thieves moved into a tied for second place in the Red River Valley league standings on Sunday afternoon when, in a slugfest, they defeated the Alvarado Farmers, 13 to 9, on the Fair Grounds diamond.

Tonight, Wednesday, the local club will dedicate the lights at the Fair Grounds when they meet the highly-touted Halstad Pirates in an exhibition game, with game-time scheduled for 8:15 p. m. Next Sunday night, on the Fair Grounds diamond, the Thieves will play a return game against the Red Lake Falls Lakers, and it is probable that the league championship will hinge on the outcome of this game.

Playing an exhibition game at Halstad on Saturday night, the Thieves, playing fine ball behind the steady righthanded pitching of Myrle Rice, surprised the Pirates by scoring a 6 to 3 triumph over the Norman-Polk "powerhouse."

Sunday's tilt here between Alvarado and the Thieves was a fine ball game for four innings, with the locals scoring twice in the 2nd inning, holding a 2 to 1 lead. In the 5th inning Alvarado's Milt Sands opened with a single, Don Bergman sacrificed, and then the Farmers began their barrage: Webb Larson doubled, Hubert Torkelson singled, Gladdin Kollin sent a ground single to left field; Dennis Kollin singled to left-center; Danielson singled into left field; Ron Olson was nicked by a pitched ball; Don Hagglund lined a single into right-center, and that blow brought Sid Vraa in from shortstop to take over the Thieves' pitching duties. Sands singled to center-field; Bergman struck out; Larson drew a walk; and Torkelson flied to Jack Hoppe in left field to end the inning, with the Farmers scoring seven runs.

The Thieves picked up a run in the last half of the 5th inning; and in the 6th inning, singles by Swede Lund, Ralph Skjod, and Al Williamson, a double by Sid Vraa, and a walk to Joey Poole chased lefty Don Hagglund off the mound, bringing righthander Dennis Kollin in from shortstop to do the pitching. Gene Leslie greeted Kollin with a base hit to right-field, and when Lund was out on a fly to right field to retire the side, the Thieves had scored five runs and taken an 8 to 7 lead.

Sands poled out a home run over the left field fence to open th 7th inning, and tie the game at 8-all. The Thieves broke up the game in the 8th inning when, with two men out and Vraa on third base, Leslie belted a double to the fence in left-center; Lund doubled to left field; Perkins was safe on an error; Jack Hoppe looped a double into left-center; Skjod sent a hot shot through the shortstop's legs; and Jerry Stevens sent a pop fly to first base to end the frame, with the Thieves adding five runs to their total.

In the top of the 9th, Alvarado, with two men out, scored a run on a hit batsman, a fielder's choice, and Glad Kollins' single, and had the bases loaded when Dennis Kollin reached first on an infield hit. Danielson grounded to first base, and the game was ended when Shorty Perkins trotted over the base for the third out.

Halstad Hates to Lose

If there is one thing that can be said about Erv Warner, the popular and capable manager of the Halstad Pirates baseball team, it is that he hates to lose, and especially to Thief River Falls. Following last Saturday night's game at Halstad, in which the Thieves scored a 6 to 3 win over the confident Pirates, Erv vowed that he and his team would get their revenge tonight, when they play the Thieves in a feature of the dedication of the Fair Grounds lights.

In last Saturday's surprising win at Halstad, the Thieves had the services of righthanded Myrle Rice. Rice, a student at the University of North Dakota, had intended to play here this season, but he secured employment at Grand Forks and as a result will be available to the Thieves for exhibition games only. According to general manager Harold Johnson, Rice won't be on hand for tonight's game, but the Thieves will have a capable replacement in southpaw Bobby Carlson, the former Karlstad high school star.

Get out to the Fair Grounds early tonight, and stay late. The ceremonies and the game will be worth the while.

In the Fours

The championship flight of the city golf tournament has, except for the Bob Ulsaker vs. Phil LeGault first round match, reached the "fours," and the golfers who have gained berths in the semi-finals are Wally DuChamp, Stan Larson and Lloyd Bennes.

Wally DuChamp defeated Vic Kvikstad, 1-up in a match that was carried to the 21st hole before it was decided. Stan Larson, who was runner-up to Vic Jung last year and who is rated as a favorite this year, defeated Jerry Tygeson, 5 and 4; and Lloyd Bennes edged out Ray Ranta, 1-up in 19 holes.

If Wally can get his wood clubs to behave he may give the winner of the Ulsaker vs. LeGault match a tussle, but the odds are that DuChamp will be eliminated in the semi-finals. It was reported for awhile on Tuesday that Stan Larson had suffered a badly mangled "finger", and that report hoisted Lloyd Bennes' hope plenty high. That "finger" proved to be an artificial one, so Lloyd will have to meet an able-bodied Larson in the semi's.

Elwood Karwand came into town on Tuesday and he plans to visit here for several days. Elwood explains that he will be available for matches, having a preference to meet Stan Larson, Lloyd Bennes, and others in the championship flight.

Well Done, Boys

The Thief River Falls trap shooting squad—Hank Storhaug, Dr. Jim Diase, Mel Hyland, Clarence Mattson and Ray Johnson—accomplished quite a feat on Sunday afternoon when they defeated the Crookston team to gain possession of the eighty-dollar Northwestern Sportsmen's Club trophy. It marks the first time that we can recall, that the local club's team has been successful in capturing that trophy.

That's a young and vigorous squad that the local club sent to the posts on Sunday and those boys intend to keep that trophy here for several years. You can get quotes from those boys on that. Incidently, the local trap shoot league, and they shoot their league matches tomorrow, is entitled to considerable credit for the local team's win. The trap shoot league has generated plenty of interest this year, and it has developed some fine shooters.

Miscellany

Have you seen the new jackets that the members of the state high school hockey champion Prowlers received this week? The boys, on their promotion, raised the money to pay for these jackets. They're pretty swell, and a swell bunch of boys will be wearing them.—The Winnipeg Blue Bombers have released Dave Skrein and Mel Holme, guilback candidates and the two former Gopher greats will try and find a place on another Canadian club.

Thieves Tie for 2d Place in RRV Loop

League Is Nearing End of Its Regular Schedule

Red River Valley League	Won	Lost	Pct.
Red Lake Falls	6	3	.667
Thief River Falls	5	3	.625
Argyle	5	3	.625
Alvarado	4	4	.500
Crookston	4	5	.444
Viking	1	7	.125

Results of Sunday's games:
Alvarado, 9, at Thief River Falls, 13.
Red Lake Falls, 10, at Viking, 7.
Argyle, 4, at Crookston, 5.

Schedule, Sunday, August 1st
Red Lake Falls at Thief River Falls.
Argyle at Viking.
Crookston at Alvarado.

Except for the playing off of two postponed games — Viking at Thief River Falls, and Alvarado at Argyle—the Red River Valley loop will complete its 1954 schedule on Sunday. It is apparent that the outcome of Sunday's games will be vital factors in determining the league championship and the playoff positions.

Red Lake Falls, holding a half-game lead on first place, can clinch at least a tie for the league title by defeating the Thieves here on Sunday night. Crookston, battling to gain a berth in the playoffs, will be in a "do or die" tilt with the Alvarado Farmers at Alvarado. Argyle, the erstwhile league leaders, will attempt to get back into the winning column after receiving two successive defeats, by defeating Viking at Viking on Sunday afternoon.

Last Sunday's games found the Thieves defeating Alvarado, 13 to 9, in a free-hitting contest. The Crookston Pirates, rallying for two runs in the last half of the 9th inning, edged out the Argyle Maroons, 5 to 4, at Crookston; and the Lakers of Red Lake Falls, by a 10 to 7 win over Viking at Viking, assumed the top rung in the league standings.

Legion Junior Club Enters District Play at Fosston Saturday

Coach Ralph Skjod's junior Legion baseball team gained a berth in the district tournament that will be played at Fosston on Saturday night and Sunday when they defeated the Crookston juniors, 8 to 1, in a sub-district finals game played at Red Lake Falls on Saturday afternoon.

According to the pairings that have been made for the tournament at Fosston on July 31st and August 1st, Breckenridge will meet Hawley in a first round game at 7:00 p. m. Saturday night, and at 9:00 p. m. Thief River Falls will meet the winner of the Bagley vs. Winger tilt.

Saturday afternoon a game against the Crookston juniors was a right handed pitching duel between the locals' Sid Vraa and Crookston's Hank Hulst until the 4th inning when coach Skjod's club, on one hit, a walk, and three errors, scored three runs to break up a 1 to 1 game. The locals added a pair of runs in the 5th, and scored two more tallies in the 6th inning.

Vraa limited the Crookston club to one hit, that a single into left field by southpaw swinging Glen Hannah in the 4th inning, and collecting thirteen strikeouts.

No Special Auto License Numbers Issued for 1955

Minnesotans who continue to write the state capitol asking for two and three-digit auto license numbers are wasting three-cent stamps, Mrs. Mike Holm, secretary of state, pointed out Saturday.

All license plates for 1955, she reminded, will bear four digits preceded by two letters. The numbers will run from 1,000 to 9,999.

Mrs. Holm said she has received a number of requests for special numbers in the past week. She added, "There will be no special number section in the state capitol this fall."

Study Ordered of Patrol Activities

Commences This Week at Governor's Request

Another step aimed at stepping up enforcement on Minnesota's trunk highways was announced today in a joint statement by State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann and Highway Safety Director Earl M. Larimer, with the signing of an agreement for a survey and study of the traffic supervision activities of the state highway patrol. The study will be made by the traffic division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police of Evanston, directed by Franklin P. Kreml, whi is a national leader in the field of traffic law enforcement.

This latest move against the state's traffic toll is being taken in following out Governor C. Elmer Anderson's request that everything possible be done to cut down the number of accidents, deaths and injuries on the state's trunk roads.

"We are authorizing this study," said Commissioner Hoffmann, "with the sole purpose of directing the maximum effort of the patrol towards the reduction of accidents."

Work on the study was scheduled to start July 27th, with the report to be submitted by November 10th.

Director Larimer pointed out that all of the work to be undertaken under the agreement will be made within the framework of present state laws and will be designed to point out where improvements can be made under existing conditions.

A WAR WE DIDN'T WIN

Now that the fighting is drawing to a close, we know that the battle with the army worm cannot be written down as a victory. In terms of both fighting costs and damage inflicted by the enemy it has been a terrifically expensive war. We know the advance of the enemy has been checked. But we know too that he has not been eradicated. Some day he probably will strike again.

Looking back over the struggle it is easy to see how the losses might have been reduced considerably if we had known more about what to expect. The sudden attack caught us unprepared. We lacked information on how to proceed. When we did learn what to do neither arms nor ammunition were available. As valuable times was lost waiting for equipment and supplies, the losses mounted steadily.

Looking back over what has happened isn't going to improve the present situation. Through the experience we have gained however, we might learn how to reduce the losses if there should be a recurrence.

Based on this year's experience, Myron Clark, Minnesota's commissioner of agriculture, and T. L. Aamodt, state entomologist, agree that stockpiling of insecticides might be justified as a defense measure. Knowing how costly it was for this corner of the state to wait several days for shipments of chemicals from distant points, this proposal makes sense.

Steps should be taken to make insecticides available on short notice. This can be done by action only at the state level.

Infestations of this kind do not occur with sufficient frequency in any one community to make it possible to prepare for them effectively at the community level. In the state as a whole, however, the occurrence in one form or another is fairly regular and the infestations are of sufficient general concern to justify a more extensive and a more intensive state control program.

Under the circumstances Mr. Clark probably would be justified in holding a few meetings in the stricken areas to consider what might be done to meet more effectively the recurrences that we know are ahead of us.

This is not a problem that is peculiar to any one section of the state. Worms and bugs are a problem everywhere. We can get along with them in normal quantities. It is when a combination of circumstances permits them to develop in abnormal quantities that they become too much of a problem for effective local control. At such times we should be able to sound a general alarm and expect help from a trained organization ready with equipment and supplies for a speedy counterattack.

Retreating Forward?

The end of the fighting in Indo-China was celebrated as a victory both by the Red Chinese and by the French. To the French people the new leader who achieved this settlement of an eight-year-old war is a great national hero. And maybe that is what the French people need more than anything else at the present time—a leader behind whom they can unite.

French colonialism, along with the colonialism of other European countries, is a thing of the past. That is good.

The fact that this European colonialism may be replaced by a far more ruthless and oppressive Asiatic dictatorship is not good. Sometimes, however, it is necessary for conditions to become worse before they can become better.

As colonialism becomes less of an issue it is easier for us to justify our alliance with the leading nations of the free world in a common defense against communism.

It is natural for us to be sympathetic with any effort of a dependent people to secure freedom. Our own struggle for independence sets a pattern for such revolution.

Now that this issue of colonialism has been resolved and we no longer will be in the position where we might be accused of interfering in a struggle for liberty, our problem of working out the details of a united defense program may be greatly simplified.

By retreating in Indo-China the French may have been moving in the right direction.

Production Controls

Wheat growers have approved drastic production controls. This will mean another substantial reduction in wheat acreage which in turn will mean further reduction in farm income. The alternative of unlimited production however would mean ruinous prices. The decision to cut production is a wise one.

Production control is essential to price control and only by orderly production can we hope to level off the peaks and depressions that cause us so much trouble.

Underproduction can be just as ruinous as overproduction. Brazil is approaching the evil consequences of underproduction in coffee. Last year's crop failure boosted coffee prices and made a few Brazilians rich. The higher prices also invited competition, however. Production in other coffee producing countries is steadily increasing and it is now predicted that the price boom is headed for a bust. By the end of another growing season coffee growers will be confronted with a surplus problem.

It's the same old story. Prices that are too high lead to prices that are too low. Prices that are too low bring production cuts. Production cuts in turn result in higher prices and the depressions and peaks follow each other with a regularity that leaves no question as to cause.

By orderly production we deny ourselves the feasts but we also reduce the danger of the famine.

Production control is one thing, alas, that we need more of.

Further Goals of Maturity

Last week's column discussed some goals of the mature personality, to be thought of as "things to aim at" rather than things to be entirely reached. The mature personality is in motion in a direction of increased degrees of fulfillment. In addition to accepting the sex one is, and finding a balance of independence-dependence, some further goals are these:

A reasonably satisfying work adjustment. Most people are suited for several different kinds of work; the important thing is that, whatever the job, the individual feels worth while and respected in performing it. Being able to derive satisfaction from work is important in day-to-day living, and also in long-range development of the individual.

A rather small discrepancy between what the person feels he ought to be like and what he feels he really is. This means, first, a set of realistic standards and values, and then living up to them reasonably well. People who set their sights impossibly high and then are continually disappointed because they fail are bound to be unhappy and dissatisfied with themselves.

Being able to see new people and situations in a fairly objective way. Of course we build up expectations from past experience, but expectations based on a few incidents, or people, should not blind us to what is actually occurring at a different time. Some people who are called "cynics" are busy evaluating current things in terms of past disappointments and fail to take into account the different aspects of the present situation.

The capacity to be actively interested in the welfare of others—one's family, one's community, and other peoples of the world. The individual who is occupied wholly with himself, his feelings, his life, is often the one who is conflicted and inwardly so tied up with his own conflicts that he cannot see outer events as significant or interesting to him. One who has managed good adjustments to himself and his immediate surroundings is more free to view life more broadly.

These goals, held by parents, will help children, too, in growing up.

The 60 year anniversary celebration of the Bethesda Congregation was a big undertaking, but it was very successful, both socially and spiritually. The seed sown by our charter members and former pastors haven't all fallen on poor soil, or so many of our confirmands wouldn't have made special efforts to attend. The oldest member present was Miss Helen Akublom, who is 92½ years of age and now a resident of Warren at the Good Samaritan home who gave her testimony in the Swedish language. Her gift to the church was a brass missal stand for the altar which was dedicated. Mr. P. E. Sihlberg was the only charter member living and he is still an active one as he is also our janitor and the ladies owe him a vote of thanks for the many favors he helps us with. He also gave a short talk at the afternoon session.

Special mention must be given our main speakers, Rev. P. G. Carlstedt of Sandstone and Pastor Russell Lundgren of Hallock. The messages they brought us should inspire us to greater efforts for living in a land we can worship our Lord without fear in our hearts.

The Strandberg children and Mrs. Andrew Johnson brought big bouquets of glads in memory of their parents, Bernardsons and Strandbergs who had been such faithful servants amongst us. Cash was also given as memorials or to the piano fund from various friends.

Dinner was served to over 3 hundred people in the dining hall and stall the men had built on the south side of the church. Of course coffee time must not be forgotten by the scandinavians which was served after the afternoon service.

Among those who came to celebrate and visit relatives and friends were Mrs. Carl Swanson of Seattle, Wash., Peter and Andrew Isaacson of Long View, Wash., Mrs. Sam Thompson of Brinsmade, N. On Rt. 2, with Ingvold Rokke as carrier, extensions totaling better than 2 miles have been granted. This will improve the service in the Helmer Hanson, Lindholm area. Roads in this area have not been improved to the point where they could be called all weather roads. Curtis Rokkee of Greenbush was also a caller at the Harry Storeby farm. He just came back from Kogea.

"Where there's a weasel, there's a way"

Telephone Engineer Fred Pangborn was stumped. His crew had the job of placing an important telephone cable under the reinforced concrete runway and approaches at a midwest air base. Tearing up the runway would cost a lot of money and interrupt vital military traffic; Fred had to find a better way of getting that cable laid.

A half-mile-long drainage conduit buried six feet under the runway offered some possibilities. The conduit was located in an ideal spot, but getting the cable through it looked like an impossible job.

Then Fred remembered a trick he had used as a boy. He obtained a weasel and fashioned a simple harness for him. Placed in the conduit, the weasel scampered through to the other end, pulling a light string behind him. The crew used the string to pull through a thin wire. The thin wire brought a heavier wire, and this quickly snaked the heavy cable through.

We think this true story illustrates the resourcefulness of telephone people everywhere. You can depend on the telephone—and telephone people—to get your message through quickly and efficiently.

IT'S FOR YOU!... dependable telephone service that saves you countless steps, countless hours... for pennies a day.

It's the Hit that's writing New History

Take a look, if you please, at the car and the styling that are changing historic sales standings.

Take a look at the beauty and the buy called Buick—the car that is forging ahead to new sales heights in the 1954 market.

Take a look at the new best seller that has moved into the "Big Three" of the nation's top sales leaders—into that very exclusive circle that for two decades has held only the so-called "low-price three."

For today, as national sales figures for the first five months reveal, Buick is outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three." And each new month firms Buick's new position.

It takes solid worth to bring this about—a lot more automobile per dollar in Buick than in other cars.

But it also takes the glamorous new tomorrow styling that is Buick today. It takes the highest V8 horsepowers, Series for Series, in all Buick history. It takes the room and comfort and ride and handling that are Buick's proud tradition.

And it takes a range of cars to satisfy a wide range of people—with prices that most people can well afford. So you find the low-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-spacious SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER—the four big reasons for Buick's tremendous sales success.

Come in for a demonstration and you'll see what we mean.

With the years-away styling of this glamor car, you'll be way ahead at resale time. And right now you're money ahead with the big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you. Drop in this week.

Buick Sales are Soaring!

50 YEARS AGO

The Fifty Years Ago column this week is written by Joe Cervenka of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company who has spent considerable time in research on the development of telephone service in Thief River Falls.

There Were Two "Hello" Girls in 1904

It was a big year for new things in Thief River Falls in 1900. Electric lights were turned on for the first time just two days before the turn of the century. A patent medicine peddler came to town in a "Horseless carriage" to give many local residents their first glimpse of an automobile, and a Thief River Falls businessman, H. Fant, announced plans to start a telephone exchange in the community.

Fant, who operated a confectionary store, had received permission from the city council in May of 1900 to start an exchange, but he did not get it into operation until a year later. The Thief River Falls News Rreporter in its May 3, 1900 issue:

"H. Fant will soon put in a telephone excange at Thief River Falls, having obtained a franchise from the council at its last session for that purpose." No further mention of this is made in the news until Jan. 31, 1901, when it was reported:

"H. Fant will commence the building of the local telephone exchange at once. The telephone poles are now here."

On March 21, 1901, the News reported that "H. Fant's telephone exchange will be in running order this week." However the exchange was not started until in late April or early May of that year because on April 24, 1902, the news published an article announcing that Fant had been compelled to order "A new 200 switchboard" to accommodate his increasing business, this coming "less than a year" after he had "started the exchange here with a small number of subscibers and now has 124."

The first long distance telephone connection apparently was made to Crookston. The Thief River Falls news-press reports that on March 20, 1900, the Northwestern Telephone Company was given permission by the city council "to use the streets and alleys of the city for placing its poles and wires when it constructed a long distance line to the city from Crookston."

Although available copies of early Thief River Falls newspapers make no mention of where Fant located the first switchboard, pioneer residents of the community recall it was in the space now occupied either by Poppler's or by the Ben Franklin Store Coffee Bar. The switchboard remained there until about 1910, when it was moved to the second floor of the Caldis Bldg., then to the Northeast corner of the Union State Bank bldg., next to the old auditorium building and then back to its present location in the bank building.

Long distance service was first made available to Fant's customers through their telephones in May, 1901. The May 23, 1901, news, reports:

"H. Fant has had the local telephone connected with the long distance, which makes it very convenient for the local subscribers." This was the extent of the newspaper's coverage of the new service.

Residents of nearby communities approached Fant on extending service to their towns because on Sept. 19, 1901, Fant said in a "pertinent pointers" advertising column in the Thief River Falls news:

"H. Fant.—The people up in the Thief River Lake country are very desirous of having telephone communication with this city, and I may build a line up there this winter. If I build I will eventually extend it to Roseau and Warroad." Just exactly when service was started to these communities is not clear.

Fant hadn't been in business long before he found out that bad weather can be a big headache in the telephone industry. According to the Aug. 15, 1901, news, a wind and rain storm hit the Thief River Falls area, and, among other things, "H. Fant's telephone exchange was damaged considerably. Many of the wires were blown down and telephone poles were broken. His damage is estimated at about $200."

On Feb. 27, 1902, the news further reported with regard to proposed long distance extensions:

"The village council of Warren will give H. Fant, of this city, an exclusive franchise for a term of three years to construct a long distance telephone line through the city, providing the Northwestern does not decide to build there within 30 days. The line which Mr Fant proposes to build will extend from this city to Pembina, N. D. and give the people of that section connection with the outside world. The people of Warren are foolish if they do not accept Mr. Fant's proposition, and thereby enjoy this modern convenience."

No mention is made in the early news stories as to who were the very first telephone customers in the community. However among the very first were the following advertisers in the news, who by late 1901 and early 1902 were including their telephone numbers in their advertisements as follows.

"Drs. Tupper and Strand, phone 27."

"Central Mercantile Co., phone 19."

"Law Office of Perl W Mabey, phone 89."

Among the early customers also was Dr G. W Booren, Thief River Falls dentist who is still a telephone customer today. He recalls that he first had a telephone in 1903, and in all that time he had had only two telephone numbers—79, and then 33, the number still assigned to him.

Fant operated the excange until 1907, when he sold the property to J. M. Bishop. Bishop held it only a short while, selling on Sept. 1, 1908, to the Tri-State Telephone Co., which provided services until Northwestern telephone exchange company, predecessor of today's Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, purchased the exchange in 1918.

Although the Thief River Falls news of 1901 offers no description of the type of telephone equipment used when Fant started the exchange, old timers believe the switchboard had only one position. Customers were equipped with the "Crank type" magneto telephones, which were changed to common battery at the time the switchboard was moved to the old auditorium in 1913.

First telephone operator in Thief River Falls was Andreina Helgeson, now Mrs. Emmett Crowe of Washington state. Second operator was Mrs Louis Yell, nee Anna Soards, who now lives in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Yell says she worked as an operator from 1903 to 1910. During those years, she recalls, her duties consisted of more than switching calls. "Sometimes we had to start the generator if it failed. And we collected bills, too," she said.

According to Mrs. Yell, there was no operator at night during the very first of the telephone.

First linemen were identified by Mrs Yell as Al Dixon and William Ferris.

One of Northwestern Bell's present operators in Thief River Falls, Mrs. Olga Eklund, recalls that when she started work as an operator in 1913, a four position switchboard was in use. Chief operator at that time was Mrs. Al Warner, now of Fargo. Mrs. Minnie Lundgren, who now lives in Anoka, was an operator then also.

Mrs. Eklund says she's much busier now than she was in her early years at the job, although at that time there was a wider variety of duties to perform.

"We used to give baseball scores, the time and even wake people up," she said.

Her most exciting moment as an operator came in 1933 on a bitterly cold winter morning. The old auditorium in which the switchboard was located caught fire at 3:30 a. m., and Mrs. Eklund remained at the board sounding the alarm until she had to be dragged away.

The number of telephones in the Thief River Falls exchange has increased steadily over the years. Only a few customers were first served by Fant in 1901, but subscribers were gradually added until they totalled 1,200 in 1930; 1,850 in 1940; 3,000 in 1950 and more than 3,200 at present.

Thirty operators here now handle approximately 15,000 local and 580 long distance calls daily, compared with 9,200 local, and 205 long distance calls on the average in 1940.

A. J. Rau has been Northwestern Bell's manager of the exchange here since 1929.

Switchboard and Operators in Thief River Falls in 1916

This is a picture of the telephone switchboard in Thief River Falls as it looked in 1916. Notice the full length skirts worn by the operators. Second from left is Mrs. Olga Eklund, who had started her career as an operator three years earlier, and still serves as an operator today. In the picture from left to right are: Sophie Hoyum (Mrs. L. H. Husby), Olga Knutson (Mrs. Olga Eklund), Adele Golden (Mrs. Orville Herron), Minnie Lundgren (Mrs. Martin Lundgren), Elsie Bundhund, Rose Moran (Mrs. Al Warner), Regina Amundson (Mrs. Arvid Westling-deceased), Mary Parenteau (deceased), Gertrude Nelson (Mrs. Oscar Cerny).

Thirty Operators Required To Maintain Present Service

This picture was taken June 1954 of the Thief River Falls switchboard. They are as busy as bees. On this day we handled 16,847 local calls and 628 long distance calls. The operators are from left to right: Mrs. Louise Steenerson, Mavis Kaushagen, Janice Johnson, Mrs. Olga Eklund, Mae Hjelle, Joan Johnson, Elsie Higdem, Joan Pederson, Mildred Schmitke, Beverly Blare, Mrs. Olga Eklund's service dates back to 1913.

"SHOOT IF YOU WILL THIS OLD MUZZLE-LOADER"

A gun, to Earl Young of Oliver Iron Mining's Geneva mine, is something "to be fired at will" rather than an antique to lie around collecting dust and rust. His collection includes two muzzle-loading pistols and an 185? muzzle-loading rifle, one of the first 32 - calibre automatics (about 60 years old), and an 1870 43 - calibre long - barreled Egyptian rifle. A Kentuck squirrel rifle and an English 1850 muzzle-loading double-barrel 14-gauge shotgun are also among the collection, along with powder horns and shot mold and pouches. Every firearm in Mr. Young's assortment is kept in perfect shooting shape.

WHO LIVED WHERE WHEN?

Minnesota's first census in 1850 showed the population 100% rural; by 1860 urban population had grown to 9.4% of the total; greatest urban percentage gain was between 1880 and 1890, during which decade rural population percentage dropped from 80.9 to 66.2 while the urban percentage leaped from 19.1 to 33.8. The following decade, to the 1900 census, showed the least shift, only 3/10ths of 1%. The 1940 census found Minnesota population divided almost exactly evenly between town and country, at 49.8% and 50.2%, respectively. The last census, 1950, tipped in favor of the cities, with 53.9% of the state population listed as urban, 46.1% as rural.

Wildlife Wetlands Acquisition Plans Are Making Headway

Active progress with the wetlands for wildlife acquisition program, was reported Tuesday by Frank D. Blair, Director of the Division of Game and Fish. This program recently got a substantial lift through an allotment of $100,000 from the game and fish contingent fund, approved by the Legislative Advisory Committee.

Richard J. Dorer, acting supervisor of the bureau of game, reports that the bureau now has on hand options for purchases of 211 different wetland areas with a total of 11,669.23 acres in the following counties: Becker, Benton, Blue Earth, Clay, Dakota, Dodge, Freeborn, Jackson, Lac qui Parle, Lincoln, Lyon, McLeod, Mahnomen, Murray, Nobles, Norman, Pennington, Pipestone, Redwood, Renville, Rice, Swift, Waseca, Watonwan, Wilkin and Yellow Medicine.

Field men of the bureau of wildlife development, game wardens, and other field men, with the cooperation of sportsmen's clubs, soil conservation district supervisors, and others interested, are busy locating and examining additional areas that provide valuable habitat for waterfowl or other wildlife in various parts of the state. They find that the program is meeting with a favorable reception among farmers and local agricultural agencies. They expect to secure options on at least 218 additional wetland tracts within the next few months.

The total purchase price for the tracts already optioned is about $360,000 and it is estimated that additional options to be secured in the near future will amount to at least $150,000 making the total cost of wetlands areas available for acquisition by the end of the present calendar year about $510,000.

To apply on this cost, the following funds are now in sight:

Pittman-Robertson funds 75% federal, 25% state) to December 31, subject to approval by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service $313,920
Allotment from game and fish contingent fund, per LAC approval 100,000
Bureau of Game funds .. 48,000
Contributions to date .. 787

Total available $462,707

From the above figures it is apparent that more funds will be needed if the options now on hand plus the additional options expected this season are to be taken up.

All contributions received for the wetlands acquisition program are placed in a special fund set up by the state auditor under a directive from the commissioner of conservation, and are earmarked for expenditure only for wetlands acquisition purposes.

On the basis of the latest information obtained through field surveys made by the conservation department, Mr. Dorer has prepared a revised estimate of the over-all wetlands acquisition program as follows:

Total number of different wetland areas to be acquired scattered among 63 counties .. 2,000
Average acreage of each separate area, including water and bordering land ...... 105 acres
Total acreage of all areas 210,000
Total estimated cost at $30 per acre $6,300,000
Less funds now in sight .. 462,707
Balance of funds needed to complete entire program, estimated at $5,837,293

It is therefore apparent that in order to complete this program substantial additional funds will have to be provided by federal or state appropriations or through contributions. Unless the money is raised within the next few years, a large portion of the desirable wetlands will be lost through drainage.

Protect Food in Hot Weather to Prevent Spoiling

Extension Nutritionists at Minnesota "U" Warn of Food Poison Danger

Importance of special care in handling food during hot weather to avoid food poisoning was stressed today by Ina Rowe and Grace Brill, extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota.

The mistaken belief that once food is cooked it will keep for hours, even in a warm place, seems to be responsible for many of the outbreaks of food poisoning that occur each summer, the nutritionists say. They point out that the safe rule to follow when cooked food must wait to be eaten is: Keep it chilled or keep it very hot, but never at a warm in-between temperature.

Foods which cause food poisoning often show no signs of spoilage, so it is not safe to rely on taste, odor or appearance.

Soft protein foods are especially subject to rapid and dangerous spoilage when standing in a warm place. These include custards, cream-filled pastries or cakes, cooked salad dressing, potato salad, stuffed eggs or egg salads, creamed meats, poultry or fish. These foods cannot safely stand around in picnic baskets or in a warm kitchen.

Cooked foods which are not to be eaten immediately should be cooled in cold running water, then refrigerated until they are to be served.

The nutritionists also warn that a cake box is not a safe place for any cake or pastry with a custard or cream filling. The refrigerator is the best place to store cream-filled pies and cakes, as well as any cooked foods that must be kept several hours before serving. Cold keeping means safe keeping in the case of these foods.

Besides providing employment for nearly one out of every 37 persons in the United States labor force, the oil industry offers excellent wages, good working conditions, and steady jobs.

Bins Provide Storage for 430,000 Bu. of Grain

Shown above are a few of the 75 government grain bins with a total capacity of 430,000 bushels now in the final stages of installation just beyond the southeast city limits of Thief River Falls, between Highway 59 and the extension of First st. E.

P. W. Culkins, office manager for the Pennington county ASC committee, stated that the first grain was to be taken in Monday, and it was expected 60,000 bushels of 1953 grain would be handled daily. The grain, he said, must first be taken to a local elevator to be weighed and graded to determine if it is eligible for storage.

The local installation, which will be supervised by Orvin Anderson of Goodridge, comprises 30 wood bins with a capacity of 9,500 bushels each, and 45 Butler steel bins of 3,250-bushel capacity. The wood bins were installed by the Timmerman Lumber and Mfg. Co. of Hibbing, and the steel bins by the Henry Carlson Co. of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Another group of six wood and 15 steel grain bins has been installed at St. Hilaire, with Woodrow Almquist as supervisor.

Christmas Seal Unit Tells of State Work

Money given by Pennington county people for Christmas Seals is helping to track down TB with tuberculin tests and chest x-rays. The search for hidden tuberculosis is one major program which Christmas Seal funds help promote and finance, according to the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association's annual report, published this month.

The report for April 1953 to April 1954 mentions the following case-finding activities in Minnesota's 84 rural area counties:

51 Parent-Teacher associations stressed TB testing as part of the Summer Round-up of pre-school children.

28 counties appropriated Christmas Seal funds to sanatoriums or county public health nursing services to aid in case-finding and TB follow-up.

16 counties provided funds for the H. Longstreet Taylor research at the University of Minnesota—a study to determine effectiveness of TB control and prevention methods.

Nine counties, including Pennington, were accredited for progress in reducing TB death and infection rates. Tuberculin testing of high school seniors was done to sample infection rate in the low death-rate counties.

Christmas Seal funds were paid to Oakland Park sanatorium for chest x-rays taken as follow-up on the tuberculin testing program in the Thief River Falls school.

The county is mentioned for its participation in state-wide Christmas Seal health education programs which alert people to tuberculosis problems and help teach good health habits. As one health aid, first aid manuals were placed in all county schools.

Vows Pledged Sunday

Before an altar decorated with garden flowers and candles, Helen Clarice Sorenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sorenson of the St. Hilaire community became the bride of Glenn L. Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Davidson of Holt, at the Community Church in Thief River Falls Sunday afternoon. Rev. E. C. Mead officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Karen King of this city played a prelude of organ music and also accompanied Muriel Copp friend of the bride, while she sang "Because" preceding the ceremony. Lohengrins Wedding March was played as the bridal party took their places before the altar, following which Muriel sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." She also sang "Wedding Prayer" at the close of the ceremony following the Lord's Prayer while the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of heavy white satin fashioned with elbow length sleeves, a gathered skirt, fitted bodice with buttons down the front and a Peter Pan collar. She also wore a finger tip veil and a lace half-bonnet borrowed from her cousin Mrs. Robert Johnson. Her bouquet was crescent shaped with white carnations and pink tea roses.

Shirley Sorenson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and was dressed in light blue frosted organdy. Audrey Sorenson, another sister, and Carol Davidson, sister of the groom, both dressed in yellow frosted organdy, were bridesmaids. The flower girl was the groom's niece, Gloria Swenson, who was dressed in blue frosted organdy. All these attendants' gowns had scalloped neck lines and each wore heart shaped half bonnets, and carried colonial type bouquets.

The groom was attended by his cousins, Dale Davidson and Odell Christianson, and the bride's brother, Henry Sorenson Jr.

The ring bearer, Stevie Jarland, was dressed in a white jacket and blue trousers. Ushers were the bride's cousin, James H. Muzzy and the groom's cousin, Dean Davidson.

Mrs. Sorenson chose a navy blue dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother wore navy blue nylon with white accessories. The bride's grandmother wore navy blue also. A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors for about 175 guests. The room was decorated with garden flowers. Mrs. Lewis Swenson, the grooms' sister was in charge of the guest book. Doreen Christenson, the groom's cousin, Margaret Swanson, a friend of the bride, both of Minneapolis and Betty Jean Malberg, the bride's cousin were in charge of the gift table. Cleo Knutson, Donna Davidson, Arleen Malberg, Dorothy Muzzy and Marly Myrom, all cousins of the bride and groom were waitresses. Mrs. Oscar Christenson, aunt of the groom, cut the wedding cake that had been baked by the bride's aunts, Mrs. Harry Myrom and Mrs. Fred Hollander. Miss Lida Muzzy, aunt of the bride poured. For their wedding trip Mrs. Davidson chose a light blue dress of linen with scoop neckline and white jersey trim on sleeves and a shrug jacket with rhinestones and pearl trim. She wore white accessories. The couple will live on a farm northeast of Holt.

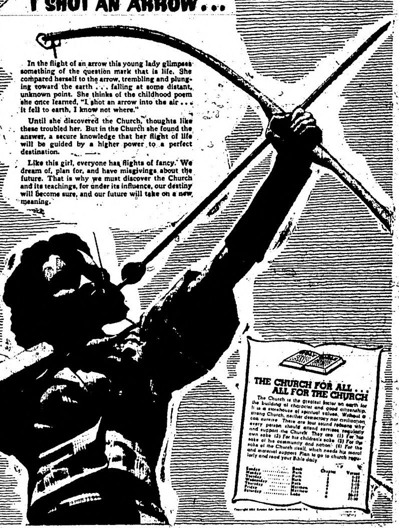
VISION
Is Life's Most Priceless Treasure—Guard It Well

I SHOT AN ARROW . . .



In the flight of an arrow this young lady glimpses something of the question mark that is life. She compared herself to the arrow, trembling and plunging toward the earth . . . falling at some distant, unknown point. She thinks of the childhood poem she once learned, "I shot an arrow into the air . . . it fell to earth, I know not where."

Until she discovered the Church, thoughts like these troubled her. But in the Church she found the answer, a secure knowledge that her flight of life will be guided by a higher power to a perfect destination.

Like this girl, everyone has flights of fancy. We dream of, plan for, and have misgivings about the future. That is why we must discover the Church and its teachings, for under its influence, our destiny will become sure, and our future will take on a new meaning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Conservation Group to Meet in St. Cloud

A sweeping statewide program for conservation legislation will be officially launched by the Minnesota Conservation Federation and its 120 affiliated member clubs and associations when the federation's second annual state assembly convenes at St. Cloud Saturday and Sunday, August 21 and 22, at the St. Cloud Hotel.

In making the announcement, Kern Olson, Thief River Falls, president of the federation, said that more than a hundred certified delegates from all over the state will participate in the business of drafting the federation's all-out legislative program, as well as formally launching a new federation-sponsored outdoor newspaper and establishing a new sportsmen's group liability insurance plan, and other projects.

A specially planned conservation symposium, open to the public and conducted by picked experts who will present an up-to-date analysis of the over-all conservation problem as related to soil, water, forests and wildlife, will be a unique feature of the conclave. Any interested individuals or groups may attend although only registered members and delegates will have a vote in the proceedings, according to Cliff Sakry, executive secretary.

The federation has as its chief aim the unification and coordination of all conservation thought and action and to prepare common legislation reflecting the wishes of the majority before being presented to the Legislature. It also seeks better conservation through education.

Having more than doubled in size since its first state assembly a year ago, the federation has grown steadily in membership and project activity, and already has received high national recognition for its outstanding year-around hunting and outdoor safety campaign.

Officers of the federation urge all organized conservation groups not already affiliated to join immediately and become eligible to send delegates for active participation at the Assembly. Complete details, assembly procedure and membership applications may be secured from the federation office, 41 Elmo Park, Hopkins, Minnesota.

History Society Explains Names of State Places

Minnesota has always presented one problem that has taxed the ingenuity of its citizens. That was to find the names that were necessary for counties, communities, rivers and lakes, according to a bulletin from the Minnesota Historical Society.

The territory created nine counties, six with Indian names. When 78 more counties came into existence there were names from many sources.

The Indian names still continued. There are Winona, Wabasha and Mahnomen counties. The earlier settlers of the territory and state left their names on counties such as Ramsey, Sibley, McLeod, Rice, Renville, Goodhue, Brown and many others.

Counties were named in honor of early explorers, Nicollet, Hennepin, Beltrami and Faribault. Minnesota's largest county was named in honor of St. Louis. The second in size is called Koochiching from the rushing waters of the falls on the Rainy River. That one third in size is Itasca. The origin of this word appears to the Minnesota Historical Society to be somewhat confused.

Minnesota has a Lake county and a Lake of the Woods county. The name of the Father of His Country was imposed upon one of the nine counties created by the first territorial legislature.

Game Wardens to Attend School at Red Lake Refuge

Announcement is made of the annual two-session game warden school to be held August 1-7 and 8-14 at the Norris camp in the Red Lake Game refuge south of Roosevelt.

Chester S. Wilson, conservation commissioner; Clarence Prout, deputy; Frank D. Blair, director of the division of game and fish; and Gordon Wollan, deputy, will lead off the discussion on personnel, administrative and field problems as well as legal matters, safety, and similar topics.

John H. Burwell, special assistant attorney general, Sam. D. Hardy, special agent FBI, William H. Joyce, president Minnesota police and peace officers association; A. L. Kaupanger, Emergency Conservation Committee; and H. F. Davis, U. S. Fish and Wildlife service will discuss special subjects.

About one half of the 138 state game wardens will attend each session of the school, and supervisors and game refuge and fisheries personnel will attend both sessions.

16,000 Minnesota Drivers Forfeit Licenses in 1954

Drivers licenses of more than 16,000 motorists were either revoked or suspended during the first six months of this year, according to a report issued by the drivers license division of the Minnesota department of highways. This is almost 1,000 more than lost their driving permits during the first half of 1953.

The division's examiners gave driving tests to 64,000 applicants who took the inside tests, while another 52,000 were given road driving tests, for an increase of almost 3,000 inside tests and more than 8,000 road tests over the activities of the first half of 1953.

A total of 1,156 drivers were apprehended for driving while their driving licenses were under suspension or revocation, while 661 repeaters of drunken driving became entangled with the law during the first half of the year.

Talent Winners in 4-H Contests Vie at State Fair

Twenty-three 4-H members who were winners in five district events in the annual 4-H Club Search for Talent contest will be awarded trips to the Minnesota State Fair to compete for the state championship.

The state competition, held annually as part of the State Fair program for club members, is scheduled for Wednesday evening, September 1, in Erickson hall in the 4H building on the State Fair grounds. It will climax the 1954 Search for Talent contest in which 4-H'ers participated from 86 counties.

The talent contest is being sponsored by the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service and Cargill, Inc., Minneapolis grain firm, for the fifth year.

District winners who will compete for top honors at the State Fair include Sonya Sharpe, Shelly, who in June was crowned Dairy Princess at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls.

Awards, provided by Cargill, include an expense-paid trip to the State Fair for district winners and leather billfolds for all county winners. First, second and third place winners in the state contest will receive prizes of $100, 75 and 50 for their 4-H clubs.

Air Force Recruiting Policies Explained

Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, recently became the home of a new Air Force organization, the 3500th USAF Recruiting Wing. The efforts of this organization are dedicated to select, through civilian sources, a sufficient number of high caliber, qualified personnel, (including WAF) to meet the requirements of the USAF.

Since 1947, when the Air Force and the Army became two separate organizations, Army and Air Force recruiting was accomplished by a joint effort. However, due to the tremendous defense build-up, in particular, the Air Force, this system of joint recruiting made it difficult for the Air Force to exercise adequate supervision and control over their recruiters in order to achieve USAF procurement goals.

Consequently, the Secretary of Defense, Charles Wilson, signed an order directing the Air Force to assume operational control of Air Force recruiting and be responsible for its administrative and logistic support not later than July 1st, 1954. The directive, however, prescribed the continuation of joint processing of applicants, joint examination stations, and whenever possible, joint use of facilities, as an economy measure. This move was made to give each line of defense more efficient and economical control of their individual recruiting needs, resulting in more protection per defense dollar.

The selection, testing and processing of entrants into the United States Air Force is big business. Its operation is nationwide and requires a great deal of supervision & guidance. Three hundred and forty-one officers, 2,543 airmen, and 148 civilians are required to efficiently operate the organization.

Due to the tremendous emphasis put on air power, manning the nations first line of defense is no minor matter. Thousands of young men and women will be needed in the coming year to meet Air Force personnel requirements.

Even though the Air Force needs young men for all types of duties, it does not want to reach into the nations schools and colleges to get them. The Air Force still operates on the concept that young men should graduate, then think of a career with the USAF. Education is still believed to be the key to long range success. It is the job of the 3500th, through adequate publicity and selective selling, to see that it is the best.

An all-out effort is being made by the Air Force recruiters all over America to acquaint the general public with their Air Force, its mission and career opportunities.

The United States Air Force Recruiting Office serving the Thief River Falls area is located in Room 209, Elks Building, Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Special Polio Drive to Open Here Aug. 16

Woman's Club to Direct Drive with Objective of Raising about $3,500

The Pennington county emergency polio drive to replenish the depleted treasury of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will get under way Monday, August 16, and continue thru the 31st under the direction of the Thief River Falls Woman's club, it was announced today by Mrs. Robert Robarge, president, and Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen, who are serving as co-chairmen.

"The staggering costs of patient care and a two-point prevention program have created a crisis that only the Emergency March of Dimes can solve," Roy J. Oen chairman of the Pennington county chapter, declared.

"That is why the special drive has been set for Pennington county," Mr. Oen said.

The chapter chairman pointed out that the total raised in last January's March of Dimes was not enough to continue payment of patient aid bills this year. Funds now are insufficient to support the double job of carrying a record polio patient load and advancing the hopeful polio prevention program. Money must be raised quickly to help polio sufferers today, without halting efforts toward prevention.

"Although our chapter raised $8,385 last January our treasury is exhausted today because of the heavy demand for patient care in Pennington county," Mr. Oen said.

This past year alone, our aid to our polio patients, both old and new, from Pennington county amounted to $13,506, he stated, adding that Pennington county must raise in the vicinity of $3,500 in this drive. "Facing these facts," Oen said, "it is obviously impossible to cut back financially in the field of patient care. That's why the Emergency March of Dimes Aug. 16-31 must succeed. The thousands who are seriously disabled and now depend upon their fellow Americans' generosity constitute a public trust that must be fulfilled."

Soil Conservation Supervisors Plan Picnic Here Sunday

Annual Outing Set for Tindolph Park; Program Includes Reports on Work

Nearly 50 supervisors of soil conservation districts in Northwestern Minnesota and their families are expected to attend their annual meeting and picnic in Tindolph park in this city next Sunday, August 8, beginning at 12:30.

Alfred Longren, chairman of the Pennington county district, which will serve as host, announced that Paul Engelstad will preside over the program, which will feature a discussion by Mr. McClure, SCS technician from Cavalier, N. D., on the work being done on the Tongue river in North Dakota under the small watershed program, where the people are working to prevent flooding of the smaller creeks.

Progress reports will also be submitted by supervisors of the various districts in this section of the state.

Longren invited farmers and businessmen interested in the work of the SCS to attend the outing.

Dr. Harold Hand, Former Principal Here, is Honored

Dr. Harold C. Hand, professor of education at the University of Illinois, who served as Lincoln high school principal in Thief River Falls 25 years ago, recently received tribute from Columbia University in New York City in connection with that institution's bicentennial celebration.

Dr. Hand was one of "six classroom teachers" selected for the honor in a nationwide canvass of schools and colleges.

Time magazine says of him that "He is a devotee of the theory that traditional subjects are less important than service to society, and he has helped arouse dozens of schools and communities to work more closely together."

Assessed Values in Pennington Co. Total $5,063,978

County Equalization Board Makes No Changes in Co. Assessor's Figures

Assessed valuations of real estate and personal property in Pennington county increased from $4,904,149 in 1953 to $5,063,978 in 1954, a gain of $69,829, it was revealed at the annual meeting of the county board of equalization last Friday.

The board, as was the case last year, made no changes in the city village and township assessors' figures as adjusted by County Assessor Gunnet Gunstenson.

The assessed valuation of real estate in the county mounted from $3,549,798 at the last assessment in 1952 to $3,598,992 this year. Thief River Falls accounts for slightly more than half the total, or $1,963,578 for 1954, compared to $1,920,983 in 1952.

Personal property assessed values for the county gained slightly from $1,444,251 in 1953 to $1,464,986 this year, while for the city of Thief River Falls they registered a slight decline from $877,055 in 1953 to $864,304 in 1954.

Man Badly Hurt in Collision on No. 1

Thief River Falls Man Was Driver of Other Car

An unidentified man remained in critical condition in a Warren hospital Tuesday following a two-car collision on Highway No. 1 east of Warren late Monday.

Earlier Monday another two-car collision claimed the life of Otto F. Erickson, 67, of Kennedy, at the intersection of Highways 1 and 220, one mile east of Oslo.

The unidentified man was injured when cars driven by Arthur Gutterud of Thief River Falls and August Reinschmidt of Crookston met head-on seven and a half miles east of Warren. The man was a passenger in the Reinschmidt car.

Both Gutterud's and Reinschmidt's cars were demolished. The state highway patrol and the Marshall county sheriff's office were investigating.

Reinschmidt is also hospitalized at Warren receiving treatment for severe lacerations and a head injury. Gutterud received minor injuries and was treated at the Thief River Falls hospital.

Injured in the crash that killed Erickson were his wife, 62, Frank Slominski, 58, of Ardoch, N. D., driver of the other car, and Slominski's 8-year-old daughter, Carol Ann.

Rotary Keeps Score: Lions Lose Tourney

Members of the local Lions club were guests of the Rotarians Monday evening at the annual inter-club dinner and golf tourney at the Thief River Golf club. More than 60 members participated.

Inasmuch as Rotarian Al Berge was the official scorer, the Lions were not astounded to hear tourney chairman Lloyd Bennes announce at the conclusion of play that the Rotarians had won the event by a total score of 448 to 489, and will hold the tin can trophy until next year, when the Lions will be hosts and will do the scorekeeping.

Bennes conceded, however, that Dr. M. G. Johnson of the Lions had turned in the day's best score of 40, while Justus Larson made the low Rotary score of 41. Each received a prize, as did Rev. E. C. Mead, who won the blind bogey event with a 46, and Stan Mortenson, who was adjudged the best non-golfing putter. Portly E. O. Peterson also received a gadget making it unnecessary for him to stoop over to pick the golf ball out of the cup.

Justus Larson presided over the after-dinner program, which also included an appreciative talk by Lion H. O. Chommie and the showing by Kalmer Ostby of a sound movie demonstrating how to play better golf.

Crookston Group Here to Publicize Diamond Jubilee

Kangaroo Court Staged by Visitors on LaBree av. Saturday Evening

Heralded by honking horns, a cavalcade of a dozen cars filled with Crookston residents invaded Thief River Falls Saturday evening for the purpose of publicizing Crookston's diamond jubilee celebration scheduled for August 8 to 14.

The men wore whiskers and derby hats, while the women in the party were attired in gowns of a bygone day.

The visitors staged an impromptu kangaroo court at the corner of LaBree av. and Third st., complete with judge and jury and a group of Keystone cops to round up the victims. Mayor Agnes Israelson was present to give the proceedings an air of authenticity.

County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr, Ward Nichols and other local men were brought into court on various charges, and were sentenced to distribute advertising matter for the Crookston celebration.

Crookston is celebrating its 75th anniversary with a week-long celebration. One of the features each night will be the "Album of Memories" pageant to be held in the park in the city. Over 500 people will take part in the spectacle.

Plans Moving Along for Fete in September

50th Anniversary of Coming of Soo Line to Be Observed Sept. 24-26

Plans for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the coming of the Soo Line are taking form. Several committees have met during the past week and arrangements are being made for a 'home-stretch' start at a dinner meeting to be held August 12, Kendal Gustafson, general chairman, announced today.

Presentation of a pageant depicting the early history of the community will be the main event of the celebration program which will open with a banquet Friday evening, September 24. The pageant will be presented Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

This production, now in the making, is being written and will be directed by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Searls and their son, Harold Jr., of Bemidji. The Searls produced the pageants presented at Itasca Park and at several other places when Minnesota's territorial centennial was celebrated in 1949.

Members of the Thief River Falls Woman's Club will assist the Searls in the production of the pageant. This participation will be directed by a committee consisting of Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. Robert Robarge, president, and Mrs. D. E. Lawrence, past president of the club.

A night parade to be presented Saturday night under the bright lights of the city's new white way will offer something different in this type of street spectacle and Alex Cloutier, parade chairman, is looking forward enthusiastically to the September event. He and his committee met at his home Thursday night when plans for the under-the-lights march were developed.

Soo Line company and railroad brotherhood officials will be present as guests on the occasion. President G. A. MacNamara of the Soo Line announces that the regular September meeting of the board of directors will be held in Thief River Falls on September 8, a required date for this meeting, and that the company will also be represented here officially on the celebration dates.

Taking advantage of the last labor holiday of the current summer season, an estimated 1,000 Canadians visited in Thief River Falls during the past week-end, according to J. M. Roche, secretary of the Civic and Commerce association.

Streets here were filled with cars bearing the orange and black Manitoba license plates. Local stores reported brisk business from the visitors.

Plea Made for Continuance of Air Service

Thye and Hagen Join in Asking Retention of Service to T. R. Falls

A Minnesota delegation urged the Civil Aeronautics Board Thursday at a hearing in Washington to let North Central Airlines continue service between the Twin Cities and Grand Forks, by way of Thief River Falls.

Senator Edward J. Thye and Rep. Harold C. Hagen joined state officials in asking CAB to maintain service on the northern leg of the carrier's Minnesota North Dakota runs. They appealed for the service on grounds North Central is an important feeder line in an area of increasing economic importance.

Appearing with Thye and Hagen at the hearing were State Aeronautics Commissioner Les Schroeder, Assistant State Attorney General Joseph Bright and State Senator Gordon Rosenmeier of Little Falls, among others.

An earlier certificate for service to Grand Forks—by way of Brainerd, Bemidji and Thief River Falls; and to Fargo—via St. Cloud, Alexandria and Fergus Falls—expired last March 27 and North Central did not seek a renewal.

Shortly afterward, board examiner held a hearing in Minneapolis on whether the service should be kept up or modified "for the public convenience and necessity." The examiner recommended against continuation of both the northern and southern routes.

However, North Central's new management decided later that the northern leg should be continued and joined the state of Minnesota and Metropolitan Airports Commission and the cities affected in the fight for new authorization.

The hope is that the southern leg, which the state and North Central now are willing to have abandoned temporarily, will be restored after the northern route gets established on an economic basis.

Thye stressed the importance of continuing air service to an area with "very important agricultural and marketing" significance and one "critical" to the section's defense against enemy air attack. Because of air defense installations in the area, he said, continuation of North Central service is important nationally as well as state-wide and locally.

They predicted that the potential volume of traffic would increasingly cut the amount of federal government subsidies necessary to maintain operations.
